No easy fix for Hwy 204 lane closure, province says

By Lindsey Enns

Selkirk's mayor says a barricaded lane closure along a busy highway leading into the city is "an accident waiting to happen."

"The only real concern I have is safety," Larry Johannson said regarding the south-bound lane closure along Highway 204 just north of CIL Road, otherwise known as Highway 509. "I was very concerned when there was no signage there.

"I was worried that there was going to be a serious accident."

A portion of the lane along the provincial highway has been closed since June 21. Johannson said the roadway, which winds along the Red River, has taken a beating over the years.

"We've had a lot of damage due to moisture," he said.

In an emailed statement to the Record, the province said the lane closure is due to damage to the shoulder portion of Highway 204, which "is a result of a slide in the riverbank due to the high moisture conditions."

The province added crews are unable to place any material or weight on the shoulder to repair the slide as it could lead to further damage or "losing the entire roadway."

"Engineers are currently assessing the slide to determine the best course of action for a permanent solution which may take some time," the province said.

Larry Halayko, executive director of construction and maintenance with Manitoba Infrastructure and Transportation, said they are looking at widening the lane along the east side to allow for two-way traffic but want to make sure they don't damage the roadway any further.

He added if the slide gets any worse, they could be forced to close the highwav.

Cody Buhay, who lives in St. Andrews and travels that particular highway often said "it's a potential accident or fatality waiting to happen."

"From the south side you can barely see this construction zone," Buhay said, adding he contacted the provincial highways department to voice his concern and they said the barricade could be up until winter. "It's nervewrecking, some people have had to stop and back up because of big trucks going through.

"I've had some close calls."

Johannson said he was relieved when the province put up signage warning drivers of the lane closure. The 80 kilometres an hour speed limit along the roadway has now been reduced to 50 km/h near the lane closure and multiple signs in both directions warn drivers to yield to oncoming traffic.

Johannson said that particular highway is already dangerous due to the sharp turn and lack of lights at night.

He said he urges drivers to always exercise caution along that roadway.

"I'm glad that the signage is up there and I'm glad that the province is considering putting a temporary lane in to keep traffic flowing."

Selkirk blood clinics see spike in donors, but still more needed took place at the Selkirk Rec Complex on July 5. Canadian Blood Services territory manager Steve Services territory manager Steve Raizen said they did not reach their donation goals at the last clinic in Selkirk, but numbers were still high.

A goal was set of collecting 96 donations at the July 5 clinic, and when the clinic was over they had collected 84 donations.

Raizen said 84 donations is not a disappointing number, but they would like every clinic in Canada to reach their goals.

"We run our clinics wanting to reach 100 per cent of our goal each and every time," Raizen said. "But with 84 it was better than we had done with previous clinics, and considering it was just after a long weekend it did very well.

"We were happy with the results, but there is still more work to do to engage local donors."

Raizen said the need to make residents aware of the opportunity to give blood is something Canadian Blood

Services is working on across Canada, and there is still a lot of work to be

"One in two people in Canada are eligible but only one in 60 actually donate," he said. "Which means 50 per cent of the population is eligible but only about four per cent donate."

Giving blood is something Canadians don't often do unless they have been personally affected by the need, Raizen said.

"About one in two people know someone that has needed blood in their lifetime, so with giving blood it appears that if you have not been personally affected it's not something you consider, unless a family member or loved one has needed blood for personal reasons."

He also said nobody should fear giving blood.

"Some may have that fear of a needle but it's really not a painful process."

Blood giving clinics happen the first Tuesday of every month in Selkirk, with the next one happening Aug. 2 at Ecole Selkirk Junior High.

"We recommend donors make an appointment on our website."

Illegal drug production causes fiery explosion in Selkirk

Two men who were badly burned remain in stable condition: RCMP

By Dave Baxter

A six-month-old infant is lucky to be alive after illegal drug production caused a fiery explosion inside a Selkirk home and sent two men to hospital.

"It's frustrating to say the least," RCMP spokesperson Bert Paquet said. "But we don't want to make any assumptions that the parents of this infant knew what was going on at the time."

In a statement released last Tuesday, RCMP said that around 5:50 a.m. on July 3, Selkirk RCMP officers, the Selkirk Fire Department and EMS were dispatched to a house fire in the 700 block of McLean Ave. in Selkirk.

RCMP said their initial investigation determined the fire was "likely caused by illegal drug production."

"To engage in these kinds of activities represents a risk not only to the infant, but for the people who are involved in the cooking or fabrication of drugs with chemicals," Paquet said. "There is always a major risk factor and no one should engage in these activities, especially if there are other people in the residence, or infants or children."

The infant was not injured, but was taken to hospital as a precaution, and Paquet said the infant has since been given a"clean bill of health."

The attempted drug production led to an explosion in a bathroom in the house and resulted in severe burns to two adult males from Selkirk, RCMP

STARS Air Ambulance transported a 19-year-old man to hospital, and a 27-year-old man was transported to hospital by ambulance. Both were badly burned during the explosion.

Last week RCMP said the two men remain in stable condition.

"I believe the two are still under medical care and in hospital but I have no update on their condition," Paquet said last Thursday. "The injuries are not believed to be life-threatening, but both are facing weeks, if not months of recovery."

Three other adults as well as the infant were also in the home at the time of the explosion, but were not injured.

Paquet said he did not know if the people allegedly producing drugs are related to the infant.

"I'm not sure of those dynamics," Paquet said "Our investigation will access any risk to children and if we determine risk we will be in touch with CFS and advise them on the details of our ongoing investigation."

Paquet said three of the residents in the house at the time were "full resi-

Paquet also would not confirm what kinds of drugs were allegedly being produced in the home.

"We have not disclosed at this point the details of the substances involved or the drugs involved," he said. "We are still waiting for lab results to confirm that, and this will likely be announced if and when charges are

Alcohol likely a factor in fatal rollover near Grand Beach

Selkirk RCMP are investigating the cause of a fatal rollover on Highway 59 last Sunday.

On July 10 at approximately 10:30 pm, Selkirk RCMP officers received a report of a single vehicle rollover on Hwy 59, just south of the Grand Beach junction.

The initial investigation revealed that a southbound SUV rolled over after losing control, ejecting the two peg was pronounced deceased at the scene. A 28-year-old female, also from Winnipeg, was transported to hospital and is in stable condition with non life threatening injuries.

The investigation continues with the assistance of a traffic analyst to establish any contributing factors as well as confirming who was the driver of the vehicle at the time of the incident.

Alcohol is being considered as a contributing factor. No other details are available at this time.

Framed memorabilia to honour Canadian solider in Selkirk

The life of a Canadian Soldier who fought in Canada's first foreign war and was honoured by the Queen of England will now be permanently recognized in Selkirk, thanks to a generous donation.

A number of items to recognize the life of Pte. Richard Rowland Thompson have been framed and donated to the Selkirk Army Navy and Airforce Veterans Unit 151 (ANAF), which sits on Clandeboye Avenue in Selkirk.

The framed items will now hang on the Selkirk ANAF Wall of Honour.

Selkirk resident Chad Gaborieau donated the items, which include pictures of Thompson, medals, and newspaper clippings with stories about his life and service.

Pte. Thompson fought in the South African War, which was fought between 1899 and 1902, and was Canada's first foreign war.

He was the only Canadian soldier to be awarded the Queen's Scarf, which was hand-made by Queen Victoria.

ken of her appreciation.

She handmade eight scarves in khaki-coloured Berlin wool, with the initials 'VRI' on one of the knots of wool.

The criteria for receiving a scarf were that the recipients were considered "the best all-round men taking part in the South African campaign."

"The Queen made the scarf with her own two hands, and that's mentioned in the articles," Gaborieau said.

Gaborieau, the owner of Bankappoved.ca, said he got his hands on the items a few years ago, but decided they needed to be displayed somewhere where they would be appreciated.

He had all the items put together in a frame and donated them to Selkirk ANAF in a ceremony last Saturday, and he said he thinks they will be appreciated in their new home.

"It was a full house and everyone was in their gear, and what a reception I received." Gaborieau said. "They were just over the moon about it. There were a lot of people that went out of their way to tell me what an important piece of history that was."

Gaborieau's personal connection to the military is another reason he made the donation.

"My grandfather is a Veteran and my family has been in the military forever, so it's an emotional thing for me.

"And keeping it local was important, so I went there and presented it."

Selkirk ANAF president Charlie Braun said those who were at their building on Saturday didn't know the presentation was coming.

"It was totally unexpected and a great surprise for everyone that was there, and it will now hang permanently on our Wall of Honour," Braun said.

Thompson died at the age of 31, and was buried in Chelsea, Que.

Province reaches agreement to enhance CPP

The province has reached an agreement with the federal government to further modernize the Canada Pension Plan (CPP).

"We are pleased with the federal government's openness to a continued dialogue around the modernization of the CPP," Premier Brian Pallister said in a release last Thursday.

Pallister indicated the results of this research will guide further discussion on the proposals as part of both the next CPP triennial review and are to be included as an agenda item at the next finance ministers' meeting.

On the basis of the assurance provided by the federal government, Manitoba has agreed to sign the agreement in principle on the enhancement of the CPP proposed at the close of the finance ministers' meeting in June.

"Our government proposed additional items for consideration by finance ministers which would make CPP not just bigger, but better as well," Pallister said. "We are very pleased by the support that these proposals have received from other jurisdictions and with the willingness of the federal government to conduct research and analysis to support their continued discussion."

Pallister noted Manitoba's finance minister spent recent days discussing the province's proposed enhancements to the agreement in principle with his counterparts from across the country, receiving many favourable responses, and he indicated those discussions will continue.

"Reaching consensus on the provision of affordable enhancements to CPP may be a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity," said Finance Minister Cameron Friesen. "Several other jurisdictions have indicated their willingness to both discuss and support these measures. Their input on Manitoba's proposals will be an important part of the continued discussion around the modernization of the CPP."

Manitoba proposals to be included on the agenda of the next finance ministers' meeting and as part of the next CPP triennial review include:

- elimination of the claw back of guaranteed income supplement payments for widowed seniors' CPP survivor benefits,
- indexation of the CPP death benefit, and
- comprehensive review of CPP survivor and disability benefits.

Easton Place Medical Centre

Crews to break ground on new medical clinic in 2017

By Lindsey Enns

Selkirk's new health and wellness centre will be home to a medical clinic, health and wellness education centre, retail mall and restaurant plaza as well as a transitional care facility.

Selkirk and area business members were given an update on the status of the Easton Place Medical Centre coming to Selkirk's business park during a special presentation last month.

Barry Mosiondz, vice-president of human resources and administration for Easton Place said they are on track to begin construction of the first phase of the roughly five-year project in spring 2017.

"It will be world-class medical facility in Selkirk which is comprised of four components," Mosiondz said during an earlier interview with the Record.

The five-year project will be rolled out in phases.

The first phase will be the medical clinic, which will be home to an array of doctors including an orthodontist, dentist, chiropractor, physiotherapist, optometrist, audiologist as well as visiting specialists to make it easier for patients to access multiple medical experts in one day.

The second phase will be the health, wellness and education centre, which is being described as "the heart of Easton Place." The non-profit centre will serve as a community hub for physical activity, nutrition, coaching and education.

The third phase will be a retail and commercial mall equipped with a restaurant plaza.

Lastly, the fourth phase will be the transitional care facility, which will serve to help those recovering from surgery or those unable to manage at home alone.

Mosiondz said the transitional care facility is the catalyst behind Dr. Anthony Anozie's initial idea for the project to help ease the pressure off emergency rooms across the Interlake.

"It's trying to create a greater flow of patients through those beds," Mosiondz said. "Combined with that is all of the other components to create that one-stop shop for all of your medical needs."

Mosiondz said they are currently working alongside MMP Architects Inc., which has worked on similar projects in the past.

He added they plan to begin construction in the spring of 2017.

"We are continuing to do fundraising for our non-profit phases, which are phase two and four ... depending on fundraising efforts that will sort of dictate how fast we can move building those other facilities."

Those interested in helping out with fundraising efforts can contact Katharine Cherewyk, CEO and senior fundraising strategist at Creddo Group at 204-421-7790.

Mosiondz said he believes the health facility will bring plenty of economic, social and health benefits to Selkirk and area.

"That really is the selling piece to Selkirk and Interlake," he said. "It's going to bring some great new jobs ... a facility that's going to focus on the health and well being of the residents of Selkirk and surrounding areas and also the cultural benefits, combining some of the Indigenous healing components into it as well."

He added the facility will take a "holistic approach" to healing and wellness.

The facility is being named in honour of Dr. William Easton who in 1935 graduated from medical school and embarked on a lifelong mission to provide ultimate patient care to the Selkirk community.

The City of Selkirk announced in January that plans were in motion for Selkirk's business park to welcome a new health and wellness centre.

The city said on Dec. 21, 2015 they sold the first three lots in Phase 1 of the Selkirk Business Park to local developer Herbsman Inc.

The three lots are located across Easton Drive from the new hospital that is currently under construction, and adjacent to Selkirk Veterinary Services.

The city said Herbsman Inc. has a multi-phase plan to build the Easton Place Medical Centre on 16.49-acres of land.

"When we signed the deal it was really monumental," Selkirk Mayor Larry Johannson said in an earlier interview. "This is a huge project for us."

Neil Winther, a spokesman for Herbsman Inc., said that Selkirk was a logical choice for the health and wellness centre since the city and surrounding areas are home to more than 100,000 people.

"The medical clinic will be a stateof-the-art facility that will attract a variety of medical professionals," Winther said.

Phase 2 of the Easton Place Medical Centre will feature a wellness centre and construction will begin following the opening of Phase 1, according to the city.

Amenities in the wellness centre will be determined through a public consultation process.

Metal hunter helps uncover hidden treasures

A Selkirk man has been spending a lot of his free time digging up history one piece at a time.

Robert Unik says he "fell into" metal detecting about four years ago.

"It started simply enough," Unik said. "My next door neighbour lost her ring in her garden and asked me if I knew anyone with a metal detector.

"So I called up my mom because I knew she had an old metal detector."

Unik found his neighbour's ring and the 54-year-old said, "right then and there I was hooked."

Finding his neighbour's ring gave Unik a feeling that much more could be found if he spent some real time metal detecting.

He eventually bought a high-end medal detector that cost him around $1,000 and his new hobby was born.

"It's about finding history," Unik said. "It's about not knowing what is in someone's yard, or in a park, or what's buried in that field."

In between finding a lot of items such as pull tabs and bottle caps, Unik has even discovered a few historic treasures in the ground, including one that is thousands of years old.

About two years ago Unik discovered a copper spearhead, and he took it to the Manitoba Archeological Society to figure out exactly what it was, and how old it was.

"That is believed to be between 4,000 and 4,500 years old, and I found it in a soccer field behind the Selkirk Rec Centre," Unik said, while holding up the piece in his backyard last week.

The archeological society told Unik they believed the spearhead made it's way to Selkirk as a "trade item."

"I didn't know what it was," Unik said at first."I thought it was a butter

Unik has also had some luck finding old coins this year. Recently he pulled up an American 50-cent coin from 1877, which he said he found in mint condition in a farmer's field in St. An-since starting his new hobby.

Unik said metal detecting requires a similar patience to fishing because there are many hours spent finding nothing, or items of no value.

Unik is also a wood carver and artist so he said he has a "natural patience" for metal detecting.

Metal detecting has also been good for his health as he said he has lost about 60 pounds since starting four years ago, simply because of the amount of walking he does.

Fish tales from Norris Lake

Welcome my friends.

The blue-emerald waters of Norris Lake lay tranquil in the Friday afternoon cool haze as I wandered around the piers and camp sites visiting with vacationers. Paddlers in bright yellow plastic kayaks slipped silently through the water far out in the centre of the lake. Families sat on the piers casting and reeling in with limited success; it didn't bother them because those who come here often know the fish don't start biting until about nine at night. Then the lazy easy-going charm of Norris that had come over me gave way to raucous filled laughter when I met locals Larry Korotash, Jessie Swar and good friend from B.C., Rocky Bernst at their campsite.

Larry is one of those great guys who can catch your attention with his energetic "happy-go-lucky" nature. He sat in a folding chair beside their RV, a fit fellow with distinguished facial features and well kept graying mustache and hair. It was immediately evident that Larry loved to tell stories and dove into the tale of when he and Rocky were young and working at the paper mill in Thunder Bay.

Beside the mill, Mission River was full of smelts so they decided to go netting after work. They had no equipment and didn't know much about fishing but a buddy gave them a net so off they went and found a big flat rock in the river, which they climbed onto.

Off to one side an old Finlander was quietly netting smelts. Larry, full of lively enthusiasm hoisted the net high with its' long pole handle and dropped it into the raging river. All around them thousands of smelts swam together like a big black cloud. He pushed the net under water then quickly pulled it in. Nothing, just a couple of fish! Behind them the guys heard the old Finlander calmly point out, "boys, the smelts are going the other way."

Embarrassed, Larry and Rocky turned and dipped the net against the current. In seconds the net was so bogged down full of smelts it was torn from their grasp. Astonished, they watched as the net, its' pole bobbing high in the air was swept downstream. To make matters worse their buddies had gathered and were teasing them, so to save face they got another net and soon actually captured some smelts. Those friends though, on the sidelines, always up for some fooling around, saw an opportunity. Getting a few smelts, they snuck them into Rockys' lunch box that was strapped to his bicycle he used to go to work with. Three days later in the hot summer sun Rockys' wife went to get his lunch box. When she opened it the smell and sight made her so disgusted she threw it in the garbage with Rockys' car keys still in it! Luckily he had a spare set.

I guess it was in the middle of last week I was in Tim Horton's in Selkirk having coffee. At the table next to me sat a tall lanky chap with forceful facial features, long dark hair and a full mustache. As we got to talking he told me his name was Rick Fraser of Selkirk and that he was a fishing guide. He said he had a neat little trick for handling anglers who were maybe not so nice. He would take them to a spot by Eagle Nest Lake and wait patiently while they fished without success then he would tell them with a knowing look that this spot was known as "no fish bay."The anglers got the message. Then Rick would take them to a spot on Eagle Nest where they would catch their limit.

Early last week I took a ride over to Powerview and spent some time talking to the anglers on the dock. Boy the fishing has been good here lately. Anyway, I met this one fellow who didn't speak much English but he tried so hard to carry on a conversation with me, I couldn't help but like the guy and I want you to meet him so here is, Mario Loufa, of Winnipeg with a pickerel he caught.

Well, I hope all your outings, fishing or otherwise this week are happy ones, bye for now.

Former Teulon resident now member of Canadian Broadcast Hall of Fame

Former Teulon resident J. Robert Wood is now a member of the Canadian Broadcast Industry Hall of Fame.

The radio DJ turned program director spent 17 years at CHUM radio station in Toronto. During these years, the station dominated the Canadian radio landscape.

"He, and maybe the greatest radio staff ever put together, created magic on 1050 CHUM! Bob was imaginative, creative and a great leader," said former CHUM Chairman Jim Waters in a press release.

Before he found his calling as a program director, Wood enjoyed listening to the radio and playing sports in his small town.

"It was a lively, bustling community with wonderful, community-minded people who helped to make it a special place," said Wood of Teulon.

But it was the 60s, and radio deejays were Gods at the time, said Wood. Deejays like Dennis Corrie on CKY in Winnipeg inspired Wood to leave the small town before his Grade twelve

"As much as I loved Teulon, though, I couldn't wait to get out of there to pursue my dream to get into radio," said Wood.

Wood would practise on his tape recorder that he purchased with the loan of a friend, Bob Townsend. He would prepare the Lockport drive-in for the owners, Bill and Walter Kotchorek, who then let him practise playing records over the intercom during intermission. Wood attended a three-month course offered by Ed McCrae, founder of the National Institute of Broadcasting. He then got a boost from the Winnipeg deejay Jim Paulson, who let him use the CKRC studio and gave him tapes to send with job applications.

Wood's sample tapes caught the ear of the program director of CKSA in Lloydminster and he began his career as a radio deejay. Wood moved steadily into larger markets but became bored of the work.

"I was never very good on the air and found on-air work boring," said

After a friend told him about a St. Thomas radio station in need of a program director, Wood tried his hand at it. Wood replaced CHLO's programming with a Top 40 format, and within 90 days, the station was number one in St. Thomas and London.

Soon, a local competitor tried to get Wood out of town, and Wood was ready for a bigger market, so he moved to CHUM in Toronto to serve as programming assistant.

There, Wood helped the station stay the best in Canada for more than 25 pect of the station's programming bers crashing Toronto's telephone exyears. A particularly successful as- was the contests it ran. Wood remem- changes during the popular Five Car

Rodeo sees spike in competitors this year

Organizers gear up to host hundreds this weekend at Triple S Fair and Rodeo

By Lindsey Enns

Organizers are gearing up to welcome more competitors to this year's Triple S Fair and Rodeo.

As of last week, 165 contestants from across Manitoba, Alberta, Saskatchewan and the United States had registered to compete in the rodeo over the course of two days.

Rea Pennington, president of the St. Andrews-St. Clements Agriculture Society, said rodeo participation is up by at least 30 per cent over the past few years.

"It's good for the crowd and good for the cowboys," Pennington said. "The more people competing, the more money they have a chance at winning. "We're getting ready for it."

The annual Triple S Fair and Rodeo, hosted by the St. Andrews-St. Clements Agriculture Society, starts this Friday at 11 a.m., Saturday at 8 a.m. and Sunday at 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. all three days at Selkirk Park.

Pennington said this year marks 52 consecutive years for the rodeo but the fair has been running for more than 130 years.

He added this year's event will be similar to years before and will include children's entertainment, Select Shows midway and rides, a demolition derby on Friday, the parade rodeo and fair on Saturday and more fair and rodeo action will continue on Sunday.

For a full list of events, visit selkirkfairandrodeo.com.

Selkirk Biz is also encouraging local and area businesses to participate in Rodeo Days, which started on Monday and continues until Sunday.

Businesses and employees are encouraged to dress up in their best western and rodeo gear for a shot at some prizes.

Categories for prizes include most unique cowboy boots, tallest cowboy hat, biggest belt buckle, best dressed business and best creative display

100 years young

Selkirk woman to celebrate milestone birthday on July 24

By Lindsey Enns

For Irma Chittick, turning 100 years old won't be the biggest highlight of her life.

But the Selkirk resident says living long enough to watch her four children grow up to be happy and successful adults is one of her biggest accomplishments.

"It's nice to see your kids turning out alright," Chittick said with a smile while visiting with family outside Betel Personal Care Home in Selkirk last Thursday. "They're all happy and satisfied ... I'm satisfied."

Born in Quebec on July 24, 1916, Irma was raised in Ridgedale, Sask.

She later served during the Second World War in the Royal Čanadian Air Force stationed in the Ottawa area nursing wounded soldiers when they returned from overseas.

Irma married her husband Floyd as soon as he returned from serving with the Canadian Army on Nov. 20, 1945.

She said she waited five years to marry him and wasn't going to wait any longer.

Together they had four children, Frank in 1947, Brian in 1950 and twins Marvin and Marlene in 1952.

Irma stayed home with the children until they went off to school and then she later went back to school to upgrade her nursing license. She graduated top of her class, making her four children and husband very proud. She then worked as a nurse in Winnipeg until her early 60s.

Irma and her husband then moved to Matlock to retire.

After her husband died in 1985 she moved to Lions Manor in Selkirk where she would live for a few years before moving to Saskatchewan to help her aging brother and sister.

Irma returned to Selkirk many years later and lived independently at Lions Manor until moving into Betel Home in April.

Brian's wife Sharon Chittick says Irma has always been a pillar of the community and volunteered whenever she could.

Sharon said Irma recently had a hip replacement and doctors said it was highly unlikely she would ever walk again. However, Irma quickly proved them wrong.

"They were ready to order her a wheelchair," Sharon said. "We said 'you don't know our mother. If she wants to walk again, she's going to walk again.'

"Now she's walking again. The nurse's here have said she's their miracle patient."

Sharon added her mother-in-law isn't on any medications besides vitamins and uses a walker to assist her while walking.

When asked what her secret is to a long and healthy life, Irma said simply with a smile to just"enjoy it."

"Don't give up," she said, adding staying active both physically and within your community is important. "Stay busy, keep occupied, you gotta have something to look forward to."

To stay active, Irma said she's been delivering copies of the Record while living in Selkirk over the years.

Sharon said Irma is non-judgemental, very independent and loving.

"Sometimes we overwhelm her with our concern," she said. "She's been an excellent mother-in-law and an excellent mother.

"She always looks for the good in people or the good in situations."

Marvin said some of things he loves about his mother is that she's "caring and nurturing."

Brian added his mother has always been very supportive and "an excellent role model."

Irma will celebrate her 100th birthday on Sunday, July 24 at the Selkirk Legion during a come and go tea for friends and family.

St. Andrews man to share stories about work in Uganda

By Dave Baxter

Kurt Petersen used to get culture shock when he travelled to Uganda, but now he gets that feeling when he returns home to St. Andrews.

"The first time I came back home after being there for 14 months straight it was frustrating to me to see the abundance," the 31-year-old said. "It put me into a frustration mode but now it is far easier to come back because this is just the way it is here, and this is the culture here.

"But it is still challenging because you see the abundance and so many people here are still not satisfied, and then over there people are in such need, but yet they are so joyful and appreciative to even get the smallest things."

Petersen, who grew up on a farm in St. Andrews, works in Uganda with a ministry that aims to better the lives of people living in impoverished conditions in the African country.

Petersen will host a free presentation and event at the Gaynor Family Regional Library on July 22 from 1-3 p.m. that he is calling Uganda Generation Transformation. The event is open to the public.

"It's an update in terms of relating information about what we are doing in Uganda," Petersen said.

The event is called Uganda Generation Transformation because Petersen said he and his ministry are working to change the lives of young people in Uganda.

"It's because we are working with young people and they are the generation that is our main focus. Back in the '80s and '90s quite a large HIV/aids epidemic, wiped out millions of people and left many of these young people growing up parentless," he said. "They have grown up without that guidance, mentorship, education and encouragement and those are the things we are trying to help them with so they can go forward in the world and be sustainable, and make a difference for themselves and for those around them."

Petersen said the event will consist of him giving a presentation about his work in Uganda, showing pictures, and he will set aside time to answer questions.

There will also be Ugandan crafts available for sale as well as refreshments.

Petersen said he works to provide youth with literacy programs and other educational programs.

"We have many that come from the streets or a parentless background where they have not been able to go to school and get an education," he said.

Petersen originally started a program called Pennies for Change back in 2010, where he collected pennies to help buy mosquito nets for residents in Uganda, but he said his work has expanded well beyond from where it started.

"It has come such a long way, and I want to update families, friends, supporters and people in the community," he said.

Petersen plans to head back to Uganda in August to continue his work.

Amphibex deployed to ease drainage issues in Caddy Lake

Staff

An amphibex was deployed to Caddy Lake in the Whiteshell last week to help ease drainage issues in the area.

The province said last week the amphibex would be on the lake for several days removing floating vegetation, such as large bogs, which could block the tunnels that drain the lake.

A rake attachment will collect the floating vegetation and deliver it to shore where it will be hauled away. Other lakes in the area will be assessed for possible clearing.

For safety reasons, the Caddy Lake boat launch will be temporarily closed until the amphibex has completed its work

This amphibex machine is owned, operated and maintained by North Red Waterway Maintenance Inc.

North Red Waterway Maintenance Inc. is a corporation formed by the rural municipalities of St. Andrews, St. Clements and the City of Selkirk, with support from the Manitoba government. The amphibex fleet crushes more than 25 kilometres of river ice annually.

The province has also removed another log that was stopping flow from the control structure between West Hawk and Caddy lakes to accelerate the drop in water levels on West Hawk, which flows into Caddy. Caddy Lake has come down 19 inches from its peak. West Hawk Lake is still basically at its peak, so this will assist in the drawdown of West Hawk and get some water out of the system to make room for any potential additional rain.

The management of flows has to be balanced against the other lakes and streams in the region as many are connected. Caddy Lake drains into the Whiteshell River, which winds its way through many of the other Whiteshell Lakes and eventually drains into Winnipeg River at Nutimik Lake.

The province now has real time water level gauges on West Hawk and Caddy lakes to enable monitoring of the impact of the log removal as well as any additional rainfall.

Communities in Bloom 2016

In 2015, Selkirk received an overall score of 81% resulting in four blooms. Over the next several weeks this section will be devoted to areas which upon the Communities in Bloom judging panel evaluate our city. Our aim is to educate the public that Communities in Bloom is not just about the flowers. The evaluation is based on 8 criteria, divided into the following 6 sections:

- Tidiness Environmental Action Heritage Conservation
- Urban Forestry Landscape Floral Displays

EVALUATION CRITERIA - ENVIRONMENTAL ACTION

The Communities in Bloom focus this week will be on the environmental action initiatives of Selkirk. Environmental action includes the efforts and achievements of the community with respect to: policies, by-laws, programs and best practices, waste reduction and landfill diversion rate, composting sites, landfill sites, hazardous waste collections, water conservation, naturalization, and environmental stewardship activities under the guiding principles of sustainable development pertaining to green spaces. In 2015, the City of Selkirk scored 124.50 out of a possible 150 points for environmental action.

2015 Judges Observations:

It was good to see that the efforts to remove the old Lord Selkirk have come to fruition. The rain water collection at the Water Tower development is well done.

Utilizing river water for watering planters and tree plantings is a good initiative. Revamping the swimming facility in Selkirk Park to utilize less water is also commendable, as potable water is a valuable commodity.

The new library is an outstanding facility for the community. The LEED silver building and the native grassland restoration are great examples for future developments in the community.

The community composting/bring and take facility at the transfer station is a very good initiative.

Selkirk is to be commended for establishing a public transit system; it was good to see bike racks on the busses.

2015 Judges Recommendations:

Consideration could be given to a public awareness campaign for the use of rain water collection at home and its benefits in home garden irrigation. This may reduce the use of potable water which is becoming a costly resource for all of us.

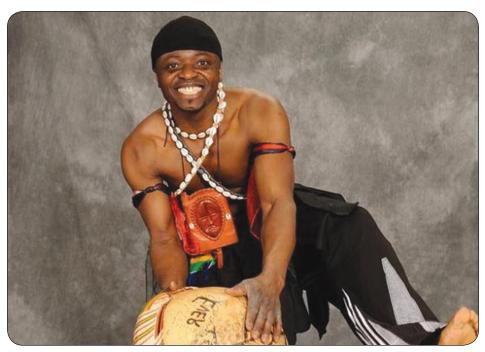

Some consideration could be given to promotion of home composting, along with promoting the mulch mowing of home lawns instead of collecting and hauling clippings. Some consideration also could be given to greater promotion of the birding trails at Selkirk Park.

Event to bring cultures of the world to Selkirk

African dancer and performer Coffieman Coffie will perform in Selkirk on Saturday, July 23 at the city's Multicultural Extravaganza at the Selkirk Waterfront.

By Dave Baxter

The City of Selkirk will bring cultures of the world together at the Selkirk Waterfront this summer.

The city will host the Multicultural Extravaganza at the Selkirk Waterfront on Saturday, July 23 from 7-10 p.m.

The event, which is part of the city's Summer Concert Series, is being described as "an evening of multicultural music and dance."

The Multicultural Extravaganza will feature performances by African dancer and performer Coffieman Coffie, Ukrainian dance groups Selkirk and District Ukrainian Dance and the Troyanda Ukrainian Dance Ensemble, as well as the Scandia Fun Folk Dancers.

"We've been doing it since 2012 and we always do it in summer and try to feature three different cultures each year," the city's marketing and communications co-ordinator Vanessa Figus said. Figus said the city was inspired to put on the Multicultural Extravaganza after witnessing the success of the Culturama events that happen regularly at the Gordon Howard Centre in Selkirk.

"They do their culturama and people talk about it all the time, and it sells out all the time," Figus said.

The event offers variety in Selkirk's annual Summer Concert Series, Figus said.

"It just brings out a different audience," she said "We do our rock concerts and we do country concerts, and this is something different that happens in Selkirk.

"And it's getting better every year, and every year the crowd grows."

The event will have food vendors on site and the city is asking those who come out to bring a lawn chair.

The Multicultural Extravaganza will happen rain or shine and will be moved into the Selkirk Memorial Hall in case of rain or inclement weather.

Sun comes out for Grand Beach Sun Run

By Laura Tutlies

This year 172 determined runners and motivated marathoners took part in the 33rd annual Sun Run last Sunday in Grand Beach.

"There is nowhere I would rather be on a Sunday than in this beautiful place," Chris Dick of Carman, Man. said while warming up for the 10 kilometre run last Sunday. "I love the beach finish at this race. Grand Beach is one of my favorite places in the world."

The 'beach finish' he referred to is the last kilometre of the race which takes the runners along Lake Winnipeg beside the stretch of dunes that connects the East Beach to the West Beach on the beautiful white sands of the provincial park.

For the run's organizer, Sandra Marriot-Silver, everything worked according to plan. Along with 35 to 40 volunteers the 10.5 and 3 kilometre courses were in excellent condition.

As a bonus, course designer Pat Riddell along with Sun Run's original instigator - Ron Latter, reinvented a route that takes the runners through the picturesque town of Grand Marais, at the entrance of the park gates, and then along the winding road over the Causeway and into the park proper with its meandering roadway that joins the two main beaches of this world class site.

"The park staff are awesome," Marriott-Silver said. "They are not just cooperative, they are helpful and integral to the success of the run."

Proceeds from the marathon are allocated toward the medical facility that is open during the summer within the Grand Beach Park. Marriott-Silver, who by day, is a nurse at a clinic in Winnipeg and a long-time cottager

The 'Doctors office" is staffed by Nurse-Practioners and doctors who trade or bill their time for the privilege of using the residence/office during a short period in the summer. There is a line-up of nurses and doctors who look forward to working at the facility for a week or two every summer and Marriott-Silver says she has no trouble finding help for the few months when the medical facility is open.

In addition to the Grand Beach Park 'Doctors Office', funds are also earmarked for the community of Grand Marais which houses the Living 360 facility in the Grand Marais Community Central Building. Although that facility has struggled to find doctors and nurses on a year round basis, it still maintains a fully equipped facility plus hosts the Interlake-Eastern Regional Health Authority's Mobile bus every Thursday. Marriott-Silver was part of the group that is working toward a full-time facility.

Runners come from across the province and the country to participate in the sanctioned event. One couple at the start gate gave their addresses as Florida in the winter and Detroit in the summer. They have relatives in Winnipeg and have participated in the Grand Beach event for a number of years. Results of the run are posted at mraweb.ca – the Manitoba Runners Association.

The categories for the Grand Beach Sun Run were 10k; 5k; and 3k events with respect for age groups and gen-

Sailors to set sail in Gimli for five-day regatta

Submitted

Join us in Gimli this weekend, whensailors from across western Canada compete for top spots in their fleets in the Sail West championships and Laser Canadians.

Not only are sailors putting their skills to the test in the 29er, Optimist, 420, 2.4mR, and Laser classes during Sail West, they are also laying the foundation for the group which will compete at the Canada Summer Games in Gimli in 2017.

Sail West is a five-day regatta, comprised of three training days and two racing days. Close to 50 athletes and their coaches are expected to take part, including a number of disabled athletes sailing the 2.4mR boats.

"Coaches will run on-the-water training sessions for each class, do group debriefing, and host practice races over the three training days. Sailors will have the opportunity to gain experience training in a big fleet environment," said Brigitte Smutny, the technical delegate for Sail West, and also executive director of Sail Manitoba.

Along with Sail West, sailors in the Laser Canadians event will also take to Lake Winnipeg. In preparation for this, an international Laser coach will teach a high performance class three days prior to two days of racing on the weekend.

"This is one of the best coaching opportunities a Laser sailor can dream of," said Nancy Folliott, Commodore of Gimli Yacht Club. "Angelo Tabernero from Spain, a very experienced coach and incredible sailor, will be coaching a group of 10 athletes in the finer points of racing Laser dinghies."

Gimli Yacht Club is playing host to the events, and has been the host for previous national and international events, including both the 1967 and 1997 Pan Am Games sailing competitions.

All races will be visible from the shoreline, in order to increase audience enjoyment. The south course will feature the Optimist, 2.4mR, and 29er boats and the north course will feature the Laser, Laser Radial and Laser 4.7 dinghies. Racing starts just after the fleet goes out at 11:00 a.m., and depending on the weather, will continue until approximately 4 p.m.

Sail West is taking part in the Green Regatta program, which reduces the environmental impact of the event, by recycling and composting all waste, reducing the carbon footprint, preventing pollution and engaging participants in an awareness campaign to keep bodies of water clean.

Sail West also ensures that all boats will be power-washed and dried prior to transportation away from Lake Winnipeg.

Walk for Water aims to support a healthy Lake Winnipeg

Last year's Walk for Water in Dunnottar saw about 75 walkers walk a five kilometre route in the lakeside town. This year's walks are set to take place on Sunday, July 24 in Dunnottar and on Sunday, Aug. 7 in both Gimli and Victoria Beach.

By Dave Baxter

Local and area community members are being invited to get up on their feet and fight for the health of Lake Winnipeg this summer.

Three Walk for Water events are being held this summer with a walk in Dunnottar happening on Sunday, July 24, and walks in both Gimli and Victoria Beach are set for Sunday, Aug. 7.

The events see participants collect donations and then take part in five kilometre walks in either Dunnottar or Gimli, or they can take part in the Victoria Beach walk, which has a five km and a 2.5 km option.

The Dunnottar walk starts at the Dunnottar Community Club, while the Gimli walk starts at the Lake Winnipeg Visitor Centre, and the Victoria Beach walk starts at the Victoria Beach Clubhouse.

Registration for all three walks starts at 9:15 a.m. the day of the walks with the walks starting at 10 a.m.

"Our supporters, and lake-lovers across Manitoba collect pledges, and then we get together and we walk, and get exercise and fresh air in three lakeside communities," Lake Winnipeg Foundation (LWF) spokesperson Marlo Campbell said. "And then afterwards we have refreshments and we provide educational materials and answer people's questions."

Campbell said Walk for Water"is the largest grassroots fundraising event in support of a healthy Lake Winnipeg."

Community volunteers organize the walks with support from LWF and proceeds fund research, training citizen scientists, educating students and community groups, and addressing the root causes of harmful algae blooms, by advancing the proposed actions laid out in the Lake Winnipeg Health Plan.

"We're an environmental charity so money that we raise we put back into our ongoing work to restore the health of Lake Winnipeg, and our shared waters here in Manitoba and beyond," Campbell said.

She added all residents of all fitness levels can take part in any of the three walks.

"We stress this is not a race, so we get walkers of all ages," Campbell said. "We get grandmas and we get two-year-olds, and we get families out with the family dog."

Campbell added the walk is a way to support the health of a lake that has been recently named one of the most threatened lakes in the world. "It's about being a part of the community and taking action," Campbell said. "It's just a good time, and it's a chance to get out and do something positive for Lake Winnipeg.

"This is something tangible and proactive that people can do, so we can advance solutions for positive change."

This year the LWF has added an online fundraising option that allows supporters to get involved by donating online, or by creating their own personalized fundraising pages and sharing them on social media.

Anyone looking to sign up for any of the three walks, collect pledges or get more information can go to lakewinnipegfoundation.org and click on the "Walk for Water" link, which can be found under "Lake-a-Thon."

Weighty challenges for Parkinson SuperWalk

Parkinson SuperWalk planned for Sunday, Sept. 18 in Gimli

By Jennifer McFee

The man leading the Parkinson SuperWalk is issuing a weighty challenge to the community.

Steve Van Vlaenderen will don a weighted vest, and for every $500 that he raises, he will add one pound of weight to it. He is encouraging organizations and businesses to work together to raise a combined $500 for his campaign.

Since Van Vlaenderen was diagnosed with Parkinson's five years ago, he has experienced some monumental shifts in his life — and in his outlook.

For the first two and a half years, he became fixated on the unanswerable question of why he was one of the unlucky people to be diagnosed with Parkinson's. As a result, he wasn't proactively dealing with the disease, which in turn made the symptoms

On Sept. 28, 2013, he hit rock bottom before he began his ascent from the depths of depression.

'I had gained weight and I had suicidal thoughts. My depression and anxiety were at its worst, and I decided to take control that very day. There were consequences I didn't like if I was going to continue with the depression the way it was going," he said.

"I didn't like where I was going. I decided to take control and I went to the gym. I started an exercise program and I've been going five or six days a week ever since. I'm 67 now, and I'm in better shape than when I was 35."

The Winnipeg-based body builder spends his entire summers in Gimli, where he actively pursues his passion for sailing. He will be leaving on the weekend for an 18-day sailing vacation travelling to the south part of the North Basin.

"You might have certain issues in your life and that can be overwhelming. And the next thing you know, you're in a spiral dive into depression and anxiety and you don't know what to do next," he said.

"You have to take charge. I like to encourage people with all sorts of conditions to do that, even healthy people. I speak to a lot of support groups and inspire them to take charge of their own life."

Gary Einarson, who chairs the committee for Gimli's Parkinson Super-Walk, is pleased that Vlaenderen will be leading the local event.

"We're really thrilled to have Steve helping us out in Gimli. It's a new move for him to come out here and help us out and walk in our event," Einarson said.

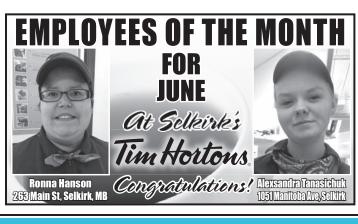

"We're looking forward to the kind of inspiration he expresses. He came out to our support group in the late spring and gave a presentation there that was very well received by a larger group than usual who were attracted to his story."

The Parkinson SuperWalk in Gimli is scheduled for Sunday, Sept. 18. To support Vlaenderen, visit donate.parkinson.ca, click on "Find a Walker" and type in his name. Individuals and teams can also sign up to participate for the event, which raises money for research, education and advocacy.

Bunless Bison Burger With Sautéed Vegetables

1/2 cup (125 mL) balsamic vinegar 1 lb (500 g) ground bison or lean ground beef

2 tbsp (25 mL) breadcrumbs 1 tsp (5 mL) Dijon mustard

1 tsp (5 mL) finely chopped fresh

1/4 tsp (1 mL) ground pepper 1 1/2 tbsp (22 mL) canola oil, divided

2 small onions, sliced

11/2 cup (375 mL) sliced mushrooms

1 red bell pepper, seeds removed, sliced

Directions

In small saucepan, bring balsamic vinegar to boil. Reduce heat and simmer until vinegar is syrupy, about 10 minutes.

Meanwhile, in bowl, combine bison, breadcrumbs, mustard, rosemary, and pepper. Shape four burgers and set aside.

In nonstick skillet, heat 1 tbsp (15 mL) canola oil over medium-high heat and cook onions until browned, 3-5 minutes, stirring constantly. Add mushrooms and bell pepper, cook 3 minutes. Remove and set aside.

In same skillet, heat remaining canola oil and cook bison burgers until the meat is fully-cooked.

Garnish bison burger with sautéed vegetables and drizzle with reduced balsamic vinegar.

Charcoal: Direct heat, light ash; 12-by-12-inch charcoal bed (about 3 dozen coals); clean, oiled grate on lowest setting

Wood: Direct heat, light ash; 12-by-12-inch bed, 3 to 4 inches deep; clean, oiled grate set 2 inches above the fire

1. Heat the grill as directed.

2. Using your hands, mix the beef, garlic, salt, and pepper in a bowl until well blended; do not overmix. Using a light touch, form into 12 patties no more than 1/2-inch thick.

3. Put a portion (about 11/2 teaspoons) of cream cheese in the center of each of the 6 patties; top with the remaining patties and press together, taking care to seal the edges well. Refrigerate the burgers until the grill is ready.

4. Brush the grill grate and coat it with oil. Put the burgers on the grill, cover and cook for 9 minutes, flipping after 5 minutes, for medium-done (150 F, slightly pink). Add a minute per side for well-done (160 F).

5. To toast the buns, put them cutsides down directly over the fire for the last minute of cooking.

6. If serving the burgers directly from the grill, serve on the buns. If the burgers will sit, even for a few minutes, keep the buns and burgers separate until just before eating.

Beer-Batter Onion Rings

Serves 4 to 6

Flour mixture 2 pounds all-purpose flour 3/4 cup granulated garlic 1/2 cup granulated onion 3 tablespoons kosher salt

Batter 6 extra-large eggs 2/3 cup all-purpose flour 2 tablespoons baking powder 2 teaspoons cayenne pepper 1 tablespoon kosher salt 1 teaspoon paprika 11/2 teaspoons lemon pepper 11/2 teaspoons garlic powder 1/2 teaspoon onion powder 1/4 teaspoon dried basil

Onions

11/2 cups ale beer

2 pounds large yellow onions, peeled and cut into 3/4-inch slices 4 cups canola oil

1. Sift all the ingredients for the flour mixture together into a large bowl.

2. Blend the eggs for the batter in the bowl of a stand mixer with a paddle attachment on medium, or in a large mixing bowl if using a hand mixer.

3. Reduce the mixing speed to low and add all the dry batter ingredients. Beat until incorporated.

Add the ale and transfer to a large shallow bowl or baking dish.

4. Set up a breading station with the flour mixture, the batter and a clean sheet pan. 5. For each onion ring, dredge the onion in flour, then in the batter, then in the flour again. Place the twice-breaded onion ring on the sheet pan (making sure to keep ring separated), and repeat the process until you've breaded all the onion rings. Refrigerate the rings for 10 to 15 minutes or fry immediately. 6. Add the oil to a large and deep saute pan or electric skillet, so it is one-third full, and heat it to 340 F. 7. Fry the rings in batches, being careful not to crowd the pan. Remove to a paper towel-lined plate and let cool for several minutes before serving to prevent burns.

Suggested serving: Serve with ranch

Makes 6 servings

2 pounds ground beef chuck, 85% lean

2 tablespoons chopped garlic 1/2 teaspoon kosher salt

1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper 3 tablespoons herbed garlic cream cheese, such as Boursin

6 hamburger buns, split Oil for coating grill grate

The Grill Gas: Direct heat, medium-high 425 F to 450 F; clean, oiled grate

Tri-S continues unbeaten streak

By Brian Bowman

The Tri-S Strike Force continued their winning ways on June 5.

Tri-S remained unbeaten in its last five games after a solid 3-1 win over Liberty FC Winnipeg at the Selkirk Rec Complex.

The Strike Force now has four wins and a tie in their past five games. Tri-S last lost a game back on May 29.

Tri-S is now 5-2-1 on the season and has 16 points to occupy sole possession of third place in the Manitoba Major Soccer League Division 5 standings. Mobb United leads the division with an 8-0-1 record and 25 points, three points ahead of Inter Milan (7-1-1) heading into this week's slate of games.

Tri-S is off this week and won't play again until Monday when it hosts Inter Milan at the Selkirk Rec Complex. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Selkirk FC, meanwhile, hosted the Bandits FC this past Tuesday but no score was available at press time. Selkirk, which was 1-5-1 heading into that game, will then host the Kildonan Athletic Club next Wednesday at the Selkirk Rec Complex (7:30

Tri-S extended its unbeaten streak to five games after a solid 3-1 win over Liberty FC Winnipeg on July 5.

Hoydalo, Dudek tied for fourth at junior championship

By Brian Bowman

Wesley Hoydalo has some catching up to do if he wants to defend his Accurate Dorwin Men's Junior Golf Championship title.

The Selkirk Golf & Country Club's Hoydalo was eight strokes back of Golf Manitoba's Josh Wytinck heading into Tuesday's third round of the 72-hole event, which was held at both the Portage Golf Club and Bel Acres.

Hoydalo was in a tie for fourth place after two rounds with four other players after carding a 76 and 72 for an 8-over 148. One of those players he was tied with was Colby Dudek, who also opened tournament play with a 76 and then fired a solid 72 on Mon-

Dudek also golfs out of the Selkirk Golf & Country Club.

Wytinck, who shot a 71 and then a 69, had a comfortable seven-stroke lead over Quarry Oaks' Stefan Lavallee and Niakwa's Sylvain Ruest after two rounds.

Thunder to host Pre-Season Jamboree

The Interlake Thunder will be hosting its third-annual Pre-Season Jamboree this Sunday at Stonewall Collegiate Institute.

The morning session will run from 10 a.m. until 11:30 a.m., followed by the afternoon session at 1 p.m. until 2:30 p.m. A barbecue will be held at lunch

An estimated 100 young athletes – and 200 people - will be in attendance for the day while equipment will be issued prior to this date.

"It's a kick start to our training camp for our minor program, which is from Cruncher to Bantam football," said Thunder president Joel McDonald last Thursday afternoon. "We'll be breaking down the kids in different groups to work on fundamentals." The jamboree will act as a good head start for the players prior to training camp.

"For the first couple of years, because our kids were so new to football, we used (the jamboree) as a tool to get them into equipment and give them at least some fundamentals going into training camp."

Coaches from the Thunder, including members or their Midget staff and players, along with numerous special guest coaches will be in attendance.

The Thunder had also sent out an invite to University of Manitoba and Winnipeg Blue Bomber alumni to come out. At press time, Petar Pejovic and Jon Oosterhuis had been confirmed to attend the iamboree.

Pejovic played for Simon Fraser University as an offensive lineman and was drafted by the Blue Bombers in 1995. He has coached football for the St.

Oosterhuis, meanwhile, played college football for the New Hampshire Wildcats and the Blue Bombers (2002-2011).

The jamboree will feature some serious workouts for the players but the day will also be a fun one for the kids with the lunchtime barbecue.

"The workouts and sessions themselves will be fairly intense and we're going to be working on some very specific skill sets," McDonald said. "But the overall event is kind of a fun day to get all of the kids together again.

"We're spread out through the entire Interlake, so some of these kids haven't seen each other in 10 months. They'll get a chance to reacquaint themselves with old teammates and, of course, meet some new teammates."

Bandura places sixth at Men's Mid-Amateur Championship

Former Selkirk Golf & Country Club member Ben Bandura finished sixth overall at the Men's Mid-Amateur Championships at Breezy Bend last week. Bandura, who now golfs out of Elmhurst, carded rounds of 76, 73 and 74 to finish at 7-over par 223.

Breezy Bend's Eric Johnson won the championship after finishing at even par 216 (71-72-73). That was one stroke better than Breezy Bend's Bobby Wiebe (70-77-70).

Garth Collings of Matlock placed 15th after rounds of 74, 82, 75.

The Manitoba provincial team members that will compete at the 2016 Canadian Men's Mid-Amateur Championship Golf Championship at Château-Bromont, Quebec from Aug. 23-26 are Johnson, Bandura and Brian Katchnoski.

Meanwhile, Elmhurst's Bri-Ann Tokariwski won the women's amateur championship after finishing at 7-over 226. She was four strokes in front of Glendale's Camryn Roadley.

Selkirk's McKyla Poponick placed 19th overall after finishing at 258. She got better with each round, shooting an 88, 87 and 83.

The provincial team members that will compete at the 2016 Canadian Women's Amateur Championship at the Ken-Wo Golf Club in New Minas, N.S. from Jul 26-29 are Tokariwski, Jill Hardy and Road-

Fun By The Numbers Like puzzles?

Then you'll love sudoku This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvv to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Mary Elizabeth Sparvath (nee McFee)

Mary was born in Sanford, MB on Sept. 22, 2011 to Andrew and Adeline McFee. She went to school in Sanford and Stony Moun-

She leaves to cherish her memory her daughter Rosemary (Lyle) Hodge; granddaughter Alison Hodge (Dean); grandsons Owen Hodge and Curtis Hodge; great-granddaugher Ariana Hodge-Peterson; step-daughter Irene Corrigal as well as numerous stepgrandchildren, nieces and nephews.

Mary was predeceased by her husband Jens; brothers, Albert, Richard (Dick), Hughie, Punch, Fred, Walter, and George; twin Sammy; sister Viva; step-daughters Leona Olsen, Violet Edmondson, Rhoda Kunzelman, Edna McMahon, Doreen Campbell and Beatrice Hibbitt.

Mary was a hard worker and before she married she ran her own housekeeping business in Winnipeg. Mary loved to travel and spent summers with her mother in Alberta, also travelling to BC to visit her brothers.

Once Jens and Mary married they both worked the family farm in Gunton. After many years of farming they moved closer to town. During their retirement years, they enjoyed their car, cruising around the area visiting family and sightseeing.

After Jens' passing, Mary moved to Teulon where she lived for over 20 years. In May 2014 she moved to Red River Place in Selkirk, where she was given the best of care. The staff loved her sense of humour and affectionately called her "momma" and "trouble". They said she was a "bright spark" for them

Cremation has taken place. Celebration of life will be held in the Gilbart Funeral Chapel, Selkirk, MB, at 11:00 a.m. on Wednesday, July 13, interment will take place at a later date.
