Interlake music lovers brave heat to enjoy Folk Fest

By Justin Luschinski

Sizzling temperatures didn't stop more than 70,000 music lovers from soaking up everything that Winnipeg Folk Festival has to offer last week.

The 45th annual festival, which took place July 5 to 8, saw a record-breaking total number of 73,000 attendees, which was up 1,000 when compared to last year, to become the best attended four-day festival in its history, according to organizers.

This year marked Lockport resident Sara Crupi's first Folk Fest but she said it definitely won't be her last.

"It's so cool. It's a different environment than a show in Winnipeg, I love it. It's so cool to be out here, meeting people, and getting to experience Folk Fest," Crupi said during the festival last Sunday. "I didn't know what to expect, I came here with a lot of big ideas on how it would go, but overall it's exceeded my expectations for sure."

Petersfield resident Nita Jackson said the last time she attended Folk Fest was four years ago but she was pleasantly surprised by some of the changes.

"A lot has changed since then. There's way more food vendors, there's the water towers, there's like pop up vendors there, it's a lot more organized," Jackson said. "I remember when you had to plan your whole day, make sure to pack enough water and stuff, but it's a lot easier to manage now."

Tom Winnichi, a long time Folk Fest attendee from Selkirk, said he's always enjoyed the event.

"It's always a great time, we have a lot of fun, but it's also a massive show," he said. "You don't get to connect with a band in the same way you do at The Merch."

Besides the heat outside, it was also a hot weekend on the festival's main stage as Elle King and John Butler Trio kicked things off with high energy last Thursday, indie-rockers Courtney Barnett and The Strumbellas commanded the stage last Friday, Folk Fest favourites Baha-

New to the festival this year was a 50/50 raffle with all proceeds going towards ongoing site improvements.

Rockin' on The Red returning to Half Moon July 13-14

By Lindsey Enns

To help mark its 80th anniversary, Half Moon Drive In will once again play host to a free two-day celebration filled with music, food, fireworks and family activities this weekend.

The sixth annual Rockin' on The Red festival, in support of the Children's Rehabilitation Foundation, will return to Lockport this Friday, July 13 and Saturday, July 14.

Wayne McIntosh, owner of Half Moon Drive In, said he started the event in honour of the restaurant's 75th anniversary but decided to keep it going due to its success.

"In doing so I thought it would be really cool to pull in a local, Manitoban charity," McIntosh said. "I decided it would be really cool to work with (the Children's Rehabilitation Foundation) because that's a Manitoba foundation and I know whatever money raised will be given to a child within the region, which is what we've been focusing on."

McIntosh said during the two-day event, funds raised through 50/50 ticket sales go towards purchasing a mobility bicycle for a family chosen by the foundation. He added the bicycle costs around $4,000 and it allows a child with mobility issues to enjoy riding a bike.

McIntosh said the annual event is also his way of giving back to their loyal customers as well as the Lockport area.

"This is more about just giving back to the community, giving back to the region and giving back to all of my customers that have supported us over the years," he said. "I really enjoy putting on this event."

The restaurant reaching 80 years is also a milestone worth celebrating, he added.

"It's a celebration like always," he said, adding they are expecting thousands of visitors to check out the two-day event this weekend.

RECORD FILE AND SUBMITTED PHOTOS

Half Moon Drive In's sixth annual Rockin' on The Red festival, in support of the Children's Rehabilitation Foundation, will return to Lockport this Friday, July 13 and Saturday, July 14.

Last year their attendance was between 5,000 and 7,000 over the course of two days, he said.

"It's absolutely insane," he said with a laugh. "It creates a big buzz in the town for two days."

The two day festival will be filled with free activities including two nights of fireworks, inflatable rides, magicians, face painters as well as a petting zoo.

The Steeltown Ford Main Stage concert series will kick off Friday, July 13 at 6:30 p.m. with the last act hitting the stage at 10:30 p.m. Activities will start up again at 1 p.m. on Saturday, July 14 with entertainment beginning at 6:30 p.m.

There will also be some local youth performing various acts throughout the two-day event.

Local Lions help Selkirk hospital purchase specialized wheelchair

By Justin Luschinski

The Selkirk Regional Health Centre will soon be equipped with a specialized wheelchair that can better support persons living with disabilities as well as provide more comfort to emergency room patients thanks to a generous donation from the Selkirk and District Lions Club.

Members of the local Lions Club donated $3,000 towards a Broda chair, a specialized wheelchair, last Tuesday morning.

Yvonne Oxer, Clinical Team Manager for the hospital's emergency department, says this chair will go a long way to helping their patients.

"With the aging population we are seeing an increasing number of elderly patients being held in the emergency room for extended periods of time. Having our own Broda chair means we can keep it in the ER and it will be readily accessible when we need it; the ER staff are very appreciative of the Selkirk and District Lions Club generous donation," Oxer stated in a release last week.

The Lions Club has been donating to the hospital for several years. They donated around $131,000 to help the hospital purchase an MRI. According to a statement provided by the hospital, the chair was a high-priority item for the hospital, so when the Lions Club offered to donate money, the hospital suggested they put money towards that.

Pamela McCallum, executive director of the Interlake-Eastern Health Foundation, says donations towards new emergency equipment benefits the entire community.

"Every facility has a highest priority list. When donors ask what is needed at a particular facility, we are quickly able to match them with a greatest need. In turn, they are able to see their donation used quickly ... which makes them feel they've made a difference," McCallum said.

According to the product website, the new Broda chair is a "unique ergonomic chair which will provide exceptional comfort for emergency room patients, specifically allowing patients with disabilities to adjust pressure, support and airflow while receiving treatment."

The Selkirk and District Lions Club meets every first and third Monday of the month at 7 p.m. at 320 Christie Ave. in Selkirk.

Naturally formed channel connects Red River, Lake Winnipeg

Yacht club hopes to welcome more boaters thanks to safe access route

By Lindsey Enns

Boaters can now safely travel between the Red River and Lake Winnipeg thanks to a naturally formed channel to the east.

Guy Beriault, the commodore of the Royal Manitoba Yacht Club located in West St. Paul, says the natural channel was identified and then later marked by the Canadian Coast Guard last fall.

"They've put in a whole new marker system, marker buoys current to the new regulations they have," Beriault said while sitting inside the yacht club last Thursday. "It's just great that we have this now."

He added the channel is currently around six feet deep, which can accommodate most boats. The previous channel, which is near the new channel, was only around two to three feet deep and it was just a matter of years before it would be impassable.

"Now with this channel being that deep it's not going to drop ... it will always be accessible," he said. "We always thought it was all rocks along this side. We never would have taken a chance to go through there. Now that it's marked and everything else it's perfect."

The new channel is also welcome news to the growing local yacht club. "We get quite a bit of traffic down from Gimli and Winnipeg Beach, we get boaters that come and spend some time with us and we travel up onto the lakes as much as we can," he said. "Before a lot of people wouldn't do it because it was too risky. But now with this open it opens up for pretty well anybody to navigate the waters and get up there."

Beriault said they've heard from a couple of boaters who have used the channel and so far the feedback has been positive.

"They say it's well marked and it's accessible and the risk is gone," he said, adding they are working on getting the word out that this channel exists. "We've let everybody know here that this is accessible."

Beriault said they hope this channel will allow more visitors to stop at the yacht club as well as continue to help grow their business.

The Royal Manitoba Yacht Club, located at 90 Kenabeek St. in West St. Paul, was established in 1955 by Mr. Gilbert Eaton and a circle of inspired boaters. In 1981, Queen Elizabeth designated the Club "Royal." Such designations are permitted to only one club per town, city, or province, according to the club's website.

Beriault, who has been with the club for 10 years, says its gone through many changes and upgrades throughout the years. The once private members club has been open to the public for around seven years.

The club currently has 45 members who dock their boats on the river, a number of others who store their boats on the property as well as clubhouse members.

"We're striving to let the public know that we're here, it's sort of a hidden gem," Beriault said. "Our clientele is growing because people are becoming more aware."

He added they also have a restaurant, bar and patio as well as a banquet facility that holds up to 70 people for special events and meetings on their park like setting.

Those interested in more information about the yacht club can visit royalmanitobayachtclub.com/home.html or call 204-334-0530.

RM of St. Andrews spending $10K to hire communications company

By Justin Luschinski

The RM of St. Andrews is spending $10,000 to hire a communications company in an effort to better communicate with their residents.

The RM recently hired The Creative Bullpen, a strategic marketing and communications consulting company run by Duncan Morrison, to handle communications for the RM from June 26 till Oct. 1, 2018. Morrison will handle communications for the RM regarding the south St. Andrews wastewater project as well as other initiatives such as a new meter reader program.

St. Andrews CAO Andrew Weremy says they've hired Creative Bullpen to better communicate with their residents.

"We've heard the criticisms from the public that we aren't communicating effectively, and we've hired (The Creative Bullpen) to help with that ... Communications takes a concentrated amount of time and focus, it's not something that just anyone can do," Weremy said. "(Morrison) knows how to communicate ideas to a diverse group of readers."

Weremy says the RM currently doesn't have a designated staff position that directly handles public relations or communications. He added hiring Creative Bullpen was a way to fill that need at a lower cost.

Creative Bullpen will focus on communicating the RM's new meter reader initiative, offering suggestions on how to communicate the process to the public as well as to businesses and government entities.

But not all residents are in favour of the short-term hire.

St. Andrews resident Andrew Dolenuk says he questions why the RM decided to hire Morrison with a municipal election looming.

"The (wastewater project) is almost finished, it was started two years ago, why are they hiring him now? What else are they going to announce from now till October?" Dolenuk said.

Dolenuk says he believes the RM hasn't properly communicated information surrounding the wastewater project with residents. Dolenuk cites the lack of transparency around the cost of the wastewater project, as well as the RM being criticized for not properly looking into the Selkirk option, as examples of the RM trying to "shove this down our throats." The project has also faced criticism from several other residents, including St. Andrews Coun. Joy Sul, who wrote an objection to council accepting the 2018 financial plan.

Dolenuk says he will be requesting a breakdown of costs associated with the hire of The Creative Bullpen from council at a later date.

Creative Bullpen specializes in communications for agriculture, industry and conservation, according to its website.

This will be the third time Morrison has worked with the RM of St. Andrews. He has also previously worked with the RM of West St. Paul.

CAA shares tips on how to beat the heat this summer

Submitted

Hot weather means the beach is calling and CAA Manitoba expects many drivers will hit the highway to Bird's Hill, Gimli and other popular sandy destinations this weekend. To beat the heat and avoid a breakdown, drivers should make sure their vehicle battery is in top condition.

"Many people don't realize that heat can take a bigger toll on your car battery than the chill of winter," says Erika Miller, public and media relations specialist for CAA Manitoba. "This summer, don't get stuck in the driveway or stranded on the highway when you should be out enjoying fun in the sun – get your battery tested, and replaced if needed."

When a battery is three to five years old, it may hold less of a charge – so it's time to have it tested. CAA Manitoba offers free on-the-spot battery testing, delivery and installation in Winnipeg and Brandon for members.

Five simple road trip tips

1. Check your tire pressure: Underinflated tires can affect braking and handling, and make you more susceptible to a blowout. Top your tires up to the vehicle manufacturer-recommended tire pressure listed in your door jamb to drive more safely and increase your gas mileage.

"MANY PEOPLE DON'T REALIZE THAT HEAT CAN TAKE A BIGGER TOLL ON YOUR CAR BATTERY THAN THE CHILL OF WINTER."

2. Get a sense of driving conditions: check live road camera feeds from around the province at CAAManitoba.com/roadcams to find out if construction or collisions might impact your travel time.

3. Don't leave your keys in the ignition. Idling your vehicle to keep the cabin cool is bad for your fuel consumption and the environment, and puts you at risk of a lockout or auto theft.

4. Ensure the emergency roadside kit in your car is customized and stocked with enough food and water, clothing, and first-aid items for the number of passengers travelling with you.

5. Pack an entertainment kit for little passengers: a backpack filled with soft toys, books and games can keep kids occupied and reduce the amount of times they ask "Are we there yet?"

CAA members can request roadside assistance at caamanitoba.com, with the CAA app, or by calling 1-800-222-4357.

Thanks for the minnow bait tips

Hi folks.

I am sure we can all remember a time when we were swept away by the excited joy of a young boy experiencing the success of something close to his heart. Such a lad's heartwarming story came to me through his dad, Dan McDermid and my editor Lana Meier. This wonderful eight year old caught his first fish and all he could think about was to be in the paper with it! Well, Liam McDermid, here is your wish come true! You're in the paper now and your biggest fans, your dad, myself, along with all our fishing community applaud you on your wonderful catch. Shall we tell everyone how you caught that fish Liam? Why not, let's do that! It seems you and dad went to Narcisse from home in Stonewall to see the snake dens and later stopped at Norris Lake for a picnic. You decided to do a little fishing off the dock and after a few casts thought your line got snagged. You worked your line every which way trying to free it and finally decided to give your rod a good tug. Then, wow, surprise, up from the water popped your jackfish high into the air! You reeled in as fast as you could. You didn't want it to get away! You shouted to dad and everyone else close by, "Look, I caught a fish!" Dad couldn't believe you had caught one so soon! He rushed over to you and helped you hold the fish while your picture was taken. Thank you so much for sending us your picture and story (with dad's help) Liam, we so enjoyed it.

Last week I got myself over to the Winnipeg River where anglers go to catch minnows for themselves. The waters were churning causing the minnows to group in whirlpools where they could be netted. There I saw a very tall, thin fellow with light brown hair under an old cap. His face was weathered with a weeks, almost blond, stubble growth. I walked up beside him as he bent over, his arms raised high working a rope attached to his net bringing up maybe two handfuls of minnows. He immediately dropped them into a tub with salt in it. He stirred the minnows into the salt then put them into a large cooler full of ice. "As soon as I get home, they go into the freezer," he stated. He raised himself up then, relaxed and smiling. "Hi, I'm Arnie Weidl, I write the fishing column in Selkirk Record, the Express and the Stonewall Tribune," I said to strike up a conversation. "Yes," our towering friend replied, "I'm Lance Irwin from East Selkirk, I like your stories." "Well, thank you," I replied. I asked him why he went to all the trouble to catch his own minnows since it would be cheaper to buy them. "I want minnow bait that holds up when I cast out, so I make my own. You get them from the water then salt and freeze them right away!" he declared emphatically. He went on, "If you go to buy minnows and they look brownish instead of silver with a blue tinge, they weren't frozen fast enough or kept cold enough." We chatted some more about good minnow bait and as I left him, I shook his hand, perhaps for all of us. When a man gives you good tips about any aspect of fishing; you thank him!

Closer to the end of last week I went visiting anglers along the Red. Again, the heat was burdensome but I had the good fortune to come across a father and daughter who were true outdoors people. Dad was a big, husky guy with massive arms and legs, light brown hair and a full, kind face. His daughter, though tiny had an agile strength of body and demeanor. Her high forehead, round cheeks, defined nose and ready wide smile was framed by her long fine brown hair. "Can I get your names?" I asked. "Yeah, I'm Shayne Smellie and that's dad, Jake. We're from Selkirk," she said in a high, feminine, yet forceful voice. As we began getting to know each other it became evident that Shayne was a gifted angler. She told of a time when she and dad went up to Paint Lake south of Thompson and as so many other times they went fishing, she was the only one that caught anything. Then nosey me asked Shayne, "If you have a boyfriend, is he an outdoors person?" "No," she said, "He's a city boy but I'm turning him into a country boy little by little!" We talked of finding deeper, colder water for early morning fishing then as I left them I thought of the fishflies that were starting to show up. The fish gorge on them but that only lasts for a few days then I'm sure fishing will get better.

Hang in there gang, bye for now.

Gordon Howard Centre celebrates volunteers in Selkirk Park

By Justin Luschinski

Gordon Howard Centre volunteers spend much of their time putting on fundraisers and events for Selkirk and area residents. But last Wednesday, they got the chance to relax and enjoy some great food in Selkirk Park during a special barbecue.

The gathering was held to congratulate the volunteers for all of their hard work, some of whom have been working at the centre for 20 years, including Lorna Mohlgren.

Mohlgren said the centre can help deal with the loneliness that often comes with old age.

"When you're alone, you're probably going to stay at home and do nothing. The loneliness is tough, you need to find something useful to do," Mohlgren said. "I lost my husband 22 years ago, and I needed something to do ... I've made some amazing friends since then."

Mohlgren doesn't have any family in Selkirk, most live far away, either in a different town or even in a different province. She said that one of her fondest memories was when an elderly woman came to the centre because she had been scammed. Mohlgren helped calm the woman down, made sure she was emotionally stable, and helped her contact victim services.

Fran Domitruk, who has been volunteering with the center for nine years, said she's just helped out whenever she can.

"I think I was born to be a volunteer, I've always done it. I've always volunteered with different organizations because I love people, I love doing something for the community, I think it's just a great thing to support," Domitruk said.

The Gordon Howard Centre was created by the Selkirk and District Seniors Club, which was formed in the late 1970s. The club met in the Notre Dame Roman Catholic Church basement every Tuesday, but membership continued to expand, and they outgrew almost every other location they met at. The Gordon Howard Centre was created in 1980, and has since gone through many expansions and alterations over the years.

Bead artist among those taking part in All Members Show

By Lindsey Enns

Nearly 40 artists from across Manitoba have teamed up for another All Members Show at Selkirk's Gwen Fox Gallery this month.

A total of 64 pieces by 39 artists is on display until the end of this month.

Among those with works of art on display is St. Andrews resident Cynthia Boehm.

Boehm, a Cree woman with Scottish ancestry, was born and raised in Norway House where she learned the intricate art form of beading and designing moccasins. She then began making beaded moccasins as gifts for friends and family members and now she sells her designs and is starting to teach workshops in hopes of keeping this art form alive.

"My aunts did it, my grandmothers, it was common," she said. "I was always inspired and always wanted to learn."

"Now I just can't stop. It's addictive." Boehm said this art form is a way of connecting with her culture.

"I'm really proud to do it because it connects me with my ancestors and my culture," she said.

After years of practice, workshops and working alongside elders, Boehm now makes beaded moccasins, gauntlets, mittens, mukluks and recently started creating colourful beaded art.

Boehm currently showcases and sells her designs with Manitobah Mukluks Storyboot Project online, at the Gwen Fox Gallery in Selkirk as well as at The Heard Museum Shop in Phoenix, Arizona.

She also recently won a second place ribbon during the 2018 Interlake Juried Art Show for her Traditional Bridal Moccasins, which are currently on display at the local art gallery during this month's All Members Show.

Boehm says she plans to host a beaded art workshop at the Gordon Howard Centre as well as at the Gwen Fox Gallery sometime this fall.

She added she credits being a member of the local art gallery with connecting her to the community.

"This is a really great place to showcase your work," she said.

An opening reception for this month's All Members Show, which is open to the public, will take place on Thursday, July 12 from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Mandatory testing lifted for cattle and bison producers

By Caitlyn Gowriluk

A requirement that breeding bison and cattle from Manitoba be tested for bovine tuberculosis before being exported to the U.S. was lifted by the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA) on July 1.

The development is welcome news for many farmers in Manitoba, said bison producer Len Epp, who has a farm in the RM of Rockwood.

"It just became a real nightmare for some of those producers," said Epp. "To have this [requirement] gone has been a huge, huge benefit."

Since the testing requirement was lifted, many U.S.-based companies now feel safer importing bison and cattle from Manitoba, said Epp.

"They're way more willing to import animals from us now," said Epp. "It's opened up a lot of options for producers."

While the last case of bovine tuberculosis in Manitoba was in 2008, many producers — especially near the Riding Mountain National Park area, where the disease had been detected in livestock and wildlife — were still required to take biosecurity measures to prevent the spread of the disease, including using livestock guard dogs and barrier fencing to protect feed supplies, said a July 3 news release from Manitoba Beef Producers.

Herds in Manitoba were also subject to surveillance testing (a process that takes several days to complete and can be stressful for the animals, putting them at risk for injury or death), said Epp, whose herds were last tested for the disease close to 10 years ago.

"[The animals] just can't handle the stress level," said Epp. "They'd come through the system, walk out and we'd find them dead. We found three dead in a pen about an hour later when we went to move them. And it was all because of stress."

The testing process can also be dangerous for handlers, said Epp.

"Bison are not overly excited about being handled too many times," said Epp. "It can get pretty dangerous, or just taxing, because you're putting stress on the animals. And especially when you're handling the big bulls, they can get pretty upset pretty fast. And the rodeo can start pretty quick."

While the USDA testing requirement has been lifted, some American states continue to have state-level bovine tuberculosis testing requirements, said the news release.

Great Trail in Victoria Beach helps connect communities

By Justin Luschinski

The Great Trail, a Canada wide multi-use recreational trail, has opened up a new pathway in Victoria Beach.

A ribbon cutting event helped open this new section of the trail last Saturday. This portion of the trail will allow local residents and visitors to explore local landmarks and experience the beauty of the region.

Morgan Isaac, the events co-ordinator for Saffie's General Store in Albert Beach, said this trail it's a big win for the area.

"It's a huge deal for us. It connects our communities together, people can come from across Canada and experience the beautiful landmarks," Isaac said. "It's just a nice community here, it's like a small town, but everyone here is really friendly, and we hope you stop by."

Isaac said the Victoria and Albert beach area is very unique, and visitors will enjoy their time here. She hopes people check out the sand cliffs, as well as the unique biomass of the area, where it changes from beach to forest almost within a few meters.

Isaac said they're also looking to promote a healthy lifestyle.

"We live in such a beautiful area, it's a waste to not get out and enjoy it. There are so many cool paths to check out," Isaac said.

The ribbon cutting event also held miniature passports for purchase, which detailed landmarks in the area, came with a little notepad, and provided a detailed map of the trail.

The Great Trail — also known as the Trans Canada Trail — celebrated its 25th anniversary in 2017 with its 24,000 kilometres of multi-use recreational trail now almost completely connected.

The Great Trail began in 1992 as part of Canada's 125th anniversary celebrations as a project which would better bridge the country together.

The Red River North Trail Association (RRNTA) was formed to develop a section of The Great Trail within Manitoba. They manage a trail which stretches from the north from Winnipeg to Birds Hill Provincial Park, along the Floodway to cross the locks and dam at Lockport and north along River Road to Lower Fort Garry. It continues east through Selkirk to Tyndall and Beausejour before turning north through the Mars Sandhills, Gull Lake, Beaconia, Grand Beach, Lester Beach and up to Traverse Bay. It then heads southeast through Power-view-Pine Falls to the Great Falls Dam before heading south.

Communities in Bloom 2018

Here are some of the judge's recommendations from 2017 in the Landscape Category:

Continue to build on the Yard of the Week Program to encourage more residents to keep their yards neat, litter free and attractively landscaped. Continue to assess the interest in expanding community gardens, raised beds and/or in ground that could be adopted by those wishing to grow some vegetables for their use. The municipality and its community partners may want to consider enhancing gateway/entrance treatments including welcoming signs. Many towns and cities have modest to significant landscaping and floral displays around welcome signs at one or more major entry points into the town or city. This could include public art and/or heritage designs.

If you would like to vote for a Yard of the Week or a Commercial Property of the Week please visit the Customer Service counter at Home Hardware Selkirk and fill out a ballot.

BON hosts 2nd collaborative leadership meeting towards reconciliation

Submitted

Nearly 30 Indigenous and municipal leaders gathered together for the Collaborative Leadership Initiative to continue the historic process of reconciliation in Brokenhead Ojibway Nation recently.

Brought together through a partnership between the Centre for Indigenous Environmental Resources (CIER), Southern Chiefs' Organization (SCO) and the Winnipeg Metropolitan Region (WMR), Chiefs, mayors and reeves from southern and central Manitoba met to continue the process of building relationships and creating the conditions necessary to resolve issues that have been barriers to collaborative action for more than a 150 years.

"We are coming together with open hearts and open minds to learn from one another and to find a common understanding on how we can collaborate to improve the livelihood of our communities and citizens," said Grand Chief Jerry Daniels from the SCO. "It is with the goal and commitment that we develop an approach and plan of action on how we can move forward together."

Building on the outcomes and the need for additional information identified at the successful March 2018 gathering, the elected leaders welcomed Canadian experts to provide detail and lead discussions on various foundational topics from understanding of the Indian Act and the Municipal Act, to the opportunities and limitations of the current tax system.

"Having access to up-to-date and detailed information provided by the experts, allows us a strong foundation to build relationships and partnerships on," said Reeve Frances Smeed, co-chair of the Winnipeg Metropolitan Region, who took part in both gatherings. "This process has put us one step closer to resolving the tough issues that have been barriers to progress in all of our communities."

All leaders who took part in the second meeting of the Collaborative Leadership Initiative in late June believe the time has come to take action and agree that by working together they have the power to move forward in leaps and bounds. They also agree this process and the anticipated positive outcomes could provide a path for other jurisdictions across Canada to follow.

Selkirk FC dominates in MMSL victory

By Brian Bowman

When Selkirk FC's plays a strong possession game, they are very tough to beat.

Galacticos FC found that out the hard way on Monday evening at the Rec Complex.

Selkirk FC was very dominant in an impressive 7-1 victory in Manitoba Major Soccer League Division 2 action.

It was a great offensive outburst by the home side.

"We've been trying to change the way we play," said Selkirk FC head coach Sean Leggett. "We're trying to play a bit more of a possession game. I think it took them a little bit of time to understand the possession game and also possession with intent to advance the ball and score goals."

Selkirk FC totally dominated the first half of the opening half, keeping the ball away from Galacticos FC.

That stellar ball control by Selkirk FC made a huge difference in the game.

"It really wears a team down," Leggett said. "And the other team can't score if you're holding onto the ball. It's whether you're the chaser or being chased. When you have possession of the ball, you make the ball do the work. If you don't have possession of the ball, you're working hard to get it back."

Tanner Markevich led the winners with three goals while Chris Szukiewicz added a pair. Devin Racicot and Jordan Bruenig also tallied.

The win was a big one for Selkirk FC as they improved their record to 3-4-1 on the season. They now have 10 points to occupy sole possession of fifth place in the nine-team division.

"It gets us away from the bottom of the table and now we're middle to upper (in the division standings)," Leggett said. "It puts us within striking distance to those at the top."

Last Friday, Selkirk FC was blanked 2-0 by AC Fiorentina in Winnipeg.

Selkirk FC will have two more games this month. They will host Dunvegan Castle on July 23 (7:30 p.m.) at the Rec Complex.

Selkirk FC will then battle Pescara at Shaughnessy Park in north Winnipeg on July 30 (9:30 p.m.).

Selkirk would love to end the month with a pair of victories.

"We want all points this month," Leggett said. "That's our goal."

Damien Ekosky wins silver at Canada Cup

Damien Ekosky recently won a silver medal at the Canada Cup in Montreal.

Submitted by Brian Jones

Damien, Justin and Sarah Ekosky competed with the Manitoba provincial team at the 2018 Canada Cup tournament in Montreal from June 29 to July 1.

There were over 400 athletes at this event. For the U18 and U21 age divisions, the Canada Cup was an International Judo Federation Pan American Cup tournament, attracting fighters from 20 countries. Damien Ekosky, 19, (black belt) was the top Canadian in U21 under 73 kg, finishing with a 3-1 record.

In the final against Gilberto Cardoso from Mexico, nothing was decided in regular time. After two minutes of overtime, Cardoso came away with a narrow victory. Damien claimed the silver medal in a division of 19 competitors.

Damien also competed in the Senior Men under 73 kg division, finishing in fifth place. He earned two wins and two losses.

Justin Ekosky, 17, (brown belt) competed in the U18 and U21 under 73 kg divisions.

In each division, he came away with a 1-2 record.

Sarah Ekosky, 14, (blue belt) also finished with a 1-2 record in U16 Girls' under 57 kg.

Bandura first-round leader at junior men's golf championship

Staff

Selkirk's Brady Bandura was the first-round leader at the GM Junior Men's Golf Championship at the Breezy Bend Country Club in Headingley.

Bandura, who golfs out of Elmhurst, fired an impressive 1-under 71 on Monday.

That was one stroke better than Pine Ridge's Josh Shuster and Rossmere's Lachlan Allerton.

Elmhurst's Ryan McMillan, Niak-wa's Sylvain Ruest and Breezy Bend's Braxton Kuntz were next after carding 73s.

Selkirk's Wesley Hoydalo was tied for seventh after a 2-over 74 while Petersfield's Easton Donohoe was in a three-way tie for 13th after a five-over 77.

West St. Paul's Adam Ingram was in a six-way tie for 16th after a 79 while West St. Paul's Brent Ingram was in a four-way logjam at 24th after an 81.

Round two was played at Breezy

Bend on Tuesday while the next two rounds are set for Wednesday and Thursday at the St. Charles Country Club in Winnipeg.

Meanwhile, the junior women's golf championship began Tuesday at Breezy Bend.

Selkirk's Mikyla Albert and West St. Paul's Dayna Dubnicoff were part of the 10-player field.

No scores were available prior to Tuesday's press deadline.

21U Women's Invitational Baseball Tournament requesting sponsorship

By Brian Bowman

In a little less than a month, Stonewall will be hosting the 21U Women's Invitational Baseball Tournament.

So, host co-chair of the sponsorship committee for the tournament, Roger Langlais, has been busy trying to round up sponsorship for the elite tournament that will take place Aug. 9-12 at Quarry Park.

Teams competing will include Nova Scotia, Quebec, Ontario, Saskatchewan and Manitoba.

There will be a high-calibre of baseball played throughout the four-day tournament.

"Baseball Canada has been quite happy with the venue at Fines Field, and I think for us in Manitoba, it could be a stepping stone to host more national events," said Langlais while in Montreal last week.

Langlais said Stonewall's town council approved its Grand Slam sponsorship - a $5,000 cash contribution - and the use of the facilities.

Langlais noted Sunova Credit Union is a Home Run sponsor - which is at the $2,500 level.

As of last week, the tournament co-chair was also in talks with other organizations about sponsorship.

"We're talking to a number of businesses right now in the Stonewall, Selkirk, Winnipeg markets," he said. "(Sponsorship) is huge. We're hosting a national-level competition so there are a bunch of requirements and we want to do a good job for Manitoba and Stonewall and the teams and athletes from across Canada."

Tournament games will be played in Stonewall while athletes will be staying at the Canalta Hotel in Selkirk.

This is the second consecutive year that Stonewall has hosted this prestigious tournament.

"It's our second time in the rodeo," Langlais said. "The first time is learning and we felt we did a good job (last year). We had lots of feedback from all of the teams from across Canada, so there are areas that you want to maintain and then there are some areas you want to strengthen."

Tournament organizers are hoping for great turnouts by spectators to watch the games.

"We definitely want to get more fans out to the park and we're definitely trying to market that across Manitoba to other girls who play the sport," Langlais said.

"Right now, we have about 1,500 girls playing in Manitoba so we want to have those younger girls spectate these higher-level girls and women to try to aspire to that higher level."

Any businesses or individuals that would like to help sponsor the tournament can contact Roger Langlais via email at rlanglais@mymts.net or by phone at 204-268-5249.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:
Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

We could just sit awhile.
You are always remembered,
Forever in our hearts.
Many of our conversations include you,
We did not know how hard five years
Would be apart.
-Love Uncle Robert and Aunty Tracy

OBITUARY

Pearl Bakaluk
September 12, 1915 – July 3, 2018
 Peacefully on Tuesday, July 3, 2018 Pearl passed away at Red River Place at the age of 102.
 Pearl was predeceased by her husband Mike; her sons Gerald (De-Leta) and Ray (Jackie); her brothers Bill and George; and sisters Lillian, Kay and Mary. She is survived by her daughter Marlene (Rob) Piasecki and granddaughters Amy and Marli.
 Mom loved the simple things in life, family, friends, music, and cooking. Her garden was her pride and envy of many who would pass by and comment on her vegetables and the red poppies that would grow among them. Your song may have ended, but your melody lingers on.
 Funeral services were held on Friday, July 6, 2018 at 1:30 p.m. in the Gilbert Funeral Chapel in Selkirk, Manitoba.

The family would like to extend their thanks and gratitude to the staff at Red River Place for the care and concern shown to Pearl. Thank you to Rev. Anton Bouw for his inspirational and comforting service. And thank you to family and friends for their kindness and support.
