Marine Museum hopes new exhibits will bring more visitors aboard

By Justin Luschinski

Marine Museum of Manitoba supporters and “passengers” were given a sneak peek of the new exhibits at the Selkirk museum during a wine and cheese fundraiser last week.

The new installations involve showcasing the stories behind the history, featuring first hand accounts of some crew members, who lived their lives on the Red River. The museum also celebrated the grand-opening of its latest project, the Keenora Passenger Deck Exhibits, during last Tuesday’s after hours event.

Over the past two years, museum staff and its exhibit committee have updated, refreshed and created new exhibits and displays.

Duane Nicol, chair of the Marine Museum of Manitoba Board of Directors, said the board felt it was time for a change.

“In the past few years we’ve been doing well. We’re in the black again, which is better than being in the red,” Nicol said. “We’ve been hearing feedback, people were saying that they’ve seen everything in the museum already.

RECORD PHOTOS BY JUSTIN LUSCHINSKI

Marine Museum of Manitoba supporters were invited to tour some of the new exhibits at the Selkirk museum during a special after hours event last Tuesday evening.

“So we decided to start designing some new exhibits.”

Nicol also said there’s still restoration work that needs to happen, such as repainting the boats, but there’s more work than there is money or volunteers. The board aims to create a solid donor and volunteer base to keep the museum in operation, as it’s one of the largest tourist attractions in Selkirk.

Many of the new exhibits are interactive, and display the lives of the people who carried cargo up and down the Red River.

Bruce Donaldson, the historic researcher for the project, said that he really enjoyed learning the history behind the museum.

“This is interesting, dynamic, tangible,” Donaldson said. “Names and dates are important, but having that living history, that glimpse into the past, that’s what interests me.”

One of the new exhibits includes a diver suit on the main floor. The exhibit features an old diving suit, taken apart and labeled, with a video interview with one of those divers, describing his first time underwater.

The museum is inviting community and area members to come check out their exhibits during a free admission day on Tuesday, Aug. 21.

Teach for Canada looks to expand into Manitoba First Nations

Program helps prepare teachers to work, live in isolated communities

By Lindsey Enns

Liz Halina says helping prepare teachers for the challenges they may face while teaching in isolated northern First Nations communities is her way of giving back.

"You see students that are happy to be in the classroom and that are smiling and are enjoying learning," Halina said during a telephone interview from her home in Thunder Bay, Ont. "You see teachers that are connecting with community members to bring language and land-based learning and culture into the classroom ... it makes me happy that we're on the right path to developing reconciliation in Canada."

After spending two years as a police officer in northern Manitoba, Halina began her teaching career 17 years ago in a remote fly-in community in the Northwest Territories on the shores of Great Bear Lake.

Halina, who is a member of Sagkeeng First Nation and grew up in Selkirk, is currently the director of teacher development with Teach for Canada, a non-profit organization which aims to help fill the education gap between First Nations and non-First Nations communities by helping recruit, prepare, and support teachers interested in teaching in remote First Nations.

Halina said they are in the "very early stages" of expanding into First Nations in Manitoba with hopes of offering programming to interested teachers in the fall of 2019.

"Several communities from Manitoba have reached out to us to start to explore a potential working relationships together so we're just in the beginning stages of looking at potentially expanding into Manitoba from Northwestern Ontario," Halina said. "We want to help communities find really good teachers and we want those teachers to stay and have great working relationships with students, parents, the leadership in communities and community members as a whole."

Teach for Canada's biggest group of teachers to date

SUBMITTED PHOTOS

Former Selkirk resident and Teach for Canada's director of teacher development Liz Halina, pictured left, says they are in the early stages of expanding into Manitoba. The non-profit organization helps recruit, prepare and support teachers interested in teaching in remote First Nations.

started an intensive three-week program on July 16 to prepare for teaching in northern Ontario First Nations this September.

The group of 94 teachers from across Canada and countries as diverse as Siberia, Jamaica, the Philippines, and Nigeria, ranging in age from 22 to 73, and with an average of seven years of experience, will teach in 18 fly-in and drive-in First Nations communities in 2018-19.

During the three-week program these teachers participate in a program focused on First Nations histories, cultures, languages, culturally-responsive pedagogies, and outdoor education, as well as strategies for success in the North.

Halina said some of the challenges these teachers will face include isolation, being far away from family and friends, not having Internet access, the high price of food in the fly-in communities as well as culture shock.

"You add all of those things together and it can become quite overwhelming," she said.

But that's where Teach for Canada comes in. Halina said their program is specifically designed to help prepare teachers from all kinds of backgrounds to succeed in these communities.

"We want our teachers to understand First Nations history, First Nations culture," she said.

Halina admits recruiting teachers has been a challenge.

"It is a little bit more challenging, however, we're still able to find really good, phenomenal teachers to go North," she said.

Selkirk's sense of community impresses Communities in Bloom judges

By Lindsey Enns

Volunteers and organizations working together to make Selkirk a better place to live, work and play impressed this year's Communities in Bloom judges during their tour of the city last week.

"The way the City of Selkirk is working together and the community pride ... how businesses, institutions, volunteers are constantly working together in partnership is just the way a community should be," said Diane Banash, one of this year's Communities in Bloom Manitoba judges. "The purpose of the Communities in Bloom program is to achieve clean, green, sustainable community fostering community pride. Well, Selkirk is doing exactly that."

Communities in Bloom judges toured roughly 20 locations during their tour of Selkirk last Thursday. Some of the stops along the way included the City of Selkirk's new wastewater treatment plant location, the Selkirk Rec Complex's soccer and baseball fields, the Selkirk Mental Health Centre grounds, the Gaynor Family Regional Library, Red Feather Farm, the Marine Museum of Manitoba as well as the new Pollinator Park located along the edge of Selkirk Park.

Banash said one of the highlights for her was the one-hour tour of the Selkirk Regional Health Centre.

"It's the sustainable planting, the perennials, they're breath taking," the East Selkirk resident said. "And how it benefits the patients and the staff."

Banash said she also liked how the hospital's grounds are open to the public to explore.

"A gem like that to be able to share it with the citizens of Selkirk is great," she said.

Kelley Liebrecht, a first time judge for Communities in Bloom Manitoba, said she really enjoyed the experience.

"I'm enjoying seeing all the different levels of community ... all those working together and sitting down, that is really awesome to see," the Lac du Bonnet resident said.

Selkirk Mayor Larry Johannson said he wanted to thank the local Communities in Bloom committee, the volunteers and sponsors for all they do to make the city a better place.

"Selkirk is a smaller city but it's a unique city in that there's a lot of pride to it," Johannson said during a luncheon for the Communities in Bloom tour at the Gordon Howard Centre last Thursday. "We're being looked at by other communities as leaders and that in itself is very heartwarming for us on council."

Banash also wanted to stress that Communities in Bloom isn't just about gardening and landscaping.

"It's all about community and working together," she said.

During their visit, Communities in Bloom judges look at things such as community involvement, community engagement, floral displays, landscaping, heritage preservation, environmental action and overall tidiness. The scores are then tallied up to yield a bloom rating out of five.

Last year, Selkirk received it's second five bloom rating during the 19th annual Manitoba Communities in Bloom Conference and Awards ceremony for a second consecutive year.

This year's scores will be unveiled during the 20th annual conference and awards on Sept. 7 and Sept. 8 in the Town of Morris.

Community Living Selkirk looking to make their spaces more accessible

By Justin Luschinski

Community Living Selkirk is taking steps to make their spaces more accessible to everyone, but they need your support.

The organization is moving into the first phase of their renovation project, where they will add things like accessible ramps and washrooms to their Community Threads store in Selkirk. The upgrades will allow them to accommodate 17 more clients as well as open the space up to residents and visitors with mobility issues.

Executive Director Maria Freeman says the improvements would benefit everyone in the city.

"We have two ladies, who are part of our skill learning workshops, that can't enter the building. Some of our (clients) have mobility issues, so they can't attend a class if it's in the basement," Freeman said. "These improvements will make it better for everyone checking out the store, we believe all of our locations should be accessible, so we can assist the most people we possibly can."

Phase 1 involves adding ramps to the Community Threads entrance as well as widening the doorway to fit baby strollers or wheelchairs. They will also be looking to widen the store itself, allowing for more space between the aisles, and adding accessible washrooms that will be available to the public.

The project will mostly be funded through grants or fundraising efforts, as the organization only receives funding towards its programs, not to improve its buildings. They will also be looking for support from other organizations, such as Homes for the Holidays.

Merilee Mollard, Homes for the Holidays co-chair, said Community Living is an important organization for Selkirk, and the need for it is always growing.

"I think we all have someone in our lives who has mobility issues. Until you face those issues yourself, you take it for granted," Mollard said. "The need for the program continues to grow, and when people donate, they know it produces a positive effect in the community."

Currently, the program has a wait list of around 25 people. Phase 2 of the project would add an elevator leading to the second floor of the building, and Phase 3 involves creating acces-

Safe boating council launches Operation Dry Water

Staff

With summer boating season in high gear and the August long weekend right around the corner, the Canadian Safe Boating Council (CSBC) wants to remind you that boating and drinking don't mix.

While drinking and boating accounts for approximately 40 per cent of boating-related fatalities on Canadian waterways, in Manitoba the number is 64 per cent. In 2018, the CSBC along with their enforcement and search and rescue agencies are also concerned about the potential impact of legalization of recreational marijuana and the increase in use and abuse of prescription narcotics on boating incidents and fatalities.

To raise awareness and reduce impairment-related deaths, the CSBC is launching year six of an initiative called "Operation Dry Water" with its goal of stressing the importance of boating sober.

Combined with sun, wind, waves and the rocking motion of the boat, the effects of alcohol and drugs on the water can be greatly increased.

"Each year I look at the new drowning reports, a common trend appears; Boating is a significant contributor to drownings, and the majority had alcohol as a factor in those deaths," Lifesaving Society – Mb Branch Acting CEO Kevin Tordiffe stated in a release on Monday. "Please, this year let's all make an effort to reduce these numbers; boat sober, wear a lifejacket and maybe this year, if you see someone boating and drinking, don't stay silent."

"Summer is all about having fun, and being out on the water is one great way to do that," RCMP Sgt. Bob Chabot added. "However, that fun can come to a crashing halt if someone gets seriously injured or dies because of a decision to boat while impaired. The RCMP will be out on the water during Operation Dry Water to help keep it safe, which will keep it fun."

Federal statutes dictate that boaters can be charged with Impaired Operation of a Vessel under the Criminal Code of Canada if they are found to be impaired. Under current and proposed legislation, human-powered craft are not excluded from the definition of a vessel and, so, are subject to the same penalties. Some provinces have enacted legislation where impaired boating can affect your automobile driving privileges.

Operation Dry Water is aimed at reducing the number of impairment-related accidents and fatalities on the water while fostering a stronger and more visible deterrent to alcohol and drug use while boating. The end goal? To achieve safer and more enjoyable recreational boating.

For additional information on boating safety visit csbc.ca under "CSBC Safety Campaigns."

Manitoba launches crime reduction incentive program for police agencies

Submitted

The Manitoba government is seeking innovative proposals through a provincial incentive program to invest $500,000 from the proceeds of crime fund for police agencies to reduce crime across the province, Justice Minister Heather Stefanson announced last week.

"Our government is taking a proactive approach to reducing crime in our communities," said Stefanson. "This competition is designed to get new ideas from the experts in crime reduction – our front-line police officers."

The fund is comprised of forfeited funds from federally-prosecuted Criminal Code offences. While the general criteria for the fund is much broader, the program announced today will focus on police agencies with innovative ideas to address Manitoba's historically high crime rates, said Stefanson.

To support the advancement of these ideas, a working group will develop the guidelines, application process and evaluation criteria. The application period is expected to open later this summer.

Modelled after the recent Transformation Capital Fund competition within the civil service, all proposals must provide a realistic return on investment by showing how they will reduce crime. This approach focuses public service investments on initiatives that drive outcomes, the minister noted.

This $500,000 crime reduction incentive program complements additional investments of nearly $100,000 this year from the federal proceeds of crime fund on initiatives designed to make Manitobans safer, including nearly $30,000 for a province-wide gun amnesty in June.

Selkirk residents teaming up for Slo-Pitch 4 A Wish

By Justin Luschinski

Aiden Kushner, a nine-year-old boy who was born with multiple heart conditions, got a chance to go to Disney World. Now, he's hoping to help other children achieve their dreams.

Kushner will be raising money for the Children's Wish Foundation of Manitoba through QX104's second annual Slo-Pitch 4 A Wish in September. The inaugural event held in September 2017 raised more than $65,000 and helped make wishes come true for children across Manitoba.

Kushner will be participating in the tournament, along with a few other Selkirk residents, to help make wishes come true for other struggling children.

Lisa Goetz, a Selkirk resident who plays baseball with Aiden's parents, knew the struggles that Kushner went through, and decided to help him raise money for other children.

"We were listening to QX104 last year, and there was a commercial

"IT WAS AMAZING FOR HIM. AIDEN WAS VERY HAPPY THAT HIS FAMILY WAS ABLE TO JOIN HIM ON THIS JOURNEY."

for (the slow-pitch tournament). We knew Aiden's wish was just granted, so we felt that this was a great tournament to attend," Goetz said. "We saw how happy Aiden was after getting his wish granted, so we would love to see many more children feel as happy as he did."

Kushner was born with multiple heart complications, including a hole in his heart, and required extensive surgery to live. He was able to go to Disney World and participate in Jedi Training, thanks to the Children's Wish Foundation. Goetz, along with her husband Rod, entered the tournament with Kushner in 2017.

Last year, the teams had to raise a minimum of $1,000. This year, Team Aiden is looking to raise $1,500.

Rod Goetz said going to Disney World made Kushner feel better about his surgery.

"It was amazing for him. Aiden was very happy that his family was able to join him on this journey. Ever since he came back, he became more comfortable with his (surgery scars) and wasn't embarrassed for other people to see (them)," Rod said.

This year's Slo-Pitch 4 A Wish event will once again be held at John Blumberg Softball Complex on Sept. 14 to 16. The event will be hosted by the QX104 staff and will include Slo-Pitch action, a kid zone, celebrity game and a Saturday night concert featuring Doc Walker, The Washboard Union, David James, Jojo Mason, Petric and Leanne Pearson.

Reeling in some summer fishing stories

Hi gang.

Shuffling through the drifts of Zebra Mussel shells along the shore of Grand Marais I could see a family sitting in chairs by the water with their long fishing rods pointed to the sky. Lake Winnipeg was placid and low, very low. I noticed they had cast their baited hooks far out for deeper water as I approached them. "Hi," I called out to a chap who seemed to be the father. His short, curly light brown hair was streaked with white, his quick and light hearted manner spoke of a man at one with his surroundings. He rose from his chair extending his hand saying, "Rory Jones; you're Arnie, how's it going?" We shook hands as he introduced me to his fiancée, Wendy and daughters Angela and Emily who greeted me with warm smiles. "Well," I said, "it would be going really great if you had a story for your fishing brothers and sisters." I could tell he was thinking as we commenced idle conversation about playing around water when we were kids. Then his eyes lit up. He told of a time when he was about 10 years old, he and a school buddy used to go to the local store and buy loose knit cheese-cloth then wade into the water knee deep and holding the cloth between them would walk forward catching minnows for bait. Other times he said, when friends and family needed more minnows, they would get longer lengths of the cloth and with a number of folks holding the netting under water in the shape of a big horseshoe with the "legs" toward shore; others would walk into the water between the "legs" slapping the surface scaring the minnows into the net. Then the net handlers would drag it to shore full of jumping minnows.

I thanked Rory for his stories and on my way home stopped at Lockport where I met Ray Lester from Winnipeg. He was bending over the guard rail reeling up a nice bass as I arrived. When I asked him if Lockport was his favorite place to fish his sense of humor kicked in as he said, "It is now!"

Last Friday I had the pleasure of meeting a couple of good sports on the Hecla village pier. The warm sun washed the smooth light grey deck of the pier as I strode toward a guy and gal in chairs, their fishing rods in holders. I called out, "I don't see a string over the side of the pier holding some fish." "No, nothing," the guy with well developed muscles, a rugged face and grey mustache returned. Soon at their side I handed them my card. He looked at it smiling, "I guess you want a story. We've got one and it's kind of about fishing. I'm Rick Buffie and this is my wife Janet. We're from Selkirk." His ready, casual way of talking made it easy to listen to him. There was something about him though, he moved and talked like an athlete. I also couldn't help catching a familiar knowing glance he cast across the water at Black Island occasionally. He went into their story as Janet, his wife, a pleasant lady with light brown hair sat by his side offering extra bits of their experience. Rick began. Years ago when they were about to be married he bought two raffle tickets for prizes at a local store in Selkirk. Rick, being a considerate fellow, made out one ticket for Janet with her soon to be married last name on it. She won! They got a call to come pick up her prize of a boat, motor and trailer! That's right, hers! They were beside themselves with joy. They drove to the store and before them in the parking lot stood a beautiful new gleaming white trailer carrying a sparkling blue and white boat with a shiny black motor perched on the back of the boat. I stood beside Rick and Janet watching the warmth in their eyes as they went back in their minds to that wonderful moment. Again I noticed Rick looking out at Black Island with that faint smile on his face. He returned to their story laughing as he exclaimed that for thirty years, every time he wanted to take the boat to go fishing, he had to ask Janet for permission! I couldn't hold my curiosity back any longer. "Rick," I implored, "what is it about Black Island that seems important to you?" "Well, you see Arnie" he explained, "when I was a kid I worked at the silicon plant in Selkirk and that sand came from Black Island over there. It was my job to handle these big bags for fill-up as the sand came down a chute. If you didn't pull the chutes closing trap door at the right second you got a face full of sand dust! Till next week, so-long friends.

Options For Youth Program forced to close due to lack of funding source

By Justin Luschinski

The Options For Youth Program in Selkirk will shut its doors this Friday for good following the federal government's decision now to renew funding for the program.

The program provided job skills and work opportunities to youth who faced barriers in the workplace, such as people who struggled in school.

Todd Launder, who has been running the program for 17 years, said he wonders who else will give these young adults a chance.

"Where are they going to go? There are some real issues in this community, there's people with addiction, mental health issues, many of whom find stable work through this program," Launder said. "Who's going to employ someone like that? How are they going to get that chance?"

Launder added some youth face a lot of challenges when entering the workplace. Some of his clients come from northern communities, where it's hard to verify someone's work history. The program also helps single mothers, who have large gaps in their work history from raising children.

Selkirk-Interlake-Eastman MP James Bezan said he's disappointed the federal government decided not to continue funding the program.

"Providing structured opportunities for work experience and skill development in entry level trade, construction and retail positions is critical in the promotion of a strong economy in (Selkirk)," Bezan said in a statement. "These work placements are vital in assisting our youth to successfully gain employment and encourage them to pursue educational opportunities."

Kildonan-St.Paul MP MaryAnn Mihychuk said they were not able to fund every applicant this year.

"This year, as in previous years, applications for Youth Employment Strategy funding were competitive and those that best met national and local priorities were selected," Mihychuk said in an emailed statement.

She added since being elected, the Liberal government has approved 500 Skills Link projects.

"This means over 35,000 vulnerable youth across the country are getting the opportunity to develop their skills and gain valuable work experience," she said. "Each year, the Government invests more than $330 million through the Youth Employment Strategy to help young people gain the skills and experience they need to find and keep good jobs."

According to Launder, he found out that the funding for the local program would be discontinued in 2016, but he was holding out hope that they would find another source of income. He said applying for federal funding used to be done through a provincial administrator, but now it's decided by a federal administrator.

With more competition from programs in other provinces, Launder said it was harder for him to find funding.

East St. Paul receives over $94K towards Dutch elm disease management

Staff

The RM of East St. Paul received $94,835 from the Province's Dutch Elm Disease Management Program last Wednesday to support the RM's efforts to control the disease.

East St. Paul Mayor Shelley Hart, along with Couns. Orest Horechko and Charles Posthumus, were on hand to receive the funding from MLA Ron Schuler during the announcement at Hyland Provincial Park.

"Since 1975, our province has been fighting to stop the spread of Dutch Elm Disease," Hart stated in a release last week. "East St. Paul has one of the largest number of Elm trees in the Capital Region and their importance to our community cannot be understated. Our thanks to the Province of Manitoba and our MLA, Minister Ron Schuler, for their continued financial support for this important work."

Gamble re-elected as mayor of Dunnottar

By Lindsey Enns

Village of Dunnottar residents voted to re-elect Rick Gamble for a fifth term as mayor during the lake side community's municipal election last Friday.

Gamble garnered 521 votes while Margaret Anderson, who was also running for the mayor's chair, received 139 votes, according to election results posted to the village's website on Monday.

Gamble said he's looking forward to another term as mayor adding "we've got some items that we're hoping to accomplish and now we can."

Gamble said council and administration spent much of his last term drafting a community sustainability plan, which was funded through all three levels of government. He said they will be unveiling the plan to the public during an event at the Matlock Recreation Centre on Saturday, Aug. 25. More details will be posted to the village's website, dunnottar.ca, prior to the event he added.

"It's sort of a plan we had working groups made up of residents put forward their hopes for the future of the community," Gamble said, adding it will be a first for the community.

Gamble said it's still too early to tell if he plans to seek a sixth term as mayor during the next election.

"What I've enjoyed the most is mainly the number of people that you get to meet," he said regarding being the community's mayor. "I've developed lots of good friendships over the years."

All four previous council members were also re-elected including David Oberding with 512 votes, Bob Campbell with 498 votes, Rosalyn Howard with 472 votes and Jim Kotowich with 369 votes. Whitney Klaassen was also running for a council position and garnered 320 votes.

Athlete starts birthday fitness challenge for a healthy Lake Winnipeg

Submitted

John Sawchuk is swimming, cycling and running his way to his 70th birthday to draw attention to the health and fitness of people, and the health and fitness of Lake Winnipeg.

John's goal is to complete 777 kilometres of swimming, biking and running in just 28 days. He began his journey on July 26 and plans to finish on Aug. 21, his birthday. He is also using his challenge to raise funds for the Lake Winnipeg Foundation (LWF).

John lives in Winnipeg and cottages at Wanasing Beach.

"My dad built the cabin that my wife and I now own. Our summers have been spent swimming, sailing, boating, water-skiing, fishing and just enjoying the beach. Our children, grandchildren, relatives and friends have also enjoyed cottage life there. However, the health and fitness of Lake Winnipeg has declined significantly over the years, and will continue to do so unless changes are made," he says. "In tackling my endurance challenge, I hope that others reflect on their own health and fitness and what can be done to maintain and improve it. I also want to increase the awareness of the condition of our Lake Winnipeg, and what can be done to help its health and fitness."

John has been physically active his entire life. In the late 1980s he began running marathons and in 2005 he completed his first triathlon; he has since participated in approximately 40 triathlons, including the 2014 International Triathlon Union World Championships in Edmonton.

The Purejohn70 Challenge will consist of four-day segments each totaling 111 km, repeated seven times as follows:

- Day 1: Swim 1 km
- Day 2: Cycle 100 km
- Day 3: Run 10 km

• Day 4: Rest

"John's challenge is a fitting tribute to Lake Winnipeg," says Alexis Kanu, LWF's executive director. "Meaningful change requires sustained commitment, even when the challenges seem daunting. I'm encouraged to see a lake-lover making the connection between his personal actions and our collective responsibility for the health of this vibrant, living ecosystem."

The Purejohn70 Challenge online fundraising campaign has launched and John's goal is to raise $7,777 in donations. Supporters are encouraged to make a special 70th-birthday donation – for every $70 donation received, LWF will send John a birthday card. Online donations can be made through the Purejohn70 Challenge CanadaHelps page, www.canadahelps.org/en/dn/35800.

The Purejohn70 Challenge will take place at various locations in Winnipeg and around Lake Winnipeg. More information is available on the Purejohn70 Challenge Facebook page – including updates on planned routes for supporters interested in swimming, cycling or running with John for all or part of a challenge segment.

RCMP traffic stops leads to largest marijuana seizure in Canada

Staff

A traffic stop along a busy highway in Westhawk, Man. lead to the largest marijuana seizure in Canada last month.

On July 22 a RCMP officer on traffic patrol stopped a commercial semi-trailer on the Trans-Canada Highway at Westhawk. The stop was initiated to conduct a regulatory inspection of the driver's paperwork.

When the officer stopped this vehicle and checked the driver's paperwork, several discrepancies were discovered. The load was then examined by several officers in order to try and resolve those discrepancies. When the officers opened the trailer, they found 925 pounds of vacuum-packaged marijuana as well as 75 pounds of cannabis shatter, oils, and edibles hidden among the legitimate load of food products. The driver of the vehicle was arrested; the drugs and the semi-trailer were seized.

Claudiu Huber, 46, from Agassiz, BC, is charged with Possession for the Purpose of Trafficking and Trafficking a Controlled Substance. He has been released pending a future court date.

The semi-trailer load originated in lower mainland, BC, and was destined for southern Ontario.

This seizure is the largest marijuana seizure through a traffic stop in Canada since 2015.

RCMP warn of email extortion scam

Submitted

RCMP in Manitoba have started to receive reports of a cyber-extortion where suspects are sending emails to victims that reference a real password.

The email states the suspect has infected the victim's computer with a virus that has allowed the suspect to control the webcam. The suspect threatens to release a video of the victim taken while they were watching pornography to the victim's contact list. If the victim pays a certain amount in Bitcoin, then the suspect will not release the video. This is a scam that has been around for a while. The suspects do not have video of the victims, and victims should not be afraid to report this crime to the police.

If you have received this email, or any similar emails, DO NOT PAY and make sure you report it to the police so we are aware of the scams targeting our communities. Also report the incident to the Canadian Anti-Fraud Centre.

Service in Brokenhead Ojibway Nation helps honour veteran's mother

By Justin Luschinski

After years of struggle and hardship, Melvin Swan has finally been able to honour his mother.

Swan, who served with the Canadian Armed Forces for 12 years, held a memorial service for his mother, Mary Emma Jane Swan, on July 13 in Brokenhead First Nation. Swan's mother died in 2007, but he didn't have the means to conduct the service until now.

Swan said the service was not just a way to honour his mother's life, but also a way to help him move on.

"My mother gave me life, as I look in the mirror every day, I see a reflection of my mother, and also my father," Swan said. "To reflect on my life and career today, is to see her hard work, their compassion, the pride and dignity that I possess came from my mother.

"It's part of my healing journey, we have come full circle in life. In a way, when I'm honouring her, I'm also honouring myself. My job is done."

Swan said he originally planned a service for his mother in 2007, but some of his friends who were helping him organize it ran off with his money.

Swan said it was important that the service included Christian practices, to honour his mother's way of life.

"She was loving, kind, and she always made me feel like a little kid," Swan said. "I feel peaceful, because I know her spirit lives on through me."

Swan said his mother's headstone was designed by Everlasting Memorials located in West St. Paul.

Canada's new $10 bill sheds light on history of historic human rights story

Submitted by The Bank of Canada

Canada's upcoming $10 bank note, which depicts social justice defender Viola Desmond, tells a story of human rights.

The new note, which will be issued in late 2018, is the first in Canada to have a vertical design and features images and symbols that represent the country's ongoing pursuit of rights and freedoms.

At the heart of the note is portrait subject Viola Desmond, the first Canadian woman to be featured on a regularly circulating bank note. Desmond, a successful Black businesswoman, was jailed, convicted and fined for defiantly refusing to leave a whites-only area of a movie theatre in 1946. Her court case is one of the first known legal challenges against racial segregation brought forth by a Black woman in Canada. Desmond is also the first portrait subject to be nominated by Canadians, following an open call in 2016 to identify an iconic Canadian woman to appear on the next redesigned bank note. She was ultimately selected by Finance Minister Bill Morneau for her courageous stand for equality and justice.

Next to Desmond's portrait is an artistic rendering of a map of the historic North End of Halifax, the community where she lived and owned and operated her beauty school and salon. The community served as a source of invaluable support as Desmond challenged her criminal conviction.

The back of the upcoming bank note carries Desmond's story into the present with an image of the Canadian Museum for Human Rights—the first museum in the world solely dedicated to the evolution, celebration and future of human rights. The museum, which opened in Winnipeg, Manitoba, in 2014, houses a permanent exhibit dedicated to Viola Desmond's story.

The bank note also features the Museum's iconic ramps that appear to criss-cross each other, symbolizing the history of human rights in Canada and in the world—a history full of setbacks and contradictions, but characterized nonetheless by strength and hope.

Also appearing on the back of the note is an eagle feather to illustrate the ongoing journey toward recognizing rights and freedoms for Indigenous Peoples in Canada. For many First Nations peoples in Canada, the eagle is believed to fly higher and see further than any other bird, and an eagle feather symbolizes ideals such as truth, power and freedom. The colour-shifting feather is one of several enhanced security features included on this new note.

As with the previous series of polymer bank notes, the new $10 note features a large transparent window as a key security feature. The window showcases a metallic rendering of the vaulted dome ceiling of the Library of Parliament in Ottawa. Capped by arched windows that flood the room with natural light, the Library of Parliament is a stunning example of Gothic Revival architecture and acts as a storehouse of knowledge to help shape Canada's laws.

Completing the new note's human rights and social justice theme is a laurel leaf pattern, an ancient symbol of justice, found in the bottom right corner on the back of the note.

Cook time: 30 minutes
Servings: 8
1 box (16 ounces) gemelli pasta
4 cups water
2 1/2 cups sharp cheddar cheese, shredded, divided
1/2 cup (2 ounces) Pecorino Romano cheese, grated

1 tablespoon corn starch
1 can (5 ounces) evaporated milk
1 jar (24 ounces) RAGÚ Simply Traditional Pasta Sauce
2 teaspoons cracked black pepper
In large pot, combine pasta and water. Cook over medium-high heat 20-22 minutes, or until pasta is done, stirring occasionally.
In bowl, combine 2 cups cheddar cheese, Pecorino Romano cheese and corn starch. Reduce heat to medium; stir milk, cheese mixture and sauce together with cooked pasta. Cook 5-7 minutes, or until cheese is melted and mixture is thickened, stirring frequently.

Pirates win PeeWee 'AAA' city championship

By Brian Bowman

The North Winnipeg Pirates already had a guaranteed spot in this week's PeeWee "AAA" baseball provincials as the host team.

But the Pirates earned their spot at the provincials - in dramatic fashion - by winning the city championship last week.

North Winnipeg defeated Bonivital 11-10 in an extra inning in Game 3 of their best-of-three final series last Thursday at the Sunova Centre in West St. Paul.

North Winnipeg battled back from a 7-0 deficit after just two innings.

"We kind of came out, I don't want to say gun-shy, but we didn't seem like we were ready to go," said Pirates' head coach Donnie Smith. "We made a bunch of errors early and were down 7-0 after the second inning.

"But we stuck it out and picked away at it and slowly got ourselves back in the game."

The Pirates tied the game in the bottom of the seventh inning and then Andrew Hladun scored the winning run on a balk in the extra inning.

North Winnipeg showed a ton of character pulling off the wild comeback win.

"It was gritty," Smith said. "It was good to see we didn't quit, we kept going. From the beginning of the season until now, it's a totally different team. We went on a pretty good streak there for about a whole month and did very well at two tournaments."

North Winnipeg forced a deciding game in the series after a dominating 20-7 win on July 24.

Bonivital opened the series with a 7-5 victory on July 22.

"The loss wasn't the end of the world," Smith insisted. "We actually had the winning run at the plate. One hit would have tied it."

North Winnipeg will now quickly turn its attention to the 10-team provincials, which will begin tomorrow and continue through Sunday at the Sunova Centre in West St. Paul.

The Pirates will play pool games Friday against Oildome (11:15 a.m.) and South Central (6:45 p.m.).

On Saturday, North Winnipeg will battle Carillon (11:15 a.m.) and Winnipeg South (6:45 p.m.).

The Pirates, which are real good offensively this season, match up well with the other clubs in their pool.

Playoff games will be played Sunday at 10:15 a.m. (tie-breaker, if necessary), 12:15 p.m. and 4:15 p.m.

North Winnipeg should have an advantage with being able to sleep in their own beds as the host team.

"It doesn't hurt us," Smith agreed. "But we have to come out and play good ball.

"It will be a busy week for our parent group. Obviously, to run a tournament like this it takes a huge amount of effort with volunteers.

"I'm hoping for a good turnout with the crowds and good weather. It should be a good experience for everybody."

Collings ties for fourth at senior men's golf championship

Carman's Bruce North led from start to finish on his home course at last week's Manitoba Senior Men's Golf Championship.

North fired an opening-round 68 and followed that up with a 71 and 75 to finish at 1-over 214.

That was five strokes better than Minot's Randy Westby and nine ahead of Winnipeg's Mike Walker.

Matlock's Garth Collings and Winnipeg's William Parker finished tied for fourth, each at 12-over 225.

Collings carded rounds of 76, 73, and 76.

The provincial team that will represent Manitoba at the National Senior Men's Championship from Aug. 6-9 in Bathurst, N.B. are Collings, Walker and another player to be announced at a later date.

Meanwhile, Winnipeg's Rhonda Orr pulled out a two-stroke victory over Winnipeg's Tammy Gibson at the Manitoba Senior Women's Golf Championship last week in Carman.

Orr shot an 80 during Wednesday's final round while Gibson had an 82.

Off finished the 54-hole event at 23-over 239.

Stonewall's Barb Lafleche finished third at 32-over 248. She carded rounds of 82, 82 and 84.

Rounding out the top five were Winnipeg's Matty Leung and Geraldton's Karen Saarimaki, both finishing at 36-over 252.

The provincial team that will represent Manitoba at the National Senior Women's Championship from Aug. 28-30 in Fonthill, Ont. will be Orr, Gibson and Gail Kennedy.

The Blizzard won Game 1 of the series 11-9, overcoming a 6-5 deficit after the second period.

Manitoba then blasted Saskatchewan 23-3 on Sunday.

The 21U Women's Invitational Baseball Championship fast approaching

By Patti Hacault

It is a remarkable tribute to Baseball Manitoba's Fiftieth Anniversary Year to be hosts of a Canadian National event in Manitoba at a premier venue.

The team players are honing their skills and organizers are putting finishing touches to the second phase of the 21U Women's Invitational Baseball Championship.

The August 9-12 tournament will be held at the Fines Field in Stonewall under the organizations of a dedicated committee in partnership with Baseball Canada and Manitoba Baseball, along with the Town of Stonewall.

This tournament represents so much more than just playing baseball. It is creating opportunities for young women, creating an initiative, and encouraging women to set their goals high and be willing to work hard to achieve their dreams. It is also a stepping stone for our players to gain exposure on the national stage and the Canadian Women's Baseball teams.

This year the tournament will host teams from Nova Scotia, Ontario, Quebec, Saskatchewan, and Manitoba.

Admission for the weekend includes: Day Pass - Adults $10 / Students and Seniors - $5, and Weekend Pass - Adults $25 / Students and Seniors - $15. Children under five are free.

The opening ceremonies will be held on Thurs., Aug. 9 at 6 p.m. Along with the parade of athletes, umpires and officials, the opening ceremonies will include local fiddler Brenton Thorvaldsen, playing during the opening ceremonies.

Team Toba team players include: Amber Baker (Strathclair), Brittney Langlais (Garson), Caitlin Wilkinson (Eddystone), Caitlin Culleton (Vassar), Mikayla Nordman (Winnipeg), Jade Ledochowski (Teulon), Lauren Bray (Ste. Rose), Olivia Sheldon (Ste. Rose), Jamie Johnson (Arborg), Laura Kilbrei (Arborg), Sarah Moir (Winnipeg), Megan Humeniuk (Stonewall), Zoe Hicks (Boissevain) and Jacey Ledochowski (Teulon).

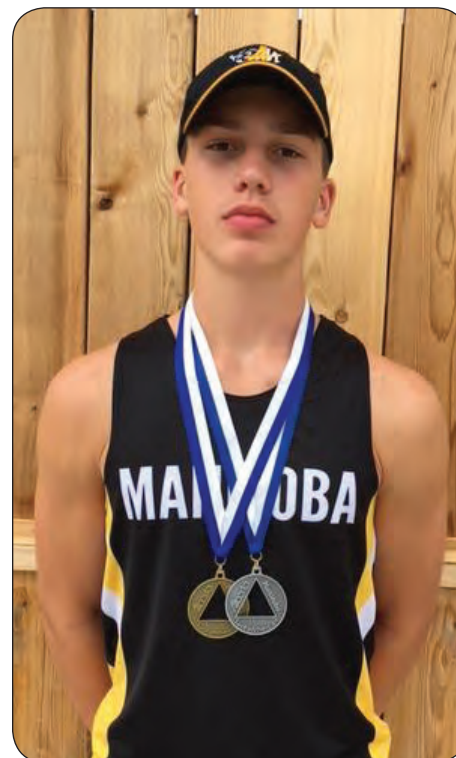

The coaching staff consists of Jeremy Culleton (head coach), Marc Bissonnette (assistant coach) and Jason Miller, Executive Director of Baseball Manitoba.

Track and field excellence at Canadians

All three of the Lockport Lancer athletes representing Manitoba made the podium at the Western Canadian Tri Provincial Track and Field Championships in Sherwood Park, Alta. last weekend.

Benjamin Olafson, left, won gold and set a new provincial record in the 16U boys' four kg hammer throw. He also earned a bronze in the shot put.

Morgan Lenchuk, middle, won a bronze and set a personal best with her three kg 14U hammer throw.

Rylan Van Kooten tied for first and won gold in the 16U boys' high jump. He also took home a silver in the triple jump.

Local players strike ball-hockey gold in New Brunswick

Staff

The three local players significantly contributed to a U15 Division "A" gold-medal win for Team Manitoba at the Canadian Junior Ball Hockey Nationals in Fredericton N.B. last Sunday.

Nate Goodbrandson, Ryland Kuczek and Cole Plowman led Manitoba to a 5-2 win over the Withrow Park Knights in the gold-medal game.

Goodbrandson scored two goals in the game while Kuczek had an assist.

Plowman stopped 14 shots for the win.

In the elimination-round Saturday, Manitoba won their semifinal match-up against the "A" Pool's second-place team, New Tecumseth Xtreme, 5-3 to earn a berth into the final.

Kuczek scored a power-play goal into an empty net with the Xtreme goalie pulled for an extra attacker.

The Manitoba Grasshoppers finished first in Pool "B" with five points after going 2-0-1 during round-robin play.

In Manitoba's first game at the nationals, the Grasshoppers overcame a 3-0 deficit to tie the Guelph Cyclones

3-3 last Thursday.

Plowman made 16 saves in the game. On Friday, Manitoba blanked the B.C. Wolverines 3-0.

Plowman stopped 15 shots for the shutout.

Manitoba then made it two wins in a row after edging the Newfoundland Selects 4-3.

Goodbrandson scored a shorthanded goal in the first period to open the game's scoring.

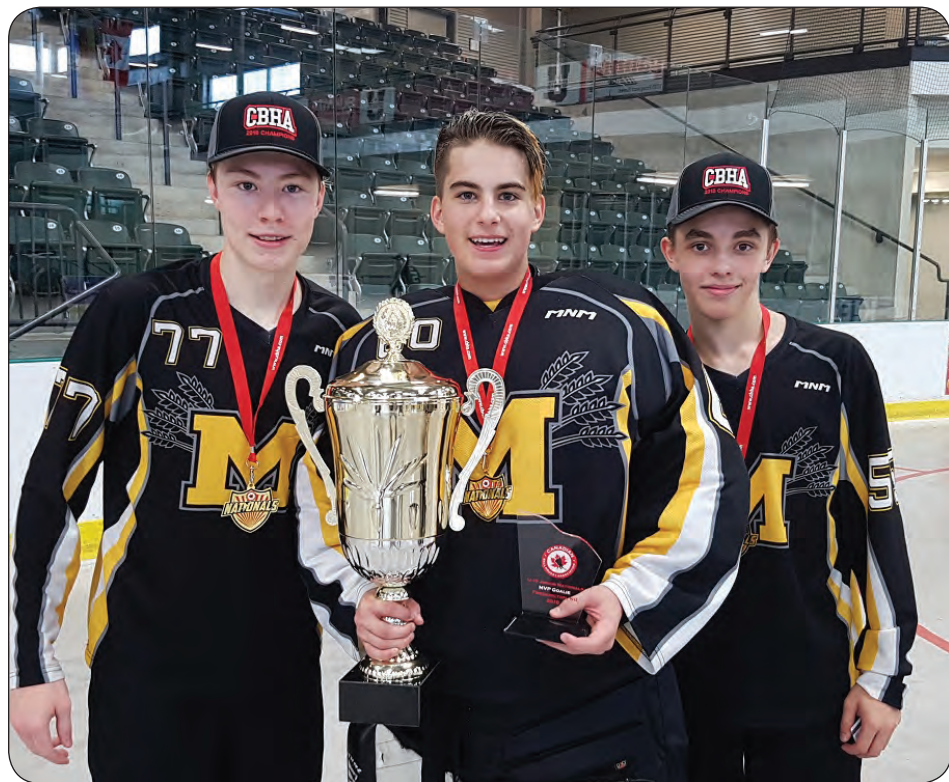

Plowman earned the win in goal although the shots on goal weren't listed on the tournament website.

Goodbrandson had four points in five tournament games while Kuczek finished with three points.

Kuczek was also named player of the game in the final.

Plowman, meanwhile, was named the U15 most valuable goaltender, posting a 2.20 goals-against average in five games.

The three local players were also City and Provincial champions with the Winnipeg Hawks "AAA" Bantam ice-hockey team this past season.

Pirates 1-2 at Midget 'AAA' baseball provincials

By Brian Bowman

There will be no return trip to the nationals this year for the North Winnipeg Pirates Midget "AAA" baseball team.

North Winnipeg finished with a 1-2 record at last weekend's provincials in south Winnipeg.

"We're a little disappointed because I thought we could have done better," said Pirates' head coach Gary Dear. "We had our chances."

North Winnipeg began action Friday evening with a tough 3-2 loss to South Central.

The Pirates scored both of their runs in the bottom of the seventh inning. North Winnipeg had runners on second and third with two outs in the seventh but could not bring in the tying run.

Nathan Slaby pitched a great game for North Winnipeg in the losing cause.

"Unfortunately, we couldn't give him any run support," Dear lamented.

Losing that first game of the provincials in such close fashion was a tough way to start.

"It's so hard when you start off with that loss because now you're changing your pitching rotation," Dear explained.

North Winnipeg was then defeated

12-7 by Winnipeg South on Saturday morning. The Pirates trailed 3-0 after the first inning but battled back to take a 5-3 lead.

Winnipeg South rebounded, however, to score five runs in an inning to take an 8-5 lead.

The Pirates showed no quit in their next game Saturday afternoon, out-slugging Pembina Hills 11-10.

"It makes you feel a little bit better when your one win came against a team that was in the finals," Dear said.

Pembina Hills reached the final where they lost 6-3 to Bonivital.

Pembina Hills will now advance to the westerns in north Vancouver while Bonivital will head off to the nationals in Fort McMurray.

Despite the 1-2 record at provincials, this was a real good season for the Pirates.

"I thought we had a great year," Dear said. "North Winnipeg has never finished first in the Midget league before. That was something nice for us to do."

On an individual note, North Winnipeg has four players - Ty Smith, Christian Ingram, Liam Allen and Davis Fenske - that will represent Manitoba at the Baseball Canada Cup 17U nationals in Moncton from Aug. 8-12.

Clifford James Oliver Monkman a.k.a O.C.

January 28, 1936 – July 22, 2018

Suddenly, on July 22, Oliver decided that enough is enough, packed up his tools and he left.

Oliver was born in Selkirk and born to build. All his life he built houses, sheds, etc. because that was his passion. Even as he was sick, he would be measuring his next project on paper to build, and estimating the cost of materials. After a long hard working day he would sit back and have some refreshments. In the past, Oliver had his construction company, Monkman Builders Ltd. and employed others. A lot of houses were built. He left behind his legacy. He was a hard and busy worker.

Oliver is survived by his partner/wife, of 48 years, Patricia; and their children and grandchildren.

As well as his children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren from a previous marriage.

Oliver was predeceased by his father Ernest Monkman, his mother Elizabeth (nee Kipling), and his son John.

Families would like to thank Tudor House and all their staff for the wonderful care that they gave our loved one Oliver. Thanks to Thomson Funeral Home for their care of Oliver, guidance and understanding through this difficult period.

According to his will and wishes, cremation has taken place and no funeral will be held.

We will miss Oliver dearly, but he once stated a few times, "When I go, I will build for God's angels, if he hires me!"

OBITUARY

Stella Mazur
(nee Radchuk)

It is with sadness we announce the unexpected passing of Stella at the age of 81, on July 24th, 2018 at the Concordia Hospital with Lori by her side.

Predeceased by her husband Edward in 1997 after 40 years of marriage and son Gordon in 1985 at the age of 20. Survived by her daughter Lori (Claude); granddaughters, Shealyn (Devin), Kerianne (Tyler) and Cassily-Baba's cookie baker/chauffer; brother John (Cecilia); sisters Grace and Vera (Ed) as well as many nieces, nephews and old friends.

She was also predeceased by her parents Mike and Mary; brothers Bill, Ben and Peter; sisters Anne (Phillip) and Nellie; and nephew Ryan.

Stella was born February 15, 1937 in Swan Plain, Sask. In 1957, she moved to Winnipeg, met and married her husband Edward and they lived on the Mazur Family Farm in Highland Glen for 40 years. Mom loved her garden, so when she moved to Lockport and it decreased to less than ¼ acre, she felt a hardship.

She now could only make enough pickles and canning for half the neighborhood.

Everyone who knew her, knew of her salmon colored Geraniums, which were a yearly Spring Must Have. As well, I'm sure since she was a teenager, she told everyone she was 99. The sayings are famous, "been driving for 99 years, I'm 99 years old, 99 years since I was there, I've been playing crazy 8's for 99 years...." The sayings are different to everyone, but everyone knows her famous 99.....

Mom lucked into a wonderful Lockport support system with her new neighbors; a surrogate family. Special thank you to Sharon, Courtney and Brayden Schellenberg for all the love you shared.

A Funeral Mass was celebrated on Friday, July 27 at 2:00 p.m. in the Holy Trinity Ukrainian Catholic Church in Gonor, Manitoba. Interment of ashes followed the Mass in the Parish cemetery.

We'd like to thank the Concordia Hospital Emergency staff, as well as the staff in N1 for their care and compassion.

In lieu of flowers, donations may be made in Stella's name to the Concordia Hospital Foundation or Holy Trinity Ukrainian Catholic Church (6297 Henderson Hwy, Gonor, MB).

We'd like to thank everyone for the comfort, kind words, and support given during this difficult time. The funeral today was difficult, but the amazing turnout and prayers from family/friends made it bearable. Thank you everyone.

-With love

Lori and family

Condolences, pictures and videos may be left on Stella's tribute wall at www.gilbartfuneralhome.com

OBITUARY

Lori Gallant
May 16th 1959 – July 25th 2018

After a difficult and aggressive battle with cancer, with her family by her side, Lori Joyce Gallant passed away peacefully on July 25th, 2018.

Lori was born May 16th, 1959 in Selkirk, MB. She is predeceased by her father, Clarence Parks, in 1961; her father-in-law, Maurice Gallant, in 2013; and her nephew, Devon Sinclair, in 2009. Also passing before her were grandparents, Frank and Irene Long, Howard and Madeline Parks, Tom and Vera Sinclair, Walter and Hazel Gemmill, and Ernie and Edna Gallant.

Left to honour Lori and remember her are her loving husband George; her three beautiful children, Ryan (Jolynne), Denise (Bill and Jordann), and Marcus (Leah); along with six wonderful grandchildren, William, Emily, Grace, Isabella, Holden and Claire.

She will be greatly missed by her parents, Ken and Joan Sinclair, and Darlene Gallant; her siblings, Bill (Karen), Valerie (Charlie), Heather (Mick), Scott (Janie), Trevor (Jenn), Patti (Don), Michelle (Doug); and many more nieces, nephews, extended family and friends.

Known for an unforgettable laugh, big blue eyes and an even bigger heart, Lori left an impact on her community, coworkers, family and friends, and anyone who had the chance to meet her.

Lori attended elementary and junior high school in St. Andrews, followed by high school in Selkirk. She joined Sea Cadets at the age of 13, where she met the love of her life, George.

They married in 1978 and spent most of their lives in and around the Selkirk area. Lori worked at the Selkirk CIBC bank, and managed Warehouse One for many years, where she formed many lasting friendships with coworkers and customers. At the time of her diagnosis, Lori was the much-valued Office Manager for Maple Leaf Drilling.

Though no longer with us, Lori endured the effects of her disease with bravery, grace and dignity. She never lost her sense of humour and even managed to throw in a touch of sass.

Our many thanks to the staff at Cancer Care Manitoba and Riverview Health Centre (Palliative Care ward, 3 East) for their continued support, empathy, compassion and care during these emotional and difficult months.

A memorial service will be held on Tuesday, July 31, 2018 at 11:00 a.m. in the Gilbert Funeral Chapel, Selkirk.

In lieu of flowers, donations can be made to the Brain Tumour Foundation of Canada: www.braintumour.ca (click the "donate now" button)
