Planning board gives trailer park rezoning the green light

Tenants push for eviction date extension

By Lindsey Enns

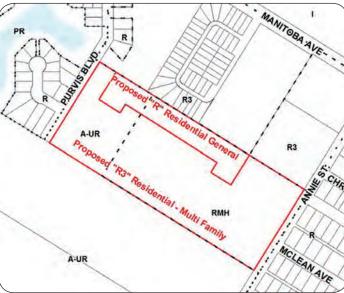

Selkirk Trailer Park residents are pushing for an extension to their end of December eviction date after Red River Planning District Board (RRPDB) members voted in favour of rezoning the land during an appeal hearing last week.

During last Wednesday evening's RRPDB meeting, a spokesman for the numbered company that owns the land said extensions to the eviction date will be dealt with on a "case by case basis" and that they could accommodate up to six more months. Several board members also spoke up during the meeting, asking for an extension on behalf of the tenants.

"This is a really tough situation here," RRPDB member and West St. Paul Mayor Bruce Henley said asking the developers to "come up with a reasonable time frame."

Earlier this month the Record reported that trailer park residents received

Selkirk Trailer Park resident Tamara Greenham said although she'd like more time, she also understands she'll soon have to find a new place to live.

"I already know what my fate is," Greenham said following last week's meeting. "I'm still scared. I'm just going with the flow."

The 23-year-old, who was born and raised in Selkirk, purchased her mobile home and moved into the trailer park three years ago.

"I saved up $14,000 ... and I put a new roof on it and I have been maintaining that trailer since I moved in," she said. "Losing all that money, that really hurts.

"I'm having a hard time accepting that."

In a letter to residents, the trailer park owners stated that over the years several maintenance issues have come up, causing severe financial loses, and they can no longer operate the park.

"The sewer line has broken in a few locations and repairing will not solve the problem," the letter to residents states. "To replace the sewer lines, > trailers would have to be moved from each lot and cost is not even financially feasible."

During last week's meeting a spokesman said the owners of the park are no longer willing to make further investments into repairs.

Now that the RRPDB has voted in favour of rezoning the land to residential multiple family dwelling and residential general, the rezoning will be brought to Selkirk council members for a third reading.

Surge in hog virus cases alarms local pork farmer

RECORD PHOTOS BY MAGGIE WYSOCKI

East Selkirk hog farmer, Doug Martin, says he's worried about the spread of the PED virus, which has hit 60 farm sites in Manitoba, because biosecurity regulations aren't implemented by the government and vary from farmer to farmer.

By Maggie Wysocki

Since the first 10 cases of the deadly pig disease PEDv (porcine epidemic diarrhea virus) were reported in southern Manitoba last month, the spread has only gotten worse.

As of Monday, a total of 60 farm sites in the province had been infected, according to the Manitoba Pork Council.

"We can't say that it's not spreading but there's hope with the warmer weather we'll stop seeing more cases," said Andrew Dickson, general manager of Manitoba Pork.

PED virus can affect all pigs but it is primarily found in newborns. The disease is transmitted by feces found on infected farming equipment, feed, people and other organisms moving from one farm site to the next.

The virus isn't transmittable to humans nor will it affect the pork industry, says Dickson.

"Sometimes we just don't understand what happened or how it spreads ... biosecurity has to be up to snuff," he told the Record.

Every other hour Dickson says he's in contact with government officials, determining what measures farmers should take next and sending out emails regarding precautions.

On the other end of those emails is East Selkirk farmer, Doug Martin, who says he's worried about PED spreading since the implementation of biosecurity varies from farmer to farmer.

"It really depends on the farm and that's the problem. If there's any areas where your biosecurity is weak ... a little speck of the disease can make everything explode," he said.

Keeping PED out of his farm has been exhausting and time consuming for him and his employees, Martin says.

"We have to restrict the amount of people that come to our farm and where we go to pick up supplies. We have to stop trucks on the road and spray the tires and make people wash their shoes before coming on the property," the fourth generation farmer said.

A few years ago, Martin remembers biosecurity being more diligent across the board because of federal law.

"There used to be certified truck washes for hog carries ... for some reason that stopped," he said.

With 1,200 pigs on Martin's farm, he estimates that if the virus hit any of his sows, feeders or piglets he could lose $20,000 a week.

But by ensuring maintaining thorough biosecurity measures, he's confident PED won't affect his farm and he hopes the best for other local and area farmers too.

'Selkirk is going to get the reliability it requires'

Ontario company has high hopes for Selkirk-Winnipeg bus route takeover

For those who rely on a bus service to take them from Selkirk to Winnipeg, the last few years have been a rollercoaster of emotions.

After Beaver Bus Lines ended its 68 years of service, Exclusive Bus Lines took over in 2016 only to cancel the Selkirk to Winnipeg route one short vear later.

Now, Kasper Transportation Service is hoping to be the change residents need. The Ontario-based company believes they have just the thing to set > themselves apart from their predecessors.

> "We're operating with smaller units of 15 passengers so it's a lot more economical," said Scott Spak, Kasper's director of operations for Manitoba.

Exclusive Bus Lines operated a larger bus and Spak, a Winnipeg resident, says he often saw it empty or carrying very few passengers. Kasper's Mercedes Benz Mini Bus will cost less to operate, which Spak believes will allow them to break the cycle of instability.

"Selkirk is going to get the reliability it requires," he said.

The other feature Spak believes will set Kasper apart from previous companies is that they plan to expand beyond Selkirk, providing other Interlake residents with transportation too.

"Once we get approval for more charter services, I'd love to get our routes to northern areas," he said.

Providing Interlake residents with reliable transportation is something Selkirk Mayor Larry Johansson says he has been wanting for years.

"I know people in those communities need to get to Winnipeg and Selkirk too so give them the option to get out of their vehicle and use another mode of transportation," he said.

"I think people will welcome it back. Not only current riders but new ones too," he added.

The Kasper Mini-Bus is set to start running September 1. For route information, visit"Kasper Mini-Bus" on Facebook.

'It's still unbelievable'

Selkirk woman wins $108K Chase the Ace lottery prize

Bv Kit Muir

Riverton's Chase the Ace lottery winner says she'll be going back to try her luck again once the fundraiser returns.

Heather Moar of Selkirk won the $108,809 pot at the Riverton and District Friendship Centre's Chase the Ace lottery on July 15.

"When they provided me the cheque, I said for sure I'll be coming back," said Moar.

Moar says she hopes they wait until the end of the summer to reintroduce the lottery because she'd like to spend the rest of her summer Saturdays camping.

Moar and three friends had a pact to share the winnings. Every weekend for the past two months they would make their way to Riverton and each pitch in $40 for tickets. Moar's winning weekend was the only time Moar had to represent the group alone. The other three were out of town.

"Even just that day, I was having car trouble," said Moar. "And I considered turning around."

Moar says she's glad she pushed through and made it to Riverton. She bought $160 worth of tickets with her and her friends' money.

"It was unbelievable," said Moar. "It's still unbelievable to be honest."

Moar says she intends to put some of her portion aside for her son's education and spend some of it on a small camper.

After paying off bills, Moar says her and the other winners are planning to host a barbecue for 62 of their closest family members and friends.

"It couldn't have come at a better time for all four of us," said Moar.

RCMP seek suspect following Selkirk Medical Centre fire

Staff

Selkirk RCMP are investigating after a man allegedly set the Selkirk Medical Centre on fire last Tuesday night.

On July 18 at about 10:30 p.m. Selkirk RCMP and the Selkirk Fire department were called to a fire at the medical centre located on Eveline Street.

"As emergency personnel arrived the back entrance of the building was fully engulfed in flames," RCMP stated in a Facebook post last week. "The fire was put out quickly but not without extensive damage to the back entrance and smoke damage throughout the building.

"No dollar estimate is available at this time."

Firefighters and the centre's fire doors helped restrict the damage to the back entrance of the clinic. RCMP said there was extensive damage to the entrance of the building and smoke damage throughout.

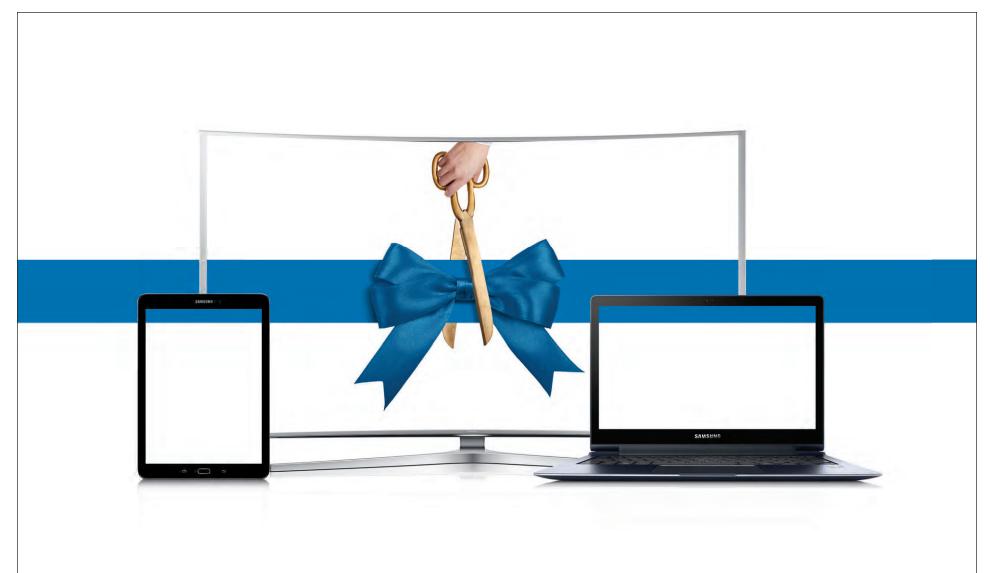

Security footage of the area shows a small white four-door hatchback approach the clinic with a lone male driver wearing a white and dark ball cap, a dark T-shirt, blue shorts and black and white running shoes.

RCMP are asking anyone with information to call Selkirk RCMP at 204-482-1222 or Manitoba Crime Stoppers at 1-800-222-8477 or text your tips to "TIPMAN" at 274637.

I AM Festival aims to celebrate mind, body and soul

By Jessica Worb

Sit back, relax, and choose to take a weekend for yourself this summer.

Organizers behind the second annual I AM Festival, want to help local and area residents tap into their mind, body, and soul on Aug. 18-20 on 40 acres of land in the heart of the Interlake, one of the province's best kept secrets, according to one of the festival founders.

"The idea for the I AM Festival really just came to us," explained Keith Macpherson, who founded the festival along with Tracy and Maurice Thibideau while canoeing out on the property. "One thing led to another and the next thing we knew, we had this full vision for the festival."

I AM Festival, which started off as a one-day experience last summer, is being expanded into a three-day festival this year.

"There is a real need for this type of event in the community," said Macpherson. "People are always searching for ways to rejuvenate, to feel good and to connect."

The festival will offer more than 20 local presenters, live music, yoga workshops, mindfulness coaches, stand up paddle board yoga, a psychic medium and more. The festival, which has a capacity of 400 people, is an intimate and personal experience, says Macpherson.

"We call it a festival, but it's really more than that," he said. "There are so many different treks. If you are really into live music and want nothing to do with the wellness side, we've got amazing acts to cater to that. But if you're into something more physical, we have that too."

The I AM Festival is only in its early grassroots stage, which is something Sheena Grobb, musician and health coach, says she is excited to be a part

"Being at the festival feels like something new is taking form and you are getting to witness it," said Grobb. "It's really rare to be a part of something that's just from the beginning."

Being out in Teulon in the nature surrounded by like minded people is only one of the reasons Grobb was drawn to the festival.

"You get to have such frequent and connecting conversations because of the size and nature of it, which was really nourishing for me," Grobb said. "When the cellphones are off and you put down your work and you give yourself that time, really interesting things can arise from that and I think that is really special."

New this year is the I AM Festival Family Camp, which is a weekend entirely dedicated to families. The weekend includes family wellness programming, facilitated games and activities, live music and other great workshops which takes place Aug. 11-

Pine Ridge Quilters to host 12th annual show this weekend

The group, which has been combining their love for sewing and helping others since 2004, will host their 12th annual quilt show at The Church at Pine Ridge on Friday, July 28 and Saturday, July 29.

The show will showcase everything from guilts and blankets to baby clothing and aprons. Anything that can be sewn can be showcased in the show, says Peggy Kulczycki, one of three committee organizers.

"The whole church is turned into a showpiece," explained Kulczycki."I see great joy and enthusiasm when I see the work that others are doing."

With a $3 entry at the door, guests can walk around and visit the tea room where they can enjoy hot beverages, soups, sandwiches, and desserts.

The 35-member group meets once every three weeks to show each other what they have been working on as well as to discuss what they can respond to.

"We get together to support each other. It is a really encouraging environment to be in," said Kulczycki.

They group has responded to several mission projects and she says they will continue to do so in the future.

They have sewn pillows and blankets for Haiti in response to the earthquake, for The Madison in Winnipeg, which provides supportive low income housing, and for an organization called Days for Girls, which supplies women and children in third world countries the proper health education and sanitary items.

"There have been quite a few times where we have responded locally," she said. "Sometimes (sewing) can be a heavy duty task but it is always worth

'Go to the boat boys ... it'll float'

Hello good friends.

Oddly, two of the stories that came to us last week have to do with icy water or winter, but they do have pleasant endings.

Our first story comes from Gary Feenestra who I met at Breezy Point last Tuesday.

The wind pushed against Gary's back as he and his sons Ried and Heath launched their small boat into the Lake of the Prairies water.

Low, cold, grey clouds covered the sky. The rocks above the water had thin coverings of white snow. Gary didn't voice his concern about the wild waves knowing his boys wanted to fish so badly. Except for his grey hair the boys looked much like their dad with an air of confidence. The wind and waves were at their backs now as Gary drove the boat south for the Dam.

Suddenly Gary saw a cluster of rocks baring themselves in the shallow between waves. Purely by reflex he slammed the motor into reverse causing a huge wave to engulf the back of the boat. Seemingly instantly the boat was gone from under Gary and he found himself in the water still holding his coffee cup. Looking around he saw Ried, Heath and the bow of the boat above water.

"Go to the boat boys, it's got foam, it'll float," dad cried out.

The icy water began stiffening Gary. He rolled over in his lifesaver vest to the boat and as all three men clung to the craft something came over Gary. He was filled with an absolute comforting conviction that they were going to come out of this OK. Luckily the wind pushed the boat and men to shore. Once there, Gary rolled from the boat to a rock that felt surprisingly warm. Heath, with the strength of youth crawled from the water hailing a nearby van. The driver helped them into the warm van.

Finally the waters on Lake Winnipeg by Hanusa were restful instead of restless last Wednesday. Yet only one angler, Kim Sager, had caught a walleve when I showed up. She obligingly held it up for us to admire but didn't have a fishing story, however, Don Goldforb of Inwood fishing beside her did.

A few years ago he went out onto the lake with a commercial fisher friend to lift nets in January. They were far out and all one could see in the bright sunlight was the white ice pack meeting the blue horizon. They pulled nets boxing the fish and with the last box in their old bombardier they piled in and his friend turned the key to start the engine. Silence! His friend went looking for the trouble but everything looked fine. Time wore on and it began getting dark and cold. In desperation, Don's friend tried the key again.

"There's something going on under me,"Don remarked as he heard a faint "ticking."

They opened a panel and there lay a blackened broken wire. They twisted it together, turned the key and the old girl came to life carrying them rattling and rocking toward the lights on shore.

I was having lunch at a café by Lac du Bonnet last Friday and couldn't help overhearing a couple of guys joking about fishing. I asked if they had a story for us.

"Yeah, kinda," a well put together Kelsey McAuley with short brown hair chimed in. He lost no time describing how he and a buddy, by Kelsey's own admission, are the most laid back guys you'll ever meet were fishing downstream of Selkirk on the Red River. They were comfortably slouched down in their folding chairs with their rods in holders eating, drinking and doing absolutely nothing when a fish came by and had the audacity to strike Kelsey's baited hook. Since he was in no mood to do anything about it, he rolled his head toward his friend and asked, "you want to get it?" His buddy who we'll call Bert, grabbed Kelsey's rod and promptly tripped in the soft deep mud falling into the water.

Kelsey, still sitting called out, "is it a decent size?""Yeah it's a big pickerel," his friend sputtered back. "I'll have it for supper," Kelsey proclaimed."No it's mine," came back a casual retort. "My rod, my fish" Kelsey pointed out. "Not anymore," his buddy uttered as he slung Kelseys' rod into the bulrushes and released the fish.

Come by next week won't you, bye

Walk for Water gearing up to mark 10th anniversary

By Maggie Wysocki

Since 2007, lake-lovers have been participating in the Walk for Water an annual fundraising event in support of a healthy Lake Winnipeg.

This year's walk on Sunday, July 30 in Dunnottar and on Sunday, Aug. 13 in Victoria Beach will mark a decade of citizen-led action and the Lake Winnipeg Foundation (LWF) is gearing up to celebrate the success.

"We tend to hear a lot of doom and gloom about the future of the lake but we're trying to stop that. The walk is about raising a glass to Lake Winnipeg because it definitely deserves it," said Alexis Kanu, LWF executive di-

Participating is easy and it's not too late, says Kanu, explaining participants can either create an online campaign to raise money or pledge in person and bring their completed form to

"The funds go towards our grants program, funding for teacher's to take their classes on fieldtrips, watershed organizations ... a little bit of everything," she said.

Over the last 10 years, the Walk for Water has raised more than $10,000 and Kanu says it's become a family tradition for many.

"Coming together to take part in Walk for Water every year is our way of giving back. We walk to raise awareness of the issues and to raise funds to support worthy projects to protect Lake Winnipeg for future generations," said Janet Sampson, who has been participating in the Victoria Beach Walk for Water since 2008.

The walk's 10-year anniversary isn't the only exciting part of this year's fundraising efforts either. This year, the LWF will also host a brand new event, Lake Bash 2017.

The event is scheduled for Aug. 18 at Farmers Hall in Gimli and will feature food, live music, a cash bar and dozens of silent auction prizes.

"It's super exciting. It's a partnership with Farmers Hall and they're very community minded folk and they want to get the people in Gimli out celebrating the lake," said Kanu.

The developers have indicated on a site plan that they plan to build a variety of housing options, which may include single family lots, duplexes, row housing and a condominium apartment building.

The spokesman said their plan is to build affordable housing on the land in four phases, with the final phase being where the trailer park currently sits. He added their plan would take roughly 10 to 15 years to fully develop.

During last week's meeting the board was also told that the trailer park is currently home to 47 trailers, two of which are vacant.

Some of the objections raised by the more than 20 people that spoke out against the rezoning last week included the loss of 45 homes due to eviction, the financial impact on existing tenants related to the sale of trailers, relocation and debt repayment as well as the loss of affordable housing.

"This is a cold hearted, calculated decision," one trailer park resident said. "This is a hardship some of us will never recover from."

Some residents also questioned the costs associated with running the trailer park.

"As a community we get together and take care of the park," one resident said.

Those who live near the property are also concerned about an increase in traffic if Annie Street is connected to Purvis Boulevard as well as the need for green space and a playground.

Greenham said she is currently taking time off work to try and figure out her next move. Her mother also lives in the trailer park and they aren't sure where they are going to go when it closes.

"Filing for bankruptcy is my only option right now," she said. "I don't want to claim bankruptcy ... I want to go back to school."

Greenham said her and others were hoping more of their questions would be answered during last week's board meeting.

"It's a devastating situation," she said. "I have nowhere to go, all my money is gone, I feel lost."

Communities in Bloom judges explore Selkirk's roots

By Lindsey Enns

Selkirk's sense of community once again impressed this year's Communities in Bloom judges during their tour of the city last week.

"That's what Communities in Bloom is all about," said Don Budinsky, Manitoba Communities in Bloom president and one of the judges that toured the city with local Communities in Bloom committee members last Thursday afternoon. "It's about getting members of the community not just involved but engaged in making their city a better place to work, live and play."

During their tour of Selkirk, the judges met with Citizens for a Safer Selkirk members, who once a week volunteer hours of their time to safely pick up and dispose of needles and other drug paraphernalia throughout the city.

Budinsky said this is the first time he's heard of a volunteer group taking on this type of initiative.

"That is a real feather in Selkirk's cap for having citizens come forward to do that," he said.

During their visit, Communities in Bloom judges look at things such as community involvement, community engagement, floral displays, landscaping, heritage preservation, environmental action and overall tidiness. The

Last year Selkirk received it's firstever five bloom rating during the 18th annual Manitoba Communities in Bloom Conference and Awards ceremony in Stonewall.

In the population over 5,000 category, Selkirk received a five bloom rating, which is the maximum, and the Gaynor Family Regional Library and the library's Urban Prairie were given a special mention.

In the 3,001 to 5,000 population category, the RM of West St. Paul was awarded a three bloom rating and the Middle Church home courtyard was given a special mention.

This year's scores will be unveiled during the annual conference and awards in September.

Budinsky also wanted to stress that Communities in Bloom isn't just about landscaping.

"It has to do with heritage conservation, preservation, it has to do with environmental action and effort as well," he said. "Selkirk's a leader when it comes to maintaining urban forestry ... and we've seen great examples of new plantings."

Communities in Bloom judges made 30 stops during their tour of Selkirk last week. Some of the stops along the way included the City of Selkirk's tree farm, the new Selkirk Regional Health Centre, Home Hardware, the Comp's outdoor track, Red Feather Farm, Veteran's Park as well as various commu-

Once again the Gaynor Family Regional Library's Urban Prairie stood out for Budinsky during their tour.

"It's just amazing," he said. "Tremendous environmental design ... beautiful facility and incredible landscaping with prairie restoration ... just mind blowing."

Local RMs receive thousands to battle Dutch elm disease

By Maggie Wysocki

After more than 6,000 American elm trees had to be cut down in Winnipeg in 2015-16, the province decided it was time Dutch elm disease (DED) received better funding.

"We may disagree from time to time but this is one of those things all politicians agree on," St. Paul MLA Ron Schuler said during an announcement held in East Št. Paul's Hyland Provincial Park last Thursday.

Schuler presented East St. Paul, West St. Paul and the RM of Springfield with funding to support the management of DED in their communities.

Administered through the province's Forest Health Protection Act, East St. Paul received $89,396, the RM of Springfield received $65,280 and West St. Paul received $36,088 to support Dutch elm disease management in their community. Schuler said the amount of funding each RM received corresponded to its concentration of American elms.

"We all appreciate that Manitoba is known for its trees but unfortunately that could change," Schuler said.

DED is a disease caused by a fungus spread by bark beetles when they feed and overwinter in the bark of elm trees. It was first detected in Manitoba in 1975 and since the government's Dutch Elm Disease Management Program has been in existence.

"We have a huge concentration of Elm trees in this community and it's something you wouldn't even realize until they're gone," said East St. Paul Mayor Shelley Hart.

"If we can get rid of this disease, we can have a more sustainable future," added RM of Springfield Reeve Bob Bodnaruk.

According to Sustainable Development Manitoba, planting American elms reduces greenhouse gas emissions in the air.

The tree's leaves also create a canopy, which provide benefits like wind reduction, shade and wildlife habitat.

Selkirk woman sews memory quilt for Stonewall grad

By Lindsey Enns

While some graduates are showered with cards and cash, Barb Peterson knew she wanted to give her daughter something a little more memorable when she graduated from the University of Winnipeg.

The Stonewall woman says over the years she set aside T-shirts her daughter Catie had worn throughout her lifetime, hoping one day they could be used to make a quilt full of memories.

With that idea in mind, Peterson got in contact with Maria Livingstone who runs a sewing business out of her Selkirk home. Livingstone took on the challenge and more than 100 hours later, Catie's unique graduation gift came to fruition.

"She collected these (T-shirts) over a lifetime of her daughter's life so then we got together and it took five hours to actually come up with the design," Livingstone said while holding up the large quilt inside her Selkirk home recently. "This is her life up to graduation."

The border of the quilt is made from Catie's first pair of grown up pyjamas

Maria Livingstone holds up the large memory quilt she spent nearly 100 hours making as a gift for a University of Winnipeg graduate from Stonewall inside her Selkirk home recently. Livingstone said she's been sewing since she was a young girl and doesn't plan on putting her machine away anytime soon.

and some of the roughly 30 T-shirts used include pictures of Harry Potter and movie characters as well as a long list of travel destinations. Another Tshirt reads"boyfriends are recyclable."

"Her boyfriend had split up with her so she wore that to school the next day," Livingstone said with a smile.

Peterson said she presented 23-year-old her daughter the quilt on her graduation in June during a get together with friends and family.

"The whole family was here," she said. "It was the neatest thing because her best friend from childhood remembered everything too."

Peterson her daughter, who studied theatre and film at the U of W, plans to use the quilt as her bedspread in the future.

'She just likes looking at it," she said. "It's basically her whole life."

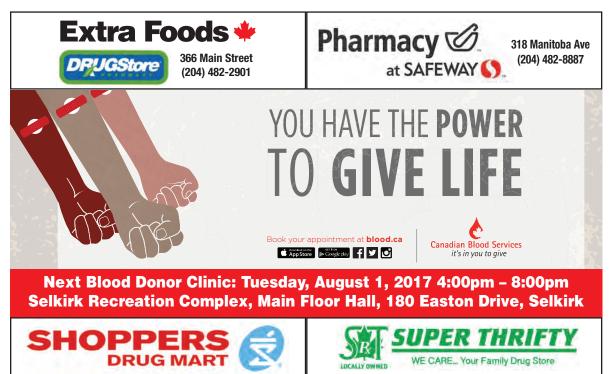

Livingstone said she's been sewing since was a young girl and she doesn't plan on stopping anytime soon.

In 2015, she moved her sewing business, M L Creations, from her home in Stonewall to a new home in Selkirk. She also teaches basic sewing at the Comp as part of the Continuing Education program. She added alterations can be pricey so sewing is a great skill to have.

"You sew and you learn and basically that's what it's about," she said. "Sewing is kind of coming back. It was a lost art for a long time and things are coming back and manufacturers are making all kinds of different feet for the machines."

Besides the dresses she has sewn for her granddaughters, this quilt is definitely one of her more memorable creations, she said.

"It's like a memory quilt. It's a whole collection of memories."

Heroic pilot helps Gimli Glider museum take flight

By Patricia Barrett

The Gimli Glider museum officially took flight last Sunday when the pilot who brought the powerless Air Canada jet to a safe landing at Gimli airport 34 years ago returned to town to help launch the exhibit.

Before hundreds of spectators at the harbour bandstand, Capt. Bob Pearson recounted the harrowing tale of how the Boeing 767 ran out of fuel midway through its flight from Montreal to Edmonton.

"This is a hell of a lot better than the first time we came here," quipped Pearson, who put his previous experience as a glider pilot to good use when the jet's engines failed.

In 1983 Canada was in the process of adopting the metric system, and ground crews had calculated fuel in pounds rather than kilograms. At 41,000 feet above Red Lake, Ont., the plane ran out of gas.

"We just had our evening meal and I can remember saying to [co-pilot] Maurice [Quintal], 'Well, for once everything's working properly," said Pearson. "And that's something we should

Capt. Bob Pearson, who glided a powerless Air Canada jet into Gimli in 1983, cuts the ribbon to help open the new Gimli Glider exhibit last Sunday.

Shortly after that, a low-pressure amber fuel warning light came on, and "a few minutes later, another beep-beep-beep and another light came on. That seemed to be too much of a coincidence on a brand new airplane."

Pearson said they hadn't any background knowledge of how the new onboard computer system functioned.

"I had no ability to troubleshoot," he said,"and I decided to divert the aircraft to Winnipeg. We must have been down around 35,000 feet and more amber lights are coming on...until the whole bank of lights were on. But the flightmanagement computers still showed plenty of fuel to get to Edmonton."

That's when the left engine failed. At 28,000 feet, the right engine failed.

"There was a loud bong and the cockpit went black," he said. "All these beautiful instruments just simply disappeared. Maurice got into this incomplete manual to try to solve what problems we could [but] the flight-ops manual was very incomplete."

As they descended over Lake Winnipeg, Quintal, who has now passed on, determined that the jet might not make it to Winnipeg. They were 30 nautical miles from Winnipeg and 14 from Gimli.

"I decided not to attempt Winnipeg," said Pearson. "I don't know to this day whether we would have made it."

Quintal proposed landing at an RCAF base in Gimli where he had once served as a pilot, and they "made a big sweeping turn and followed the shoreline until we spotted the airport."

Quintal, however, was unaware that part of the airstrip had been converted into a race track.

"I didn't see anything on the runway, just this patch of cement," said Pearson. "No emotion at the time, just a cold robotic feeling with tunnel vision, just focused totally on our speed and that piece of cement."

Although Pearson has not been part of creating the museum, he has donated several artifacts and will be offering more. He also encouraged people to donate parts of the plane they may have "hidden in their basements."

Museum president Barb Gluck said the idea of a permanent exhibit sprang from tourists wanting to see parts of the plane and the landing strip.

"The roots of this are cemented in the seawall mural and the interest in it," she said. "The rest of it belongs to you and my team."

Brokenhead Ojibway Nation gears up to host Treaty Day celebration

Brokenhead Ojibway Nation resident Ralph Kent hopes to celebrate Indigenous culture during an upcoming traditional pow wow.

Kent, along with his wife Glenda Smith, have danced and sang at pow wows for more than 37 years and this year they're organizing the 13th annual Traditional Pow Wow as part of Brokenhead Ojibway Nation's Treaty Day celebration.

Kent says he's excited for the pow wow and is looking forward to seeing local and area youth there.

"A lot of our people they don't understand their own culture, and to start, you need to learn," said Kent.

The pow wow will stretch over three days and is one of many activities happening during the Treaty Day Celebration in Brokenhead Ojibway Nation on Aug. 9 to 13.

Kent says he hopes the pow wow will help teach youth about Ojibway traditions.

"It's a starting point for some of the people because you hear the drums, you see the dancers but there's the other side of that which is a very ceremonial side," said Kent.

Kent says he often sees ceremonies which are male dominant. In a traditional pow wow, females are dominant and Kent intends for this year's event to follow those traditions.

"It's connected to mother earth and grandmother moon," says Kent. "The men take direction from the women, they do their thing and they tell us what we need to do."

Kent wants to see a reintroduction of tradition into his community, though he acknowledges that too much change at once doesn't always work. So he and his wife are making small changes, reintroducing one part of their traditions at a time.

"We can't come out and do one big change because people won't understand," said Kent. "Instead of hitting it head on we're approaching it in a different direction."

The pow wow will take place during the last three days of the Treaty Day Celebration.

Besides the pow wow, the event will also feature a pool tournament, canoe races, bingo, movie nights, children's activities and fireworks.

St. Andrews artist carves awarding-winning seal

By Maggie Wysocki

For most of her artistic career, St. Andrews resident Kathy Freeman says she's expressed her vision through the creation of whimsical stone animal sculptures.

"I've just always done soapstone as my thing," she said. "When I look at a piece of rock, I try to use the colours in it to match the animal I'm sculpting to make it look as if it's all meant to be."

On July 7, Freeman's unique sculpting style was celebrated when she was awarded first place during the 15th annual Manitoba Rural and Juried Northern Art Show for her sculpture, "Contented Seal."

"It was great. When I got the phone call I was very surprised and happy to be included," she said, referring to the competition that featured art from 50 other Manitoban artists of various mediums.

The show was hosted by the Manitoba Arts Network and took place at the Edge Gallery in Winnipeg where Freeman's sculpture along with the second and third place pieces will be on display until Saturday, July 29.

Everything an artist creates is a self-portrait, Freeman said about her award-winning piece, adding she believes the sculpture reflects that she's now in a more content place as an artist.

But it wasn't until Freeman left the big city of Vancouver and moved to rural Manitoba that she says she finally felt confident enough to even call herself an artist.

"Everything felt bigger and more intimidating and if I stayed I probably would have continued to do my own thing ... and not share my art," she said.

It wasn't until she became a member at local and area galleries that she gained the courage to display her creations

In December 2018, it will come full circle for Freeman when she hosts an art show at the place where she first shared her work — Selkirk's Gwen Fox Gallery.

As for her advice for other artists: "Talk to other artists and join your local gallery. It will give you the push you need."

During the Networking and New Member Recognition night, we announced our 1st Annual Fitness challenge winning team. 20 teams worked for 12 weeks starting March 15 for the chance to become Selkirk Biz most fit. Oh yeah, and a chance to win $1675.00!! Congratulations to the team from Selkirk Record, who placed first with a combined fat loss of 66.6% and increased muscle quality of 119.1%!! Watch for a Fall Tune-up Challenge starting October 16! Here is how this has helped one of our participants and how it could help you:

"Taking part in the Selkirk Biz 50/50 Challenge changed my life! With the support of my husband, we both made a commitment to take more control over our health and the 50/50 Challenge was the catalyst we needed! There were many benefits we experienced throughout. We saw the pounds falling off of us and tight clothes started to fit better...and eventually became too big! One big achievement for me was that I was able to go off of my high blood pressure medication which I had been taking for almost 9 years! We watched our food intake (calories and type of food). We used "My Fitness Pal" to track our food intake to make sure we were each staying within our allowed calorie intake for the day. We could also record our activity such as walking and biking. We set up a home gym, and for the first time in my life I did some weight training! The 50/50 Challenge Facebook page was a great place to check in with other participants and to share milestones. I strongly encourage anyone who wants to make a change in their health to join the 50/50 Challenge next year. It was fun & healthy competition. The reward of feeling and looking better could outweigh any prize in my books! (but the cash prize is definitely an incentive worth working for too!) :)" - Jo-Anne

Breakfast Avocado

Cook time: 30 minutes Serves: 4

12 slices Thick Cut Bacon

16 ounces Boneless Sliced Ham

1 1/2-2 quarts water

1 lime, juiced

1 cup freshly made or refrigerated, prepared guacamole

4 large eggs

4 thick slices seeded whole-grain bread, toasted golden brown freshly ground black pepper

1 tablespoon chopped parsley or cilantro leaves

Heat oven to 375 F. Lightly spray baking rack and place on top of foil-lined, rimmed baking pan. Separate strips of bacon and lay flat in single layer on rack. Bake 15-18 minutes, or until just crisp, rotating pan halfway through cooking. Using spatula, remove bacon from pan while warm; drain on paper towels.

While bacon is baking, lay sliced ham on lightly sprayed, rimmed baking pan. Bake 5-7 minutes, or until warmed through. Keep bacon and ham warm.

In saucepot over medium-high heat, heat water and lime juice until simmering. Crack eggs into small cups. Slowly add eggs one at a time to pot and simmer 4-5 minutes, or until whites are just set for runny yolk or a little longer for firmer yolk. Remove eggs from water with slotted spoon and drain on paper towel.

Spread guacamole onto toast, topping each with sliced ham, egg, pepper and bacon. Sprinkle with parsley or cilantro and serve warm.

Hearty Breakfast

Prep time: 10 minutes Cook time: 30 minutes

Serves: 4

8 slices Thick Cut Bacon

16 ounces Boneless Ham Steaks, cubed

3 cups cooked steel-cut Irish or traditional oatmeal

3 1/2-4 quarts water, divided

1 pound fresh asparagus

4 eggs

2 cups fresh assorted berries

1/2 cup walnuts

1/3 cup pepitas (Spanish pumpkin seeds)

Heat oven to 375 F.

Lightly spray baking rack and place on top of foil-lined, rimmed baking pan. Separate strips of bacon and lay flat in single layer on rack. Bake 15-18 minutes, or until just crisp, rotating pan halfway through cooking. Using spatula, remove bacon from pan while warm; drain on paper towels. Drain fat from pan. Place ham cubes on same rack and bake 5-7 minutes, or until heated through.

Prepare oatmeal as directed on package and keep warm with ham and bacon.

Over high heat, bring 2 quarts water to boil and blanch asparagus 1-2 minutes, or until tender-crisp when pierced with fork. With tongs or slotted spoon, remove asparagus; drain and reserve. In same saucepot over high heat, bring 1 1/2-2 quarts water to boil. Reduce heat to simmer and, using slotted spoon, carefully lower eggs into water individually. Cook 6 1/2 minutes for softer, jammy yolk or a little more for firmer yolk, keeping water simmering during cooking. Transfer eggs to bowl of ice water and chill 1 minute for easier peeling.

To assemble, divide oatmeal, asparagus, berries, ham and bacon among four bowls. Place peeled, halved egg in each bowl and top with walnuts and pepitas.

Arrange ham, potatoes, spinach and cheese in bottom of casserole dish. In large bowl, beat eggs and milk together and pour over ingredients in casserole dish.

In nonstick skillet over medium heat, heat 1 teaspoon oil. Add sausage and cook 5-8 minutes, or until cooked through. Transfer to plate and set aside.

In same skillet, add remaining oil, bell peppers, onions and tomatoes, and cook 3-5 minutes, or until softened. Add tomatoes and cook 2 minutes.

In large bowl, scramble eggs and pepper. Add to pan and cook, stirring regularly, 3-4 minutes, or until eggs are set. Remove from heat and mix in sausage and cheese. Let cool.

Fill tortillas with 1/2 cup egg mixture, roll into burrito and lay seam-side down on parchment-lined baking sheet. Freeze 1 hour. Transfer to freezer-safe re-sealable bag and return to freezer.

Pirates advance to 18U 'AAA' baseball nationals

By Brian Bowman

The North Winnipeg Pirates "AAA" Midget team picked the perfect time to play their best baseball of the season.

And now they are off to the nationals in London, Ont.

The Pirates were outstanding last weekend at the provincials in Winnipeg, defeating Bonivital 8-6 in the championship game.

"This is an unbelievable feeling," said Pirates' head coach Gary Dear Monday morning. "I'm still in shock and so is the other coaching staff. All of the kids and parents are also in shock after the whole season went down for us."

North Winnipeg played like a champion-type team throughout the four-day tournament.

"It was unreal," Dear stressed. "We played the best ball that we have all year and we played how I knew we could. We had 17 losses throughout the year and when I check back in the book, 15 of those losses were because of our mistakes that cost us.

"I told the kids, 'If you don't make mistakes, then you can play with anybody."

The Pirates came out swinging the bats extremely well in the final, scoring five runs in the first inning. "That was huge," Dear said. "It was the best thing that could have happened."

North Winnipeg later increased its lead to 8-2.

To reach the finals, the Pirates blasted the Winnipeg South Chiefs 10-0 in a semifinal game. Ben Anderson earned the win for North Winnipeg against the team that he tried out for earlier this summer.

North Winnipeg earned a spot in the playoffs after finishing 4-1 in pool play. The Pirates started action Thursday morning with a huge 15-3 win over Bonivital and then lost 8-4 to Parkland later that evening.

The Pirates would not lose another game, however, at the provincials. North Winnipeg crushed Oildome 10-3, doubled Carillon 4-2, and blasted Brandon 12-2.

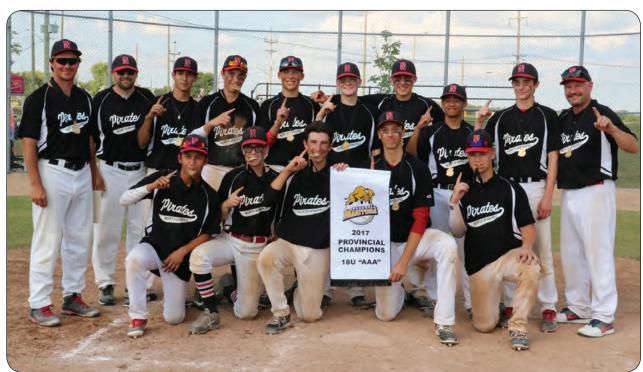

On an individual note, Interlake players played a huge role in leading the Pirates to the provincial title. Liam Allen was terrific, said Dear, hitting .666 while Jayden Allary pitched very well against Oildome.

Gimli's Kallie Einarson was great at the plate all weekend, said Dear, and Nathan Slaby was very good on the mound against Bonivital in the opener. "The local boys did extremely well for us," Dear noted.

North Winnipeg will now busily prepare for the nationals, which will begin Aug. 17. It will be the Midget Pirates' second trip to nationals in the past five seasons. They also made an appearance at the westerns during that time.

It will be interesting to see how the Pirates match up against the top 18U talent in Canada.

"I have no idea what to expect because I didn't expect to get this far after the regular season that we had," Dear admitted. "But I know it's going to be a tough battle when you're playing against the other provinces' elite players."

North Winnipeg Pirates win PeeWee city championship

By Brian Bowman

The North Winnipeg Pirates picked a perfect time to put together a late-game comeback.

Trailing the St. James A's 6-4 in the top of the seventh inning in Game 2 of their best-of-three Pee-Wee city final, North Winnipeg exploded for five huge runs in a wild 9-6 comeback victory.

With the win, the Pirates claimed the city championship.

"They're super excited," said Pirates' head coach Ken Allen. "The second game against St. James was literally a one-run game until the bottom of five when (St. James) scored a couple to take the lead."

The Pirates stayed calm despite trailing late in a critical game against a pretty good St. James pitching staff. North Winnipeg took advantage of having the top part of their order up in the final inning.

"The boys stayed calm and went up there and did the job," Allen recalled. "They scored five runs to take a three-run lead and then the defence kicked in and shut them down in the bottom of seventh."

The Pirates started the series with an impressive 8-3 home win at the Sunova Centre in West St. Paul. North Winnipeg got off to the start they were hoping for on their home field in a short series.

"That was a key," Allen stressed. "As coaches, we talked about it in the semifinals and finals that we have to (win) that first game to (maintain) homefield advantage. We had to make use of that and we had great support from the fans and parents.

"To have that one win under your belt going into Game 2 took a little bit of pressure off and gave us a taste of keeping that momentum going."

The Pirates hope to keep that momentum going at the provincials, which will take place Aug. 4-6 at St.

"I gave the guys the weekend off to recoup a little bit and then we were back at work Monday at practice," Allen noted. "We have about 10, 12 days of practice coming up and we're going to work on all the things that we need to work on."

If the Pirates play some solid baseball at the provincials, they have a very good chance of being one of the two teams that will advance to the westerns.

"If we continue to play the way that we have been playing, I think we can do damage," Allen predicted."We have depth in all aspects of the game and, in youth baseball, anything can happen but I like the way that we're playing right now."

Tri-S struck down again

By Brian Bowman

A lack of goal scoring has been a major problem for the Tri-S Strike Force this entire season.

And it was a problem once again last Saturday against the Interlake Impact in a 3-0 home loss.

Dean Dueck, Benny Wiens, and Adam Schmidt scored for the Inter-

With the loss, the Strike Force is now 0-10-1 and in sole possession of last place in the 10-team division.

Carmania SC leads the division with a 9-1 record and 27 points heading into this week's slate of games. Interlake is now second with a 7-3-1 record and 22 points while North Winnipeg sits in third place with a 6-3-1 record and 19 points.

Tri-S hosted North Winnipeg this past Tuesday but no score was available at press time. The Strike Force will then host Elmwood FC next Thursday at the Selkirk Rec Complex. Game time is 7:15 p.m.

Meanwhile, in MMSL 2nd Division action July 17, Selkirk FC was edged 2-1 by Bandits FC.

Tanner Markevich scored Selkirk's lone goal while Martin Alvaro replied with a pair for the winners.

Selkirk FC hosted Scorpions FC last night and then won't play again until Aug. 14 when they have a home game against Lions FC.

The Kildonan Athletic Club will then visit Selkirk on Aug. 20 as the local club has just two games scheduled for next month.

Bonivital Black Sox in their best-ofthree semifinal series. Bonivital won the first game 9-4 and then completed the sweep with a 6-4 victory Monday evening.

Nerves may have played a factor in the Pirates' playoff loss.

"They appeared to be a little timid, for whatever reason," said Pirates' head coach Donnie Smith."I had never seen them play that way. They were making some mental mistakes...I think we gave up four unearned runs (Monday)."

The Pirates have already forgotten about their city playoff loss and are now focused on a more important tournament – the provincials.

"For me, it's getting past the mental part," Smith said. "It's nice to win the city's but it's a little more meaningful at provincials. Our midget team didn't do so well with the city's but ended up winning provincials. That's our goal and that has always been our

The Pirates have plenty of work to do before the provincials take place Aug. 4-6 in Morden. North Winnipeg will be competing in Pool 2 along with Bonivital, Carillon and Oildome.

"I'm Ok (with our pool)," Smith said. "We've done fairly well against Boni throughout the whole season although we didn't play our best ball the last couple of (games). I'm OK going against them and we ended up splitting with Carillon."

The other pool consists of Interlake, Midwest, Winnipeg South, South Central and St. James.

This year's Bantam provincial title can be won by any of the nine teams. It's whoever plays the best baseball on the biggest weekend of the season that will advance to the nationals.

"Going into it, this could be anyone's ball game," Smith insisted. "To me, pitchers have to throw strikes and keep guys off balance a little bit."

The winner of the U15 provincials will advance to the nationals in Summerside, P.E.I. while the finalist will attend the westerns in Kamloops, B.C.

Fredborg wins men's amateur golf championship

By Brian Bowman

Before the final round of Golf Manitoba's Nott Autocorp Men's Amateur Championship, Travis Fredborg felt strongly that if he shot a 67 he would win the tournament.

Well, guess what the Selkirk native did?

Fredborg fired an impressive 4-under 67 last Thursday at the Elmhurst Golf & Country Club to secure a three-stroke victory over his good buddy, Devon Schade.

"It's probably the biggest event in Manitoba to win as an amateur, for sure," said Fredborg, a day after winning the Manitoba men's amateur title. "It hasn't really sunk in yet, to be honest. It feels like I just played another round of golf (last Thursday).

"It's a pretty cool feeling."

And it was Fredborg who was very cool under pressure as he calmly drained a 25-foot uphill putt to eagle No. 9 – and his final hole – to finish the tournament at 4-under 280.

"I put in a 25-footer to put the icing on the cake," Fredborg recalled. "It was straight up the hill 25 feet with a little bit of a break from right to left. It was a putt that you dream of, especially in that type of situation. My caddie and I got a really good read on it and I just committed to my routine and stayed in the moment and stroked it.

"As soon as I hit it, I knew it was perfect."

Fredborg's 4-under for the tournament was three strokes better than Schade and four in front of Ryan McMillan. There was plenty of good, young talent in this year's men's amateur field.

Selkirk's Travis Fredborg won his first-ever Manitoba men's amateur golf championship last week. He will now compete at the nationals in Toronto next month.

"When you look at the field and you realize how deep it actually was, and how good the players are, and to come out on top is a pretty good feeling," Fredborg said. "It was a lot of fun. Schader is one of my best friends. We play together at least four or five times a week and we always practice together.

"We also hang out outside of golf, so it was fun to go (against him) in a battle down the stretch."

Fredborg started the tournament ripping up the Selkirk Golf & Country Club with a 66 and then he shot a 73 before carding a 74 during the third round at Elmhurst.

"I felt a little bit of pressure going into Selkirk knowing that it was where I grew up," said Fredborg, who now golfs out of Pine Ridge."I played there quite a bit but once I got out there, it just felt like another round of golf.

"I've hit those shots a million times, so it was good to have a solid round to start it off and get me in contention."

With the men's amateur victory, Fredborg will now represent Manitoba, along with Schade and Eric Johnson, at the 2017 Canadian Men's Amateur Championship in Toronto from Aug. 7-10.

Manitoba expects to do well against our country's elite amateur golfers.

"Our team is probably one of the most talented, I think, going there," Fredborg said confidently. "Devon is an amazing player. He has proven that by winning the amateur twice and he's one of the best players on the U of M team.

"And Eric Johnson is one of the most underrated players in Manitoba. He really doesn't miss a lot of golf shots - he's very efficient. I think we have a really good chance (to be successful) when we go there, as long as we execute, we'll be tough to beat."

Steelers set up GoFundMe page to raise money

By Brian Bowman

The Selkirk Steelers have turned to social media to help raise money to erase some of its lingering debt.

The local junior "A" hockey club has come up with a "Restore the Steelers" program, organized by club president Jordan Fillion.

Within that program, the Steelers have set up a GoFundMe page with the goal of raising $80,000.

"We're looking to retire $80,000, but obviously our debt is a lot higher than that," Fillion said Monday afternoon. "It's a small bite-size piece of what we're looking to get rid of."

As of early Monday evening, the team had raised $7,500 through two separate donors on its GoFundMe page.

Gerry Hogue, a former Steeler, donated $500 while an anonymous donor chipped in a whopping $7,000.

"It's going very well so far," Fillion said. "We have $7,500 so far, so it's been going fairly well. We were fortunate to get (the $7,000 donation) and hope that there's more to come."

The GoFundMe page to raise money for a hockey team is a unique initiative but one that is currently being tried in the U.S. at the collegiate level.

The Western Collegiate Hockey Association women's conference, which includes teams like Bemidji State, Minnesota, Minnesota-Duluth, and Minnesota State, has setup a wcha. rallyme.com with the hopes of reaching their goal of raising $140,000 by mid-March.

The Steelers were unaware that the WCHA had come up with a similar fundraising idea.

"We thought that with everything going on with social media in today's world and with the 50 years of the Steelers' alumni and fans in different parts of the world, we thought it was the best way to allow us reach out and get support from our local community and the community afar," Fillion explained.

Fillion stressed that the organization needs more fans to come out and attend their games to increase revenue. The second-year Steeler president expected it to be a tough battle to survive financially in the junior hockey world.

"It's happening Canada-wide," he noted. "It's not unique to the Selkirk Steelers at all. A lot of the MJHL teams are in the same boat and a lot of the CJHL teams are in the same boat. We need to restore the Steelers and get the payables under control and move forward with a very strategic budget to try to stay on track."

Fillion was quick to point out that this is not a "save the Steelers" fundraiser.

"We're not going anywhere," he stressed. "It's a one-time 'Restore the Steelers' (fundraiser) and let's move

The Steelers, meanwhile, will be hosting a social this Saturday on the ice surface at the Selkirk Rec Complex. Cost for the event, which will run from 9 p.m. until 2 a.m., is $20.

That admission price includes a ticket to a Steelers' regular-season home game this upcoming season.

Junior Blue Jays' season ends to Sultans

By Brian Bowman

The Interlake Blue Jays knew the Carillon Sultans would be a tough opponent in their Manitoba Junior Baseball League best-of-three first-round playoff se-

And they were tough.

Carillon swept the series in two games, winning 10-0 at home and then 5-4 in Stonewall last week.

"Game 1 was just one of those things where it was 2-0 in the (fourth) inning and then, I think, our youth showed," said Blue Jays' assistant coach Kent Klimpke. "We had a few errors in the field and then things just snowballed on us. The game just got away from us."

Carillon turned a close game into a rout by scoring four runs in the fourth inning and then added four more in the fifth.

The game was called after just five innings due to the 10-run mercy rule. The Sultans outhit the Blue Jays 12-2.

"We just weren't hitting the ball like we had been lately," Klimpke complained.

Game 2 was a much more competitive game between the two clubs.

Baily Proctor's two-run homer in the bottom of the sixth inning with Emerson Klimpke on base gave the Interlake a 4-3 lead.

But Carillon came right back, scoring two runs in the top of the seventh in their final at-bat.

"We talked after the game that (if we won) Game 2, it's a shootout in Game 3 and anything can happen," Klimpke said. "It was disappointing for the boys. They knew they had to just close out a half an inning and get three outs."

While the opening-round loss was a tough one for the Blue Jays, the future looks great for this club. The team has everyone eligible to come back next year and a ton of young talent is expected to return.

"In 90 per cent of our games, we started eight rookies on the field," Klimpke noted. "As long as we get the group back, the next few years to come are very optimistic as to what our results are going to be."

Klimpke said the Blue Jays' coaching staff is determined to grow their program and open to recruiting talented players. They want a junior baseball team in the Interlake for many, many years to come.

The MJBL is a very good league with a plethora of talent.

"It's a very good league," Klimpke said. "We had five of our boys go to the MJBL all-star game at Shaw Park and that was a great experience. It opens a few more doors for these kids."

Klimpke said the Blue Jays' program gives talented players a chance to play junior baseball in their own community instead of being dispersed to other teams throughout the league.

"That's not right," Klimpke charged. "We need them to be playing at home, playing for their local community, and building on this community for years to come.

"It's so critical not to lose these kids."

The Blizzard trailed 2-0 early in the second game but battled back to take a 7-4 lead and then iced the game with eight goals in the final 20 minutes.
