Man asks thieves to return 'precious memories' of his late wife

By Justin Luschinski and Lindsey Enns

A West St. Paul family is asking for help to retrieve some irreplaceable keepsakes that were recently stolen from their home.

Michael Cottes said a fire safe, which contained photos and videos of his late wife, went missing after finding his home had been broken into on May 24.

Cottes says he doesn't care about all the other stuff he lost, he just wants the contents of that safe returned since it was filled with precious moments his family can't replace.

"I hope when you open that safe, you realize that there was nothing in there of value to you, that it just contained precious memories of my late wife, and what we were as a family," Cottes said, speaking directly to the thieves. "I would love to have them back. I don't care about the other stuff. Just drop it off on my yard, in a garbage bag, no questions asked."

Cottes adopted two daughters from China in 2009. The safe contained his daughter's adoption papers, photos and videos from his trip to China with his wife, and her death certificate. Cottes wife passed away three years ago, in 2016, and the safe contained precious memories of her, that he wants back desperately.

While the burglars took a lot of items, they mostly left his daughter's room alone. They didn't take the piggy banks filled with money, which gives Cottes hope. He thinks the thieves have a soft-spot for kids, and he's hoping that by appealing to their softer side, he can convince them to give the documents back.

Cottes said the incident has been traumatic for his daughters.

"They feel very unsafe in their own home ... They have wonderful friends and teachers here in West St. Paul. We're very fortunate to be surrounded by great people," Cottes said. "That being said, they are kids. Going through something like this is traumatic, it's another loss. They lost their mom three years ago, and we were just starting to make inroads to a new

"This is a setback."

Cottes added he's very thankful for all the support and kind words he's received since the break-in. Word of the break-in has spread around Facebook, and many residents are sending him messages. He said although this is a setback, his family is strong, and they intend to move forward with crimes. "We don't know who these their lives.

"I just want those memories back," he added.

If anyone finds the documents, Cottes said they can drop it off at Bronx Park Community Centre at 720 Henderson Highway in Winnipeg, or at the East St. Paul RCMP Detachment. They can drop the documents off in a bag, no questions asked.

Cst. David Wong of Selkirk RCMP says the types of break and enters that have been occurring in Selkirk and area these past few months aren't like anything they've ever seen before.

"We don't see a lot of confrontations like this so this is definitely new and definitely very concerning for us because it's very unusual," Wong said, adding it's difficult to predict what exactly is fueling these recent people are, once we solve those cases, we would have a better idea of what may be causing or what may be one of the factors playing into this.

"We believe strongly that they're coming from the city to target ... smaller rural communities because they believe it's an easier target."

He urges home and property owners to contact their local police department when they see any suspicious activity and also notify your neigh-

Gwen Fox hosting All Members Art Show and Sale this month

For a second consecutive month, the Gwen Fox Gallery is playing host to an All Members Art Show and Sale until the end of June.

A reception for this month's art show, which features various works by around 40 artists from across the province, will take place on Thursday, June 6 from 6 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. and will feature live music.

Among the artists taking part in this month's show is Ron Sosinkalo of Petersfield. Sosinkalo has been a glass artist for nearly 15 years.

"I went to a stained glass class just to take up a hobby type thing and I got a taste of stained glass and then I stopped the stained glass and went all in with flame working, blowing, casting the whole bit," he said. "It's all heat, some cold working too, shaping glass."

He now works out of a studio and draws inspiration for his pieces throughout his day-today life. "Just images that I see that I keep in my head," he said. "Just thoughts and experiments I call them. Sometimes they don't always come out the way you'd expect."

Sosinkalo says glass art is still very much alive and well in the arts community.

"I think people are always drawn to colourful, shiny things so I think it's an art form that's still got some popularity," he added.

Each member has two pieces on display this month. Sosinkalo recently became a member of the local gallery so this marks his first time taking part in a show.

"I just like people to look at it and comment on it," he said in regards to displaying his work. "People sometimes see something that you don't see."

The Gwen Fox Gallery, located at 250 Manitoba Ave., exhibits art work by Manitoba artists with a new show each month from February to December.

Special Olympics athletes from the Interlake are getting a financial boost on their way to nationals because of a golf fundraiser being put on by Inclusion Selkirk.

Golf for a Cause, a golf tournament, will be held at the Selkirk Golf and Country Club on Thursday, June 20. Proceeds from the tournament will go towards seven Interlake athletes who have qualified for the 2020 Special Olympics nationals.

Kim Jones, Savannah Thomson, Shirley Lavalee, Alysia Roy, Nolan Penner, Steven Walcer and Alec Baldwin qualified for nationals in Winnipeg last February. Each athlete needs $1,500 to compete in Thunder Bay next year.

One ticket for Golf for a Cause costs

$130, and a pack of four costs $500. Golfers looking to play must register before Saturday, June 15.

"We welcome anyone and everyone," said Merilee Mollard, of Inclusion Sel-

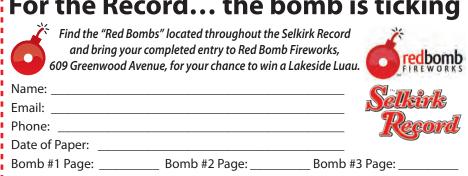

Participants will begin golfing at 1 p.m. on the day of the tournament. They'll be split into groups of four, with each group starting at a different hole.

There will be dinner from the Selkirk Golf and Country Club, and prizes, in the evening.

Inclusion Selkirk is looking for sponsors and volunteers for the tournament. People wishing to participate in Golf for a Cause can contact Mollard by calling 204-803-0873 or via email mmollard@inclusionselkirk.ca.

Fishing For a Cure helps kids spend a day out on the water

By Gabrielle Piché

Thirty-one boats pulled up to the docks in Selkirk Park last Saturday to take children battling cancer on a fish-

The boaters were volunteering with Kids Fishing For a Cure, an event that's given cancer patients a day to fish and just be kids for the past 24 years.

Six-year-old Teagan Dueck said Kids Fishing For a Cure is one of her favourite days of the year. Dueck was one of about 50 kids who took a rod out on the Red River during the event. She spent the day catching bass, drum fish and a wily catfish.

"It jumped out of the boat!" Dueck

Her mother, Angela, said she didn't think she'd see her daughter participate in events like this.

At five months old, Dueck had a rhabdoid tumor in her kidney. She went through surgery and chemotherapy. Doctors later found spots on Dueck's liver and told the family their child had terminal cancer.

After nine months, the doctors determined the spots they'd found were actually damaged liver tissue – not signs of terminal cancer.

Angela said she tries to appreciate the days she has with her daughter, including days like Kids Fishing For a Selkirk Park played host to the 24th annual Kids Fishing For a Cure last Saturday.

Almost all of the event's food was donated. Danny's Whole Hog BBQ and Smokehouse gave enough pulled pork to feed 200 people.

The kids met mascots, firefighters and a magician. There was a silent auction and trophies for kids who caught big fish. The child with the biggest catch would get their name on a trophy alongside the biggest catchers of previous years.

Bobbi Carter is the chairperson and secretary for Kids Fishing For a Cure. She's been volunteering for the event since its first year.

"When you see these little kids, all smiles, and they've got their prizes... It makes you feel so good to know you put on this day for them," Carter said. When the fishing derby began, there were 11 kids and three boats, Carter

"We've had kids that were patients and in treatment that came out, went fishing and had a fun day, and then came back and helped us as a volunteer," she said.

Volunteers will start planning the 25th anniversary of Kids Fishing For a Cure in September.

as well as the towtruck industry and motor carrier enforcement officers, that motorists need to slow down and safely move over to give response crews a safe space to do their jobs, which are often life-saving jobs," Infrastructure Minister Ron Schuler stated in a release last week. "This is a matter of safety, common sense and courtesy, yet we hear of near misses and recklessness far too often."

These signs are regulated as traffic control devices and any traffic authority, such as a municipality, can install them on busy rural roads. The signs will be used on major routes entering Manitoba and departing major centres and lesser routes to obtain reasonable coverage.

"Slow Down, Move Over laws have been in effect in Manitoba for eight years, yet our officers have encountered many close calls due to drivers not abiding by the law," says Staff Sgt. Kyle McFadyen, Manitoba RCMP

Traffic Services. "Having more signage and messaging will ensure more people are aware of the law and its importance."

The Highway Traffic Act requires drivers to slow down and move over when approaching emergency vehicles and government enforcement officers such as motor carrier enforcement and tow trucks when their lights are flashing.

Drivers must slow down to 40 km/h on roads where the speed limit is less than 80 km/h, and slow down to 60 km/h if the speed limit is 80 km/h or more. On multi-lane highways, drivers must also move to the next lane if able to do so safely and pass only if it is safe. The fine for failing to comply with any of the requirements is $298 and two demerits.

St. Clements runner helps raise over $4K for cancer research

By Justin Luschinski

A St. Clements man helped raise thousands of dollars towards cancer research in honour of his late friend during a recent marathon.

Dennis Petaski ran in the Winnipeg Police Services Half Marathon for Cancer Care and was the third highest fundraiser at the event. The run took place on May 5 and brought in more than $170,000 towards the Canadian Cancer Society.

Petaski raised $4,620 before the event began. He was running in memory of his late friend, Dennis Bell, a former Winnipeg police officer. Bell passed away from cancer in April 2018.

Petaski said he was incredibly moved by all of the support he received.

"The night before the marathon, I won third place (in donations). Most of it was from friends of mine, friends of (Dennis Bell), his wife told her friends, and so on. We just ended up with a lot of donations," Petaski said. "I'd like to thank everyone that took the time to donate ... thank (you) for keeping the memory of Dennis Bell alive."

Petaski said Bell was a kind man, who did everything he could to help people. Bell donated a lot of time to various charities, and up until he passed away, he continued to make life better for his friends, family, and the people he trusted.

The WPS Half Marathon was a twoperson relay, and participants would run a five kilometre marathon around Assiniboine Park. The event is in its 15th year, and has donated more than $2 million dollars towards cancer re-

"Wearing that T-shirt gave me the motivation to continue at a good pace. (Bell's wife) was waiting at the finish line, and it was a very emotional moment.

The Selkirk Community Choir filled the Lutheran Church of the Good Shepherd in St. Andrews with music relating to nighttime on May 26.

The choir performed old hits such as "It's a Grand Night for Singing" and lullabies, like the popular "Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star." The group alternated between singing songs in English, German and other languages.

The choir's concert was called "It's

For the first time, the Selkirk Community Youth Choir performed at the annual concert. They sang four songs, including "Hallelujah." As the youth finished their set, the audience stood and applauded loudly.

Singers and audience members had refreshments after the concert.

Beware of jackfish teeth

Welcome gang.

If you caught my column last week you may recall Cris Braga we met on the Gimli pier who told us how as a boy he and other locals on their Azora Portugese Island would use sardines to catch mackerel then use the mackerel to catch huge groupers. This week I met Chris Foamet of Winnipeg on a cold, windy sunny day fishing by the Powerview Dam who related for us how he as a young lad living in Cork City, Ireland, would go with friends mackerel fishing in a bay open to the Atlantic Ocean. Unlike Cris, they would use six hooks on heavy lines with feathers for bait and long fishing poles. They would cast out, and then quickly reel in, causing the mackerel to jump out of the water to strike on the feathered hooks. Great schools of mackerel would gather in a false feeding frenzy; that is until the seals came charging in. Chris and his friends would be working furiously landing as many mackerel as possible until they sighted the white and grey bodies of the seals rolling in the boiling ocean waves. Fishing for the day was over. They would then bring in their lines not wanting to snag the seals as they watched them feed on the thousands of mackerel in the bay.

Patrick Haglund and Terry, who I was about to meet, had found a spot out of the cold wind on one of the piers of the Winnipeg Beach Harbor when I saw them last Saturday afternoon. Patrick's long white mustache and goatee belied our new friends younger more fit body, his agility to stay on a creaky tool box for a seat and his gift for telling how as a kid he uniquely cooked fish in Nova Scotia by the Shubenacadie Grand Lake as he caught them. His dad, Jim, taught him how to hollow out a shallow hole in the ground then put one of the thin flat rocks which lay about everywhere over the hole. He learned to gather dry firewood, make a nice fire in the ground hollow under the flat rock then cook and eat his fresh catch.

"I've got a little fishing story about my dad," Terry, a strong bodied lady with long, straight brown hair and soft melodic voice suddenly broke her silence. She had been listening intensely to Pat' story when her eyes lit up and she turned to me saying, "I was fishing with my dad, Jim, on the Pine Falls pier a few summers ago and when I cast out and the end section of my rod wasn't stuck into the back end good enough." She continued... When she cast out the end section left the reel end and followed her line and baited hook onto the water floating momentarily. Terry stood there on the dock with half a rod in her hand, perplexed, not knowing quite what to do. Instantly her line on the reel end snapped tight as a jackfish head rose above the water tearing away at her baited hook then breaking her line.

Iim who was about to cast out aimed for Terry's rod and the jack. His weighted lure sank. He felt a tightening as he reeled in, then a drag. Jim's cry of joy was mixed with Terry's as he reeled in her snagged rod, line and jackfish!

On my way back home from Powerview I stopped at the "blue bridge" downstream of Selkirk on the Red River. There I met Connie Fisher fishing with her family on the muddy river flats. Connie was a sweet lady, full of joy and fishing stories. Dressed in a heavy hoody as relief from the stiff, icy wind coming off the river she thought back to a time when she was younger spending a weekend at the family cottage in Bissett. The cottage faced the waters of Rice Lake with a grassy embankment between it and their fairly long dock. She was fishing off the dock one fine, warm, sunny afternoon while her brother, Harvey, watched, sitting on the cottage porch.

Connie's rod snapped forward. She squealed in excitement as she reeled in her line in a jerking motion. A two foot long jackfish sprang twisting from the splashing water. The sun's rays sparkled in the thrashing water gleaming off the fishes' grey-white sides. It dove under the water, and then as she pulled up hard it flew up into the air dropping with a thud at her feet. That was when she saw its teeth. Screaming in fear she ran up the dock toward her brother still holding her rod with the fish trailing, bouncing over the planks of the dock. Harvey met her and stooping over, unhooked the fish tossing it back in the water. "Sis," he said laughing, "as soon as I saw you catch that fish I knew I would have to come rescue the poor thing."

St. Andrews residents express anger, concern at wastewater info session

By Justin Luschinski

The St. Andrews wastewater project connecting to Winnipeg had some residents angered and frustrated during a recent public information session.

The RM held a public information session on May 27 at Lockport School so members of council and administration could explain their reasoning behind connecting to Winnipeg. The current council, many of whom campaigned on the promise of connecting the wastewater system to Selkirk, were forced to make a final decision on May 21.

If council explored the Selkirk option, they would risk losing millions of dollars in grant money from the province and federal government.

Some residents say they felt like the province forced them into this situation, others felt that Winnipeg's aging sewer system could not handle St. Andrews' waste.

"Minister Jeff Wharton spoke about the environmental concerns of septic tanks. How long do we have to wait before we see our sewage floating down the river back to us?" One resident asked during the information session.

Bob and Karen Hartle, who live close to the Red River in St. Andrews, don't agree with the minister's comments on the environmental safety of Winnipeg's system.

"I worked at the North Main treatment plant for five years, what you're hearing tonight is nonsense,"Bob said. "They can't keep up with our capacity. You've had several massive spills there, and it's a common occurrence. They're not jeopardizing people's homes (in Winnipeg). When it rains, they open it up, and it goes right into the river. I think it's a joke, I think it's all about money."

As previously reported in the Record, in a letter to St. Andrews council early last month, Wharton stated St. Andrews would receive no provincial funding"for redundant infrastructure to flow wastewater to Selkirk."

"The City of Winnipeg option continues to offer the most cost effective and environmentally sound infrastructure solution," he added.

The public hearing allowed residents to write out questions on a sheet of paper, which were then read off by a moderator. Near the end of the night, the floor was opened, and residents could speak their mind. Multiple residents felt like there was nothing they could do, and walked out in the middle of the hearing.

"HOW LONG DO WE HAVE TO WAIT BEFORE WE SEE OUR SEWAGE FLOATING DOWN THE RIVER BACK TO US?"

Roberta Vyse, who lives in Lockport, said she feels like the new council hasn't done enough.

"The people who won the previous election were against what was happening, and you got the impression they were going to fight for some changes. Tonight, it was 'gee wiz our hands are tied,""Vyse said. "I understand, (council) is in a tough spot. The reality is, as residents, so are we. A lot of seniors can't afford, and don't want to afford the costs for this project.

"They seem very concerned about the grant money, and not so concerned about the cost on residents."

Mayor and council responded to some of the residents questions directly. St. Andrews Mayor Joy Sul particularly questioned the province's logic, regarding how going to Winnipeg was a good choice for the environment. Sul said current council had little choice but to continue the project to Winnipeg.

"Our hands are tied. We were given an ultimatum, without getting a chance to explain it to residents," Sul said during an earlier interview with the Record. "It was gut wrenching. I voted against (the wastewater project) from day one as a councillor. We were all elected to look after the resident's best interests. We weren't allowed that opportunity, the province made that decision for us."

Other residents asked if the mandatory hookup date could be extended from five years after the project is complete to 10 years. Sul said they will have to follow up with the province.

Linda Lorentz, a resident of St. Andrews for 40 years, says she feels like the whole project was forced upon

"I don't even know why we're doing this. We have a working septic field, everything's fine. Now we have this big expense. We have no choice," Lorentz said. "What if you can't afford it? Too bad so sad. Why do you think people are selling their homes? They're trying to get out before they have to pay."

Women's Wellness Day helps bring community together

By Lindsey Enns

Nearly 200 local women were treated to a day of self-care and pampering while learning more about area organizations and resources during Nova House's annual Women's Wellness Day.

Organizers say a total of 240 community and area members, including 185 adults and 55 children, attended last Wednesday's event at Selkirk United Church, making it their largest turnout to date.

The theme of this year's event, which was held during Victims and Survivors of Crime Awareness week, was "the power of collaboration."

"This event really speaks volumes about collaboration and it's also our way of giving back to the community. The community does so much for Nova House throughout the year," said Viktoria Westgate, Nova House's executive director. "It's an opportunity for us to bring everybody in one room, we all collaborate with each other, we talk, we share stories, we share supports and resources."

to name a few. Some of the self-care stations included a loose leaf tea experience by Three 6 Tea, henna tattoos by Henna by Nicole, mini manicures and massages by Andrea Klassen Massage as well as Interlake Wellness.

This year's event was also a chance for Nova House to unveil their new outreach program.

"They will go out into the community, the entire Interlake and Eastman region, so our entire area will be covered, and they will spend the first year setting up what that will look like," Westgate said, adding it's a five year program being funded through the federal government. "It allows us to follow our own clients in the follow up program for a far longer period of time."

Although Nova House has had outreach programs in the past, Westgate said this will stretch well beyond Selkirk

"It's so we can be far reaching, I think that's been lacking," she added. "We will be contacting every single resource in our catchment area, which is pretty big."

Gosia Nova, an outreach coordinator with Nova House, says the goal of the program is to reach as many smaller communities as possible.

"There are resources for all the people who are affected by violence," Nova said. "Every household should know the name 'Nova House.'

"Right now we have a crisis on our hands and the more people we can reach ... the more people can get involved."

Tiory, who asked that her last name remain anonymous, has been a Nova House client for nearly five months. She said it was great to have so many resources under one roof during last week's event.

"There's a lot of good information and a lot of things for kids and it's just very helpful actually,"Tiory said.

Some of the children's activities included a rhyming circle, story as well as craft time.

Tiory added Nova House is slowly helping her become herself again.

"It's helping get my daughter away from negative activity, and it's been a journey, but it's been really great."

Nova House also offers a local crisis line, which can be reached by calling 204-482-1200, or their 24-hour toll free crisis line at 1-877-977-0007.

Local and area gardeners of all skill levels packed Selkirk's Memorial Hall for the Selkirk and District Horticultural Society's 22nd annual plant sale last Friday evening. The plants were all sold out in just over an hour. Funds raised through the plant sale helps the group pay for guest speakers and workshops and helps them maintain the Red Feather Farm and Main Street Garden.

Liquor Mart anti-theft strategy seeing results

Staff

Manitoba Liquor and Lotteries say it's seeing encouraging results from its enhanced strategy to target Liquor Mart theft.

"Since the measures were announced in March, we have seen a 23 per cent reduction in theft and robbery incidents," Liquor and Lotteries President Peter Hak stated in a release last week. "While these are still early results, we are cautiously optimistic they are trending in the right direction."

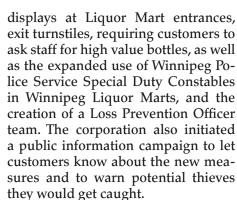

Hak said the increased security efforts have also produced a 20 per cent increase in the number of arrests made and a 55 per cent reduction in shrinkage (cost to Liquor Marts due to bottle theft) within all stores.

"While we are pleased to see improvements in shrinkage, our number one priority is the safety of our employees and our customers," said Hak.

In mid-March, the corporation announced a strategy to target increasing thefts and robberies in Liquor Marts while protecting the safety of employees and customers.

Several tactics were announced including the use of bottle locks and alarm pedestals, dummy bottles, video Hak said not all measures have been implemented to date and the corporation is continuing to assess and evaluate the impact of the deterrents.

"We are encouraged by these early results; however, we will continue to monitor the impact of our measures and fine tune our efforts going forward," said Hak.

Victoria Beach library extends summer hours

The Victoria Beach Branch Library is now open later on Friday evenings and on Saturdays to accommodate an influx of visitors during the summer

The library, located at 3 Ateah Road in Victorica Beach, is now open Friday evenings from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. and Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. until mid-fall.

"These extended hours came about with the influx of the popula-tion with the seasonal residents," spokesperson from the library stated an email to the Record re-"People cently. through the door and circulation doubles from April to October based on statistics gathered."

The RM of Victoria Beach reeve and council were approached with the request for additional hours during these peak months. At their April 16 meeting giving their budget final approval it included the expense of the Victoria Beach Branch being able to be open for an

Sold-out crowd attends family friendly night at The Merch

By Justin Luschinski

The Merch hosted the event, where youth could enjoy pizza and a pop while experiencing some fantastic local artists, headlined by Lockportbased rapper, Chain Link, on May 26.

More than 100 tickets were sold and parents were invited to join and make sure their children had a great time.

The show was organized by Keith Irwin, with The Merch providing the space and the equipment.

Dean Peterson, owner of The Merch, said he felt like Selkirk youth needed more places to express themselves.

"(The family-friendly show) helps them showcase their talents. As far as music is concerned, there's nothing else out there. There aren't very many places where (youth) can play music," Peterson said. "Here (at The Merch), the costs are minimal, it's easier to do it"

Peterson said he had a number of calls from concerned parents, asking what the show was about. He invited them to join their children, and reassured them of how the night was going to play out. He said safety was his primary concern, he also brought on extra staff and security.

The show featured a number of bands and artists, from the Selkirk area and Winnipeg, with Chain Link, real name Brandyn Linklater, ending the night with a bang. It was the first time he has ever performed live.

Linklater, a 16-year-old from Lockport, said he wasn't expecting such a huge response. "I wasn't expecting that many people. I was expecting to sell like 20 tickets, I did not expect to sell 100, it was crazy," Linklater said. "It was nerve wracking at first, but after a few songs, I thought 'you know what? They're here to have a good time, and so am I.'

"The crowd was great. Thank you to everyone who came out."

Linklater started rapping at 14 years old, and he credits his mom with pushing him to explore music. Linklater's mom even bought a door prize for the show, and handled Linkater's merch table.

You can find Linklater's music on Spotify, Apple Music, and other music streaming services, just search for "Chain Link."

National conference helps unite Ukrainian educators

Bv Justin Luschinski

Ukrainian educators from Canada and the United States gathered in Manitoba recently to learn from each

The National Conference for Ukrainian Educators (NCUE) was held from May 23-25 at the Canadian Museum for Human Rights in Winnipeg. The conference aims to discuss the current state of education, and exchange tips and tricks on how to encourage more Ukrainian culture learning in schools.

"Sometimes, we work in a bubble within our own Ukrainian schools, and this has opened up our eyes to the fantastic work going on across Canada," said Happy Thought School principal Nancy Lovenjak, who also helped co-chair the conference. "We get the opportunity to see these amazing lesson plans, and see how other places have brought the culture to their students, and it's wonderful. We already do such great work at Happy Thoughts, and this will just make us hetter"

Manitoba has the highest proportional Ukrainian population, around 15 per cent, and Ukrainian culture is very prevalent in the area.

Lovenjak said residents should be very proud of their Ukrainian culture, and other educators are envious of Manitoba's strong Ukrainian presence. Currently, 12 schools in Manitoba offer Ukrainian language and culture programs, and 142 current and former Ukrainian educators were honoured at the conference.

The conference held workshops on new technologies for teaching, best practices for passing on the culture, how to teach Ukrainian meals, and discussing how to teach students about the Holodomor, a genocide inflicted on the Ukrainian people by the Soviet Russians that was kept hidden by the government until the 1990s-

The conference is also exploring a connections between the struggles of Ukrainian people and Indigenous people, and how the two cultures may share some DNA.

Susan Zuk, NCUE co-chair, said there are a few similarities between the two cultures.

"When you look at it, us being from Ukraine, we've had to live right by a big country, always treated as the little person. I always think of us Ukrainians as fighters, we have to push and fight for what we want, because that's what we believe in. In some ways, that's what's happening (in Canada,)" Zuk said.

Zuk made reference to the Holodomor, which was a man-made famine in 1932 and 1933, and killed millions of Ukrainians. The Soviets gradually cut down on rations and enforced a strict grain production protocol that forced Ukrainians into starvation, and anyone who was suspected of hiding food was quickly killed, or put into forced labour camps. Information about the genocide was suppressed, and it wasn't until the 90's when other countries were able to grasp the full scope of the horror.

Zuk said she originally thought of bead work items as only being an Indigenous thing, but many Ukrainian cultures give away similar items as gifts, and there are some words that are shared by both peoples. After seeing a connection, Ukrainian educators started exploring it, and began creating programs that could uplift both

Vocational programs help ready students for the workforce

By Lindsey Enns

With Grade 12 graduation just weeks away, the Record recently visited the vocational programs offered at the Comp in an effort to highlight some of the choices available to local high school students.

Along with vocational programming, the Comp offers French Immersion as well as a long list of other academic programs.

The Comp, more formally referred to as the Lord Selkirk Regional Comprehensive Secondary School, serves as the only high school in the Lord Selkirk School Division. The school is home to approximately 1,100 students, 70 professional staff and 60 support staff. For more information, visit lssd.ca.

To learn more about the vocational programs available at the school in no particular order, see below.

Drafting

Grade 12 Comp student Matthew Fey says his love for architecture is what drew him to enroll into the drafting program at his high school.

"When I found out that our school actually offers it I thought it was just absolutely amazing," Fey said. "It's opened up a lot of doors for me."

Fey, who will be studying architectural technologies in Alberta next year, says his favourite parts of the program are the design aspects of it as well as learning the tools to build an actual house.

Drafting instructor Laura Budowski says the program highlights a number of areas in a range of different industries.

"Depending on where you want to be, this is definitely a program that's going to outline a bunch of different trades and allow you to have success," Budowski said. "Whether you're going into engineering or architecture, you have the ability to create floor plans from start to finish and create a full set of construction drawings. We can 3D print and create prototypes."

Graphic Design

Graphic design instructor Dan Beaudin says the program is all about practicing conveying messages through visual communication and the use of graphic images, typography as well as layout and design. Along with hand drawing, students also learn how to use Adobe Creative Suite programs.

Grade 12 Comp student Jasia Noel works on a drawing in the graphic design program recently.

"They're actually using the same tools that an actual professional graphic designer firm would use," Beaudin said, adding the assignments progress over the course of a semester.

Grade 12 student Jasia Noel says she decided to take graphic design to help advance her skills.

"I really like to draw and it's kind of where I want to go with my life," Noel said. "I kind of have my heart set on animation and this program will help with that because it teaches things like character design and colour theory."

Print Media

Ron Schalk, who has been teaching print media for nearly 17 years, says the program allows students to learn about production and work on things such as vehicle wraps, banners and signage.

Grade 10 print media students Carter Bryll, pictured left, Aiden Smolinsky, centre, work on their business cards recently.

"We also do design, but we'll take the graphic design projects and then turn them into printable products," Schalk said, adding they currently have around 60 students in their program. "It's not just printing on paper anymore, we're printing on vinyls for signs, we're printing on T-shirts ... the technology has changed the industry

"If you're a creative person, there's a spot in it for you."

Photography

After purchasing her first digital camera, Trinity Grove wanted to take a class at her school that taught her how to properly use it.

Grade 10 photography program student Trinity Grove edits a photo she took recently.

"We've learned a lot about lighting and how to set the settings so you get the right lighting and colour," the Grade 10 photography program student said. "I just like going out and taking pictures."

Photography instructor Don McIntosh said they provide all of the equipment and software students need to succeed in the program.

"It's a good program, it's interesting because you got a lot of choice in what you can do," McIntosh said. "You don't need to buy anything ... and we're fully up to date. We also have a fully renovated studio."

Automotive Technology

Automotive technology instructors Mike Di Ianni and Gary Parsons say the program is designed for students with a strong interest in working in the automotive field.

"The biggest focus is on the employable skills and being able to think themselves through a task, a job or a repair that's been put in front of them," Mike said, adding students work with state of the art equipment.

Grade 11 student Nick Black says his favourite part of the program is learning about vehicles and picking up new skills along the way.

"It's great, and it's a great learning environment," Black said.

Electrical

Students interested in exploring the electrical industry can do so right at the Comp.

Electrical instructor Andrew Goosen said the program involves quite a bit of math, they also learn about the electrical code, how to use tools, install wire and so much more.

Grade 11 student Sam Hordyski says the hands-on learning aspect is what initially attracted her to the program.

"We all enjoy wiring and all of the hands-on stuff," Hordyski said. "It's just really cool to be able to learn this kind of stuff especially since it's a male dominated trade and knowing that you're going to be part of the difference."

Hordyski encourages all students to look into learning more about the trades.

"Don't be scared just do it," she said. "There's some awesome benefits, it's so much fun, just go for it."

Welding

Being able to get his welding tickets at his high school was what attracted Grade 12 student Jesse Kendall to the program.

Welding program 12 student Adam Wiebe works on a project recently.

"It's lots of fun to do it, its challenging, but it's a good time," Kendall said. "It can be tough at times ... but it's very rewarding."

Students learn how to perform the welding and cutting processes used in today's industry, including oxyacetylene, arc, MIG, and TIG welding, oxy-fuel, plasma arc and arc-air cutting. Graduates of the program can enter employment in transportation, construction, agriculture, aerospace, and production welding.

Hairstyling

Grade 11 hairstyling student Isabella Pelletier says one of the best parts of the program is the positive learning environment.

"It's so uplifting when you're having a bad day, I just love coming here," Pelletier said.

Hairstyling instructor Charlene Henrikson says students can leave the

"It's a glorious time to be a chef," Ormiston said. "But you have to love what you do."

Grade 11 student Dayton Massel says he's learned a lot about different techniques and styles in the program.

"Our pasta unit has been really good," Massel said. "Just focus, pay attention in class, and you'll do good."

Autobody

If you've ever wanted to explore all aspects of the collision repair industry, then the autobody program might be the best fit for you.

"It's a very interesting program," Grade 11 autobody student Zoe Hamelin said."I wanted to be able to fix a car on my own."

Autobody instructor Todd Black says the program offers an introduction to the collision repair industry.

"At this point in time, there's probably more cars on the road than there ever were before ... and with more vehicles on the road there's more accidents and collisions," Black said. "With this job, I see no end to the opportunities for employment.

"We try to teach them the skills they need to get into this industry."

Local business earns provincial customer service award

By Justin Luschinski

A local business has received a customer service award, beating out larger companies with international clients.

Mac-Tower Inc. was recently awarded the pinnacle award for Customer Service by the Building Owners and Managers Association (BOMA) Manitoba Chapter. Mac-Tower Inc. will be competing in the 2019 National BOMA Canada awards later this fall.

Owners, Bill and Michele Playford, who currently reside in East Selkirk, started their business from their garage in 2001. Mac-Tower now has office space in Selkirk on Main and Eveline streets and now in West St. Paul.

Bill says the key to their success is communication.

"I'd say we excel at strong communication. We put a lot of time into training our (technicians), we have very good people. We're (also) not afraid of accountability," Bill said. "We take ownership and we take care of our customers. We make sure we have strong communication, not just within the company, but with our customers as well."

The Pinnacle Award for Customer Service recognizes and promotes service excellence in the commercial real estate industry.

Bill said they were shocked to receive the award. Mac-Tower was up against large businesses with international clientele, and the BOMA committee thoroughly vets the candidates. Bill said they had BOMA members come to their office, interview their staff, as well as interview customers who felt satisfied with their work.

AND WE TAKE CARE OF

Mac-Tower works in the commercial light industrial field. Mostly, they service air conditioners, ventilation, and heaters for large buildings such as malls. Their technicians are the people who make sure your office space stays cool, and they sometimes work through the night to get the job done.

Michele says they couldn't have received this award without the hard work of their staff.

"We're kind of the driving force of the company, but we're only as good as the people we work with," Michele said. "We have (staff) who work very hard both inside the office and out in the field. I always say, we have amazing sales staff, and our company wouldn't go anywhere without everyone pitching in."

Royals win Division 2 Tier 2 lacrosse title

By Brian Bowman

The Selkirk Royals' lacrosse team peaked at just the right time this season.

Selkirk capped off a great playoff run with a 5-4 win over the Springfield Sabres in the Division 2 Tier 2 final on Sunday.

The Royals scored the game-winning goal with about six minutes remaining in the game.

"(After that goal) we just held on to the ball, possessed it, and kept it away from them and stopped them from scoring," said Royals' head coach Josh Poponick. "They had a couple of chances but we came up good on defence and stopped them and got the ball back."

Braeden Wyryha and Braydon Budge led Selkirk with two goals apiece.

Jordan Donald scored the Royals' other goal with a mere second left in the third quarter to stake Selkirk out to a one-goal lead.

The season-ending victory was a great way to head into summer.

"It's really good for, especially for the new guys, because it gives them a bit of confidence going into next year after this win," Poponick said.

Selkirk started playoff action with a 6-0 victory over Springfield.

Jeremy Rusk and Budge each scored twice while Aiden Einarson and Carlin Doak also tallied.

The Selkirk Royals are the 2019 Manitoba Field Lacrosse League Division 2 Tier 2 champions.

The Royals then cruised to a dominating 12-1 win over Winnipeg's Vincent Massey Collegiate on Saturday.

"We were all over them the whole game," Poponick said. "Our defence wasn't doing a whole heck of a lot, which isn't the worst thing...but when they did go on offence, we shut them down."

Einerson paced Selkirk with four goals while Wyryha had a hat trick. Budge (two), Rusk, Harold Bruce, Noah Ojala, and Dylin Naherney scored the Royals other goals.

Selkirk's soccer season ends at provincials

By Brian Bowman

The Selkirk Royals season ended with a pair of losses at the MHSAA urban boys' soccer provincials.

Selkirk was defeated 4-3 in overtime by Brandon's Crocus Plains Plainsmen in the third-place game on Saturday.

"It was a crazy two days but fourth in the province isn't too bad," reasoned Royals' head coach Kevin Lopuck. "It was easier to lose that game because we felt that was the best game that we had played all year. It was the most sound, technical game that we had played all year.

"To lose in extra time against a very good Crocus Plains team (was okay) because we knew we played a really strong game. "There are no happy losses but we were satisfied that we gave it our all."

Selkirk forced the overtime after Dennis Slogan scored a penalty-kick goal in the waning seconds of regulation time.

The Portage Collegiate Trojans defeated the Royals 4-1 in a MHSAA provincial semifinal game Saturday morning in Winnipeg.

Portage snapped a 1-1 tie in the sixth inning with three runs. Selkirk starter Liam Allen threw very well in the losing cause. He was later named a provincial all star.

"It was 1-1 going into the top of the sixth so it was a great game and the boys played really well," said Royals' coach Trevor Churchill. "It was just one of those things. It was a good battle against the No. 1 team in the province."

The Royals had base runners throughout the game but just couldn't manage to get a key hit or two.

Selkirk reached the semifinals after upsetting the Major Pratt Trojans 5-3 in a quarter-final game Friday afternoon. The Royals came back from a 3-0 deficit and then trailed 3-2 in the top of the seventh when they scored three huge runs.

"They pitched out their pitcher and they had to bring in their relief guy and we jumped on him right away and put three across the plate," Churchill

Pratt hitters through 6 innings.

Wyatt Whitwell came in and got the final out to end the game.

"Our defence was outstanding that game," Churchill noted. "We picked off players from the bases and caught guys stealing. Our heads were in the game and we played smart baseball. It was probably our best, mistake-free game that we played all year."

Major Pratt finished first in its pool after posting wins over Dauphin (13-2) and Stonewall (16-6).

The Royals started action with an 8-1 loss to the Steinbach Regional Sabres

The Selkirk Royals' Conner Hladun makes the tag on a sliding Sabres' player during MHSAA provincial baseball action last Friday.

Selkirk rebounded nicely from that loss to defeat the Prairie Mountain Predators 9-3. Conner Hladun earned the victory on the mound for Selkirk.

Steinbach finished first in Pool 2 with a 2-0 record. The Sabres also beat Prairie Mountain 12-1.

The Garden City Fighting Gophers won the MHSAA baseball provincial championship after defeating Portage 8-7 on Saturday.

Selkirk, meanwhile, should be proud of the outstanding season they had

Many of their players are eligible to return next season so the future of the program looks very promising.

"We have a super young team," Churchill said. "The majority of our team is in Grade 10 and we have a couple of Grade 11s. And what I hear that is coming in over the next couple of years, we should be competitive for the next little while.

"The coaching staff is super excited with what's coming in and we're definitely looking forward to the future,

Selkirk Judo Club members win Manitoba awards

Submitted

Three members of the Selkirk Judo Club won major awards at the Judo Manitoba Awards Banquet last Friday.

Don Gifford, sensei and founder of the Selkirk Judo Club, was inducted into the Judo Manitoba Hall of Fame as a Builder. Gifford, who has been active in judo for around 60 years, is a third-degree black belt, an NCCP certified coach, and a national level

He started the club in the late 1960s and has trained several elite athletes during his career including Niki Adams (1996 Olympics, silver at 1999 Pan Am Games). Gifford has also been active in running tournaments in Selkirk and has helped with every major competition held in Manitoba over the last few decades (including the 1999 Pan Am Games and 2003 Western Canada Summer Games).

He won the 1999 Lloyd Davies Memorial Award for outstanding volunteer contribution to youth programs in Selkirk and Judo Manitoba's Silvio Sboto Coaching Award in 2005.

"This is a very well-deserved recognition of a lifetime dedicated to building judo in this province," said Brian Jones, one of the Selkirk club's coaches.

Meanwhile, James Colp was awarded the Outstanding Referee Award for 2018-19. He began refereeing in 2013 and has risen through the ranks to achieve his National A referee certification in October, 2018.

Colp refereed at 11 tournaments this year including local Manitoba competitions and a number of national circuit events. He is a member of the Judo Manitoba referee committee. In May, 2019, he refereed at his first national championship.

Damien Ekosky was Judo Manitoba's Male Athlete of the Year for the second year in a row. He was a silver medalist at the 2019 national championship. Ekosky also won a number of medals at national circuit events this season including silver (U21) and bronze (senior) in Edmonton and gold (U21) in Vancouver.

He has worked hard to achieve these results, training a number of times each week and attending training camps this season in Edmonton, Montreal and Canmore.

"James and Damien have worked hard to achieve their goals this season and it is great to see them recognized with these awards," said Jones.

Matthew Brooks scored the Royals' other two goals.

The Royals were relegated to the third-place game after getting beaten 4-1 by Winnipeg's Vincent Massey Trojans in a semifinal matchup.

"It was the second game in a few hours and I think fatigue (was a factor). There were a few mental errors that led to some bad goals," Lopuck Selkirk's lone goal was scored by Brooks, according to Lopuck.

Selkirk reached the semifinals after an ultra-thrilling 1-0 win over the Jeanne Sauve Olympiens in a quarterfinal match last Friday.

Slogan scored the game-winning goal in dramatic fashion, converting a penalty kick on the game's final play.

"It was nuts," Lopuck said. "To do that twice in the three games that we played, one to win and one to tie, they were the heartbreak kids here. It just shows our boys work hard right to the end and they're trying hard.

"In soccer, you have to get that ball in the box and who knows what will happen."

The Glenlawn Collegiate Lions won the MHSAA provincial soccer championship with a 2-0 win over Vincent Massey on Saturday.

On an individual note, Slogan and Brooks were both deservedly named provincial all stars.

"Dennis just has that killer instinct," Lopuck said. "Dennis having the ball on his foot with a penalty kick to win the game and to tie the game (Saturday), it's almost a no doubter. He brings that killer instinct when he gets that ball in the box. We were very impressed with him, obviously, and with Matt Brooks you never really think he has tremendous soccer skill but he has so much speed and he's really learning as a Grade 11er how to handle the ball.

"You can tell he's learned to finesse things more...and it has paid dividends for us."

FC Northwest getting their kicks in U14 girls' soccer

By Brian Bowman

The FC Northwest U14 girls' soccer team has continued their success from a season ago.

After posting a perfect 16-0 regularseason record in the U13U age category a year ago, FC Northwest was 3-1 heading into last Thursday's Premier League game against last-place WPFC.

"The girls are doing well," said FC Northwest head coach Gerry Marques, who lives in St. Andrews. "We had a really good season last season but it didn't finish how we wanted it to. We were 16-0 in the regular season and slipped up in the playoffs a little bit.

"It showed the girls that if we're going to get better competition, we're going to have to go elsewhere and we went to Toronto this year."

FC Northwest had outscored their opponents by a whopping 16-4 margin heading into last week's game. Their only blemish was a 2-0 loss to the Thunder Bay Chill.

"Our girls are ahead of last year's pace, which is incredible to hear, from a goal-scoring perspective," Marques noted.

Local players on the team include Leiva Mann (Narol), Renee Oliver (West St. Paul), Dessya Mosienko (Narol), Arielle De La Ronde (West St. Paul), Shaylee Darker (Petersfield) and Adrianna Marques (St. Andrews).

Darker leads the team with six goals in four games while Mosienko has four tallies and De La Ronde three.

"We work hard to try to get the girls to pass well," Gerry Marques said. "We rely on our speedy forwards a bit and our midfielders' job, obviously, is to feed them the ball in such a way that they can attack the goal.

"But it's not just our forwards that are scoring, our midfielders have scored a little bit. For example against Brandon, we had six different goal scorers so everyone is contributing a little bit."

Defensivel, FC Northwest has been very good in allowing just four goals this season.

"We pride ourselves as attacking as a team and try to get an advantage on the field anywhere we can," Gerry Marques said. "It's not unusual for us to push our defensive players, particularly our fullbacks, up the field to make sure we're holding possession. Anywhere on the field, our goals is to have more players on the ball than the opposition does and when we do give the ball away, we fight hard to get it back in a couple of seconds."

The team recently traveled to Toronto for the prestigious Umbro Super Cup where they competed very well in compiling a 1-1-1 record.

FC Northwest had a chance to make the final but only played to a 0-0 draw in their final game, which was a mustwin situation.

"It was great," Gerry Marques said.

"It was another level of competition. We didn't know what to expect when we went out there. We didn't know if we we were going to get hammered or do well. We know Ontario teams are tough, tough teams but we wanted the girls to go out there and have a few good, competitive games.

"Overall, the girls played really well in three hard-fought games against some very top players. It showed that (some) Manitoba teams could compete with some of those teams."

Royals girls' club volleyball program a smash hit

By Brian Bowman

The Selkirk Royals Girls Club Volleyball Program continues to do an outstanding job developing elite players in our area.

Selkirk had seven teams in its club this year with athletes ranging from Grades 5 to 9.

As well, for the first time ever, the club ran a junior Royals' program for 28 athletes in Grades 5 and 6.

"It was a huge success," said Kyla Michalski, a co-director of the program along with Jamie Yuzdepski. "It exposes them a little bit to volleyball while trying to get the kids learning the skills just so we can keep them on par with what's happening in (Winnipeg).

"This will give us a leg up in future

Michalis is pleased with the number of athletes that are part of their program. She sees the program continually growing and getting more popu-

"Every year it's been growing with kids coming out for tryouts and making the coaches make very difficult decisions, so that's been very exciting" she said. "We're not seeing it slowing down or dwindling and that's good for the volleyball team here in Many of the coaches are alumni that have come through the Royals' high school program and want to give back to the young athletes.

"Without the coaches, we wouldn't be able to run this program," Michalski said. "Having seven teams, we really had to call a lot of people this year and we had some very recent (graduates) that agreed to come out and help with this. We had them step into head coaching roles for some of the younger teams and we have people that have their own careers, their own families, and have different commit-

Linklater makes Manitoba's U18 provincial football team

By Brian Bowman

For any athlete, awaiting the news that they have made a team is tough.

It's even tougher when that news comes from a provincial team.

But St. Andrews' Brandyn Linklater received the news he was eagerly awaiting for recently when he was informed that he made Manitoba's U18 provincial football team of 53 players.

"I'm very excited and very excited to travel," said Linklater last week. "I got the call that I made the 53."

Linklater made the team despite being just 16 years old. He was a previously a member of Manitoba's U16 team and admits it's a big jump to

"I'm pleased (I got the call) and I'm surprised, too, because there are a lot of d-linemen out there that are pretty Linklater has played the linebacker position with the Interlake Thunder but has been switched to defensive end with Team Manitoba. That's not the easiest position change, but the 6-foot-3, 205-pound Linklater has not had trouble with it at all.

"I find that playing on the defensive end is easier because you have just one job," said Linklater, a Peguis First Nations band member. "If it's a run play, you post them up and if it's a pass play, you just rush the quarterback. If i'm a linebacker, we have way more responsibilities to worry about."

He said he was moved to the defensive end position because he was "too big for linebacker."

He's going to get even bigger as he continues to train in the weight room, in hopes, of being one of the 40 Manitoba players that will make the trip to Kingston, Ont. for a week-long tournament in early July.

Team Manitoba kept six defensive ends after Phase 2 cuts were made. Linklater is seeing a lot of new faces as he makes the jump to the higher age bracket

"I feel like I'm fitting in well," said LInklater, a Grade 11 student at the Comp. "There are some ups and there are some downs so I'm just trying to keep the ups going and forget about the downs."

Linklater had a great performance at a recent Black and Gold game, putting up some nice numbers.

He recorded a sack, five tackles (one for a loss), two quarterback pressures, and also delivered a huge block on a pick six that one of his team's defensive backs hauled in.

"I feel like I did really well in the Black and Gold game," he said.

If Linklater keeps on having games like that, he should have an opportunity to play either university or junior football in a few years.

Thunder head coach Mitch Obach feels Linklater has the tools to be a great football player.

"He's a tremendous athlete, for one, he's a big, tall kid," said Obach. "Last year, we played him at outside linebacker a lot and at safety and he can play defensive end. He's one of those guys that, because of his athleticism, he can pretty much play anywhere. He has great reactions - he's quick to the ball - he's a real solid football

Obach feels Linklater has a great future in the sport.

"If he wants it, he can play junior or collegiate ball if he puts the time in and stays healthy and keeps getting bigger and stronger," he said. "He's got tremendous upside so If he wants to make that commitment, then he can definitely make it to the next ments and here they are giving their time two, three, four nights a week to run this program for the community."

A highlight for the Royals this past season was the success of their U15

The Royals U15 team had a very good season, finishing fifth in the province out of 27 teams. They entered the provincials ranked 15th so it was a great accomplishment for the squad.

"It was a pleasant surprise," said Royals' head coach Madison Brook. "Everything came together and it came down to communication and having really good energy on the court. Everything finally glued together for them and they had really good success."

The Royals also entered Division 2 at the nationals in Edmonton where they lost in the Tier 1 quarter-finals to a team from Quebec last month.

This team improved tremendously over the course of the season.

"Half of our team had never been to nationals so it was a new experience and a big learning curve for a lot of them," Brook noted. "Just in terms of the atmosphere and the reffing and all of that sort of stuff. The girls really enjoyed playing against teams from all across Canada."

The Royals, meanwhile will be hosting a Royals Volleyball Academy from Aug. 19-23.

Off the court, the club recently handed out some awards to athletes. The Selkirk Royals Club Volleyball award recipients for 2019 were 13u Black MVP: Keltie Leeson, Royal Award -Jaedyn McLean; 13u Blue MVP: Hannah Niemi, Royal Award: Alora Kruk; 14u Grey MVP: Ashley Bond, Royal Award: Haylee Mousseau; 14u White MVP: Anne Green, Royal Award: Hayden Crowell; 15u MVP: Alexis Vermeulen, Royal Award: Lenae Pee-

ANNOUNCEMENT

CARD OF THANKS

Dina Schoen, Selkirk - The family of the late Dina Schoen wish to thank everyone for the love, kindness and support shown to us in the loss of our beloved mother and grandmother. Mom cherished her many friendships and we would like to share our heartfelt gratitude for the way you enriched her life. We would like to acknowledge the time and effort of the volunteers from the Evangelical Lutheran Church, Our Daily Bread Soup Kitchen and all the others who worked together to provide the excellent lunch. It was marvelous! Family and friends alike appreciated Pastor Courtenay's comforting words. We would also like to thank Victoria's Flowers for their truly beautiful arrangements and Gilbart Funeral Home for their professional services. Dina would have loved it all, as she loved you all.

OBITUARY

Marie Jane Bregman

Peacefully on June 2, 2019 at the Selkirk Regional Hospital, Marie Jane Bregman, aged 72 years, of Winnipeg Beach, MB left us after a brave fight with cancer.

Marie was born in Pine Falls on September 19, 1946, and was lovingly raised by Steven and Rose Woychyshyn of Rembrant, MB. Marie moved to Winnipeg in 1968 where she raised her three Marie moved her family back to the Interlake, and in 1993 married John Bregman. They created a home in Winnipeg Beach where she leaves many good friends with loving memories. Marie was kind to a fault, forgiving, and was loved by everyone who knew her.

Marie leaves to mourn her passing her husband John; children Nicholas, Christina (Ralph Mueller) and Morgan Romanchuk; step daughters Pamela (Bill) Reid, Jenny (Jeff) Heywood; step son Danny Bregman (Sheila Kirouac); sister-in-law Leona Woychyshyn; sister Jean (John) Brockie and numerous grandchildren, nieces and nephews.

Marie was predeceased by her twins Adam and Michelle; foster parents Steven and Rose; brothers Mike, Joe; and sister-in-law Diane Woychysyn.

Family would like to thank the wonderful staff at the Selkirk Regional Hospital for their care of Marie during her final days, especially Drs. Alexander and Lindenschmidt who were always caring, kind and showed true compassion throughout our time there.

All family and friends are invited to attend a Celebration of Life at the Winnipeg Beach Legion on Sunday, June 9 at 1:30 p.m. A light lunch will be served.

In lieu of flowers the family respectfully asks that donations be made to the Ladies Auxiliary of the Winnipeg Beach Legion.
