Can you find the vampires, witches, and ghosts?

By Katelyn Boulanger

The City of Selkirk has set up an alternative for residents who want to avoid trick-or-treating this Halloween season by partnering with local groups and businesses to create a Spooky I-Spy for residents to enjoy.

"[The Spooky I-Spy is] an I spy game within Selkirk. There are window displays on buildings that have been transformed into a life-sized game of I spy and the windows have been decorated with Halloween decorations," said Ellie Longbottom, culture coordinator for the City of Selkirk.

Just like the regular version of I spy, residents can look through the display to find Halloween themed items like skeletons, jack-o-lanterns, bats, and more.

Additionally, all of the I spy displays will be accessible from the outside of the participating groups and businesses' locations so that people don't have to go in if they don't want to. This also means the displays are accessible any time of day.

The idea for the game came from the Gaynor Family Regional Library who wanted to expand the Spooky I-Spy display that they had set up into the community so that residents could have a socially distant activity to participate in this year.

They were inspired by a library in Wisconsin who a few months ago hosted a regular I spy game but the staff at Gaynor thought it would be even more fun to add a spooky twist and host it around Halloween.

Normally, the library hosts a huge Halloween party for residents that sees over 500 guests visit for an evening of activities, but this year due to COVID-19 that isn't an option.

"We still wanted to be in the Halloween [spirit] and we thought that this I spy game fit perfectly with what we do. I took all of our decorations and stuff that we normally use for the party and we grouped them by colour and then the I spy windows were born," said Katherine Anderson, Information Technology/Public Services Coordinator for the Gaynor Family Regional Library.

The library then approached the City of Selkirk to see if they would share the idea with other businesses to make it a community event.

This including of the entire community means that part of the fun is now also looking for the displays themselves throughout the city.

"What we're doing is on [Oct. 26] we put out a Facebook post explaining that there's an I spy game going on in Selkirk. We are challenging residents to find the locations by midnight on Oct. 31. Each day we'll post [a clue] to an organization or business [with a display] in the comments [of the original Facebook post] and residents can play along once they arrive there," said Longbottom.

She wouldn't give any clues out early about where to find the I-Spy locations but did say some of your favourite organizations and businesses around Selkirk will be participating.

The City is also asking that residents take a photo of themselves with their favourite display and post it in the comments of the post of the City's Facebook page to be entered into the contest to win some prizes.

"We want to ensure that the kids in the community can still have fun," said Longbottom.

For residents who do want to participate in trick-or-treating this year, the City has put up the below guidelines on its website.

Provide wrapped, store bought treats only.

Use tools (e.g. tongs) or find creative ways to distribute treats at a distance

Provide individual bags and avoid self-service such as a common treat bowl

Hand out treats from your driveway or front lawn, if weather permits

Above: A little vampire bat that's hidden in Gaynor's nine foot long I-Spy display. Below: The Gaynor Family Regional Library's Spooky I-Spy display.

Prevent/avoid groups at the door – consider using chalk or tape to indicate physical distance markers on your path or driveway

Maintain physical distancing (min. 6 feet). Consider placing a table between yourself and trick-or-treaters

Avoid touching doorbells, railings or other high-touch areas. Use hand sanitizer if you do touch these areas

Call "trick or treat" from at least 6 feet away

Wear a non-medical mask when physical distancing cannot be maintained or is unpredictable

Choose a costume that allows for a non-medical mask to be worn underneath

Wash hands and disinfect packages before eating candy

They also recommend that residents follow all provincial guidelines for COVID-19, use the Manitoba COVID-19 screening tool before going out and if you feel sick or you may have been exposed to someone with COVID-19, you should not participate in in-person Halloween activities or in trick-or-treating in any way.

2020 flu shots to add “an extra layer of protection”

By Nicole Buffie

As the COVID-19 pandemic enters a second wave across many parts of the world and Manitoba sees an increase in case numbers, the Province of Manitoba and health care providers are reminding the public to protect themselves further by getting their annual flu shot, but only if you can find a pharmacy that has stock of it.

The vaccine, which is free of charge under Manitoba Health, has been in high demand over the last few weeks as Manitobans look for an extra layer to stay healthy amid the pandemic.

Thanh Nguyen, the pharmacist at Easton Place Pharmacy in Selkirk, said as of Oct. 21 he had not yet received the 500 doses he ordered from the province. He said this is due to the groups businesses are put in each year when ordering stock. His pharmacy is in the third and last group of orders to be delivered.

“It’s kind of a rotating priority,” he said. “So we’re hoping to have them by the end of October.”

According to the Province’s website, Group 2 and 3 of providers are expected to have all deliveries complete by Oct. 30.

Another local pharmacy, Super

Thrifty Pharmacy, were among the first wave of clinics to receive their shipments, even if it was a limited supply.

“We were just happy to get our hands on any vaccine of any kind,” said Darwin Cheasley, the pharmacist at Super Thrifty.

Cheasley said calls to the store regarding the vaccine are up nearly 300 per cent, an uptick he did not anticipate this year.

Last year, nearly 26 per cent of Manitobans got their flu shot and clinics across the province predict that number will shoot up with the novel Coronavirus at the top of many people’s minds.

“I’m sure this year is going to be probably at least doubled,” Cheasley said.

While regular flu shots are available to any Manitoban over the age of six months, a high-dose vaccine is also available to those at a higher risk of getting sick.

Fluzone High Dose, a flu shot which contains four times the antigens that help build protection against flu viruses, is available to adults over the age of 65 and who meet certain criteria. However, it is only available at facilities to those eligible to receive it. These locations include long-term care facilities, assisted living housing and supportive housing.

Most stores with an attached pharmacy are also providing flu shots, including Safeway and Shoppers Drug Mart. It was reported on Oct. 21 Shoppers had a two to four hour wait for folks wishing to be immunized.

While many locations offer walk-in services to be vaccinated, pharmacists are asking residents to book appointments over the phone, including Easton and Super Thrifty Pharmacy.

Cheasley reminded folks about the importance of receiving a flu shot, as it matters now more than ever.

“It’s just a good thing to protect not just yourself, but [to] protect the others that may indeed be looked after,” he said. “Getting through COVID and through the flu is all going to be about looking after our neighbours, looking after our friends, looking after our family.”

“If we make sure that everybody’s at least protected from the flu, that’s just one less exposure to something that could be critical.”

Guidelines for trick-or-treating

The COVID-19 pandemic brings additional recommendations for having a safe Halloween in 2020

By Staff

The Province of Manitoba is asking residents to be COVID careful this Halloween and are giving recommendations for safely celebrating the spooky season this year.

As per the website, Manitobans are encouraged to continue with regular COVID-19 safety precautions during Halloween by reducing the number of close contacts outside of their households and avoiding closed-in or crowded spaces.

Manitobans are also strongly encouraged to focus on the fundamentals to help stop the spread of COVID-19. This includes:

- Staying home if you're sick, even if your symptoms are only mild.
- Washing/sanitizing your hands frequently.
- Covering your cough.
- Practicing physical distancing when you are with people outside of your household.
- Wearing a mask in indoor public spaces in situations where you cannot physically distance, or as required by public health orders.

Trick-or-Treating and Halloween Activities

Household members who feel unwell should not take part. Use the COVID-19 screening tool or the COVID-19 screening questions before participating in activities.

If you start to feel unwell when out, return home as soon as you can.

Be aware of local Pandemic Response System levels and consider alternatives to trick or treating as appropriate to help stop the spread of COVID-19.

Wash or sanitize your hands frequently.

Physical Distancing

Limit contact with non-household members. Trick-or-treat within your household.

Traditional greetings such as handshakes, kissing and hugging should be avoided.

Maintain a two-metre distance from people outside of your household or extended household group. Take turns and wait until any group ahead is gone.

Decorate your household and yard for distance viewing.

Masking

Wear a non-medical mask when physical distancing cannot be maintained or is unpredictable.

Consider incorporating a non-medical mask into your costume (while making sure your eyes are unobstructed for safety).

However, having a costume mask on top of a non-medical mask may not be safe.

Wear a non-medical mask to distribute candy.

Remember, children under the age of two should not wear a non-medical mask. Click here for more information on proper masks use.

Hand Hygiene

Follow proper hand hygiene and respiratory etiquette including:

Wash your hands often with soap and water. Scrub for at least 15 seconds.

Use a Health Canada-approved alcohol based hand sanitizer when hands are not visibly dirty and handwashing is not possible.

Avoid touching your face, mouth, nose and eyes.

Cover your coughs and sneezes, and then wash/ sanitize your hands after.

Treat Distribution

Where possible, provide individual contactless candy distribution. Use tools (e.g. tongs) to distribute candy at a distance.

Provide individual bags and avoid self-service such as a common candy bowl

Supervise, as needed, while maintaining physical distancing

Provide wrapped, store bought treats only

Indoor or mall-based trick-or-treating is permitted where physical distancing is maintained and shared contact items are minimized or eliminated. Note that changing public health orders and Pandemic Response System may limit or restrict these activities. Check with the site before you make your plans.

Other Activities

Consider only planning activities that allow people to continue to maintain physical distancing. Avoid activities where respiratory droplets may be exchanged, such as bobbing for apples.

Pumpkin carving and decorating where individual pumpkins and tools are provided and individuals practice good hand hygiene, maintain appropriate physical distancing and adhere to any current gathering size restrictions.

A costume parade where physical distancing can be maintained

Haunted Houses/Ghost Tours/ Corn Mazes/Pumpkin Patches may be permitted, depending on local restrictions under current public health orders and the Pandemic Response System. However, the following guidelines must be followed:

organizers, staff, or attending public must self-screen using the COVID-19 screening tool or the COVID-19 screening questions, and stay home if unwell manage line-ups carefully to ensure physical distancing.

Remembrance Day not to be forgotten in 2020

Pandemic posing challenge for in-person services, municipalities finding creative solutions

By Nicole Buffie

Nov. 11, while just another statutory holiday to some, is far more important to others.

The 11th day of the 11th month of the year is one to remember soldiers who fought in the war for their country, and as ceremonies across the world have been cancelled or drastically altered to meet the needs of the COVID-19 pandemic, some services in the Interlake are doing what they can to ensure they honour veterans just like any other year.

The RM of West St. Paul, which usually holds an annual service at the Sunova Centre, is opting for a virtual video instead of an in-person gathering this year.

Damara Geddes, recreation director for the RM, said the video will feature historical photos of the community and a speech in remembrance of veterans who settled in the area.

"I think it's extremely important, because our community is a mix of old, long-standing residents, and then a bunch of new residents that may not know the history of West St. Paul," she said.

In 2019 the municipality erected special street signs featuring a poppy that were named after residents who enlisted in the First and Second World War.

Geddes said finding a way to honour the members of the community who fought in the wars is integral, even on the other 364 days of the year.

"The involvement of the veterans that are from the community played a huge role in the development of West St. Paul in general, so it's important that everyone knows that."

The video will be shared on social media on Remembrance Day for residents to watch, and the RM is actively working on a way to deliver it to those without access to an internet connection.

While some municipalities and legions are opting for virtual services, the Selkirk Legion's usual service at the Rec Centre will now be a scaled-down ceremony held at the cenotaph on Eveline St.

Wayne Bird, the poppy officer for the Legion, said the small service will feature a few veterans and members of the public service sector. As for attendees, Bird said while they cannot stop folks from gathering to pay their respects, he hopes those who do come respect social distancing rules and keep their visit short.

"We've got to remember them," Bird said. "They didn't mind when they're out in the wintertime in the fox holes and we'd like to respect that."

He noted for those wishing to come during the day to leave poppies at the cenotaph, wreaths will be displayed until the late afternoon and there will be no gathering at the Legion after the service concludes.

East St. Paul's Legion (Branch 215) will be following suit with a small, in-person ceremony consisting of five Legion officials conducting a brief service at the Maxwell King Cenotaph. It will include an act of remembrance and moment of silence to pay tribute to fallen soldiers.

Gord Machej, president of Branch 215, said if members of the public wish to pay their respects they can do so groups of five as per provincial health orders at the Cenotaph after the service concludes, or by placing a poppy at the cross which will be at the Legion's entrance. The Legion will open at 11:30 operating at a 50 per cent capacity.

Brent Olynyk, CAO for the RM of West St. Paul, said the act of remembering veterans is just as important this year as it is every other year.

"This community feels strongly about veterans that went to war to protect the country, to make this country what it is today for all the rights and liberties and freedom we have," he said. "Things have changed, but we're not missing a beat."

While Remembrance Day services cannot be held in their traditional fashion, like this service at the Sunova Centre in 2018, municipalities are finding solutions in order to pay their respects just like any other year.

Province enacts new restrictions for Winnipeg and Northern Regions

Submitted

The current five-day COVID-19 test positivity rate as of Monday was 7.1 per cent with 100 new cases of the virus identified as of 9:30 a.m. This brings the number of lab-confirmed cases in Manitoba to 4,349.

Monday's data showed:

The Interlake-Eastern with a total of 339 cases: 156 active cases, 181 recovered, 3 currently in the hospital and 2 deaths.

- Arborg/Riverton 20 recovered; Beausejour 2 active cases, 16 recovered; Eriksdale/Ashern 4 active cases; Fisher/Peguis 61 active and 18 recovered; Gimli 2 recovered; Northern Remote 54 active cases, 9 recovered, 1 death; Pinawa/LacduBonnet 6 recovered; Powerview/PineFalls 5 active case and 5 recovered; Selkirk 2 recovered; Springfield 7 active cases and 3 recovered; St. Clements 4 active cases and 5 recovered; St. Laurent 1 recovered; Stonewall/Teulon 10 active cases, 31 recovered and 1 death; Unknown District 4 active cases and 9 recovered; and Winnipeg Beach/St. Andrews 5 active cases and 23 recovered.

The data also showed:

- 10 news cases in the Northern health region;
- one new case in the Prairie Mountain Health region;
- 11 new cases in the Southern Health-Santé Sud health region; and

- 73 new cases in the Winnipeg health region.

As of Monday Manitoba reported 2,117 active cases and 2,177 individuals who have recovered from COVID-19; there are 80 people in hospital and 15 people in intensive care; and the number of deaths due to COVID-19 is 55.

Laboratory testing numbers show 2,131 tests were completed on Sunday, bringing the total number of lab tests completed since early February to 242,787. Case investigations continue and if a public health risk is identified, the public will be notified.

Public health officials are advising a person who has tested positive for COVID-19 attended a funeral in Lake Manitoba First Nation on Oct. 12 when they did not have symptoms but was in their infectious period. Public health officials will be notifying close contacts directly. Others who attended the funeral should self-monitor for symptoms. If symptoms develop, people should self-isolate and seek testing.

On Oct. 20, Public health officials advised that outbreaks have been declared in the region at Middlechurch Home of Winnipeg and at Bird's Hill School at 3950 Raleigh St. in East St. Paul.

All other possible exposure locations are listed online by region at the province's #RestartMB Pandemic Response System webpage. For up-to-date information on possible public exposures to COVID-19 in regions, visit www.gov.mb.ca/covid19/updates/flights.html#event and click on your region.

With the growing number of cases in the Northern health region and Churchill, the province is introducing targeted measures under the Restricted (orange) level of the #RestartMB Pandemic Response System to reduce community spread of the virus by reducing close-prolonged contact between people. These measures came into effect at midnight Monday, for a minimum of two weeks. For more information, visit: www.manitoba.ca/covid19/restartmb/prs/northern/index.html#north_restrictions.

Additional measures have been put in place for schools in the Winnipeg Metropolitan Region and the Northern health region under the Restricted Level (orange), effective Monday. For more information, visit:

www.manitoba.ca/covid19/restartmb/prs/winnipeg/index.html#wmr_schools.

The chief provincial public health officer urges Manitobans to not socialize with people from outside their household to cut down the number of close contacts, and avoid closed-in or crowded spaces. In addition, they should focus on these fundamentals to help stop the spread of COVID-19:

- Stay home if you are sick.
- Wash/sanitize your hands and cover your cough.
- Physically distance when you are with people outside your household.
- If you cannot physically distance, wear a mask to help reduce the risk to others or as required by public health orders.

Public health guidance for Halloween trick-or-treating has been developed. If people do choose to participate in trick-or-treating this year, information is available on how to do it safely at <https://manitoba.ca/covid19/halloween.html>.

Unless recommended by public health officials, only individuals experiencing COVID-19 symptoms should go for testing. Individuals with symptoms are asked to seek testing as soon as possible once symptoms are present. Employers are asked to only send employees for testing if they have symptoms or if testing has been recommended by public health officials.

The online assessment tool can be found at <https://sharedhealthmb.ca/covid19/screening-tool/> and COVID-19 symptoms can be found at www.gov.mb.ca/covid19/updates/about.html#collapse4.

Province taking action to reinforce public health orders

Submitted by the Manitoba Government

The Manitoba government is increasing the fine amounts for those who fail to comply with public health and emergency orders, Premier Brian Pallister announced Wednesday.

"The recent surge in COVID-19 cases in our province is concerning, which is why our government is taking further action to protect Manitobans," said Pallister. "Along with stronger public health orders, these new and substantially higher fines are an additional tool to help keep Manitobans safe."

Amendments have been made to the Preset Fines and Offence Descriptions Regulation that establish new fine amounts for failure to comply with public health and emergency orders. For individuals, the fine was previously $486 and will now rise to $1,296. This will be the second highest such fine level in Canada. For corporations, the fine was previously $2,542 and will now rise to $5,000.

In addition to higher fines, the Manitoba government will continue to increase enforcement of the public health orders across the province. Agencies with the authority to enforce these orders include the RCMP and other police agencies, the Health Protection Unit, Manitoba Conservation and Climate, Workplace Safety and Health, and the Liquor, Gaming and Cannabis Authority.

The Manitoba government is also working to amend existing provincial regulations to enable municipal by-law enforcement officers to enforce public health and emergency orders.

Larger fines and increased enforcement of public health orders are the latest measure undertaken by the Manitoba government to combat COVID-19 in the province. In recent weeks, a number of proactive measures have also been taken including more than doubling testing capacity, signing an agreement to substantially increase contact tracing and partnering with Red River College to rapidly train additional staff to work on the front lines in the fight against COVID-19.

"The fight against COVID is a team effort that requires all hands on deck and I know Manitobans are ready to do their part," said Pallister. "By following the fundamentals and complying with our public health orders, we can protect each other and reduce the risk of COVID-19."

As of Oct. 12, 134 tickets for failing to comply with Manitoba's public health and emergency orders had been filed with the Provincial Offences Court. The new fine levels come into effect today.

A copy of the most recent orders under the Public Health Act is available on the Manitoba government website at https://manitoba.ca/asset_library/en/proactive/2020_2021/orders-soe-capital-10192020.pdf.

Selkirk Arena not open for 2020-2021 season

Less demand for ice, increased cost due to COVID-19 pandemic

Submitted by the City of Selkirk

We knew that winter sports would look a little different this year. For many citizens, it will be the absence of “the old barn” that will be the strangest.

The decision to not open the Selkirk Arena was based on three factors: the ability for visitors to socially distance in the facility, the staffing requirements to operate the facility, and the cleaning requirements to keep user-groups safe.

“First and foremost, the safety of our citizens and our staff is our top priority,” said the city’s Director of Culture, Recreation and Green Transportation Brady Clark.

“With the number of COVID-19 cases sharply rising it’s important that we make our facilities as safe as possible. With how small the spaces at the Barn are, especially in the dressing rooms, it’s essentially impossible to give users enough space to properly distance themselves.”

The city’s Chief Administrative Officer Duane Nicol says the added cost of staffing and sanitation, as well as the lesser demand for ice, made the Barn financially unviable this year.

“For us to be able to properly sanitize the dressing rooms, bathrooms, benches, and other high touch-points all while doing the regular work of maintaining the ice, we would essentially need to double our staff,” said Nicol.

“Many user groups have seen a serious decrease in registration. On one hand, you have less ice rentals and therefore revenue, and on the other, you have significantly more costs of operation. On top of the facility unable to provide adequate space for users to physically distance, you have a very large additional cost that will be borne by all taxpayers at a time when we’re very concerned about our finances.”

Clark says the city has contacted user groups of the Barn and is working on different ideas to provide them with what they need.

“The Barn was primarily used by younger kids, so it’s important we find them the space they need,” said Clark

“We’ve been working with other users like the Fishermen and the Steelers to come up with solutions that benefit everyone. We’ve also suggested the use of outdoor spaces during the time of year when it’s still mild outside. We’re exploring every possible avenue.”

The City’s primary ice surface is currently open and following extensive new protocols to ensure it meets the requirements set out by Manitoba Health. Nicol says the City has worked closely with the local health inspector and other provincial officials to ensure the city can open recreation facilities and provide services to citizens.

“Our priority is always safety – so that has been the bottom line in every one of our conversations. As a citizen of this community, I am very proud of the hard work city staff have undertaken to open up the pool and the Recreation Complex despite the challenges,” said Nicol.

“It’s been a logistical nightmare made more difficult by the changing dynamic of the pandemic and the health orders. But staff have made it work, and citizens are being responsible and adapting to the new rules and practices. It’s a challenging time for everyone, but this too shall pass”.

Nicol says any savings found from not opening the Barn will help pay for the additional costs of operating the Selkirk Rec Complex under the new COVID-19 protocols.

Selkirk RCMP officer tests positive for COVID-19

Residents who are considered close contacts will be notified by Public Health

Submitted by Manitoba RCMP

On Oct. 21, an RCMP officer was notified by Manitoba public health officials that they had tested positive for COVID-19. The general duty officer worked in Selkirk and surrounding areas during the daytime hours of Oct. 11 to 13. The affected officer had interactions with the public during this time but was wearing a mask.

Public health officials are now doing contact tracing and will communicate with anyone considered a close contact, and provide them with information on next steps.

The Manitoba RCMP has implemented numerous safety precautions throughout detachments across the province, including physical barriers, increased hand-washing stations, and requiring that when possible, officers wear masks when interacting with the public.

To limit contact with police personnel, the public is encouraged to call their local detachment with questions, and to only attend a detachment when it is necessary. The Manitoba RCMP has also launched an online crime reporting tool for residents living in Selkirk and surrounding areas: <https://www.rcmp-grc.gc.ca/en/news/2020/manitoba-rcmp-launches-trial-online-crime-reporting-system-non-emergency-incidents>

CancerCare Manitoba's Prevention and Screening Programs seeking input from residents

Submitted by CancerCare Manitoba

The Prevention and Screening Programs at CancerCare Manitoba provide service to Manitobans across the province. Manitobans may already be familiar with BreastCheck, CervixCheck, and ColonCheck, because members of their household or they themselves have received an invitation in the mail to get checked. These programs are making further efforts to ensure that the public perspective is a part of their decision making, and right now there are opportunities for Manitobans to get involved and offer feedback to support the programs.

Recent research has shown that individuals can reduce their risk of cancer by up to 50 per cent. As part of their ongoing efforts to reduce the number of Manitobans diagnosed with cancer, CancerCare Manitoba is asking for public feedback to help inform their cancer prevention activities, which are set to launch next year. You can share your views by taking a two minute survey, available at www.PreventCancerMB.ca. Your responses will be anonymous and you will be offered the chance to win one of 10 $50 grocery store gift cards!

Manitobans can also apply to become a Public Advisor Volunteer. In this role, volunteers share their knowledge and experience to help inform prevention and screening services, help plan and implement new initiatives, support changes to existing activities, as well as develop and improve educational materials and policies. Public Advisor Volunteers participate in small group discussions and respond to surveys aimed at understanding public perspectives. Feedback can be provided in person, or via email, telephone or online. Due to the COVID-19, no feedback will be provided in person at this time.

Now, more than ever. Get your flu shot.

With the possibility of people getting ill with the flu and COVID-19 circulating at the same time, all Manitobans are encouraged to add a layer of protection and get their free annual flu vaccine to protect themselves and their friends and family. The flu vaccine is especially important for those at increased risk of serious illness from the flu, their caregivers and close contacts.

Book an appointment for your flu shot by calling 1-877-979-9355 between 8:30am and 4:30pm Mon-Fri and please note:

- At most clinics this year, an appointment is required. Call 1-877-979-9355 to book an appointment.
- Some flu clinic locations may have changed due to COVID-19 requirements.
- You must wear a non-medical face mask to your appointment.
- Please practice hand-washing and social distancing at clinics.
- Do not come to your appointment if you are experiencing cold or flu-like symptoms. If you are ill when you arrive, we may choose to not immunize you that day.
- Please come right at your appointment time to avoid congestion.
- Bring your Manitoba Health Card, and wear a short-sleeved shirt.

Province announces new bridge in West St. Paul

Cars and pedestrians separated to improve safety

Submitted by the RM of West St. Paul

The Manitoba government has completed the construction of a new bridge over the Grassmere Drain on Provincial Trunk Highway (PTH) 9 through the Rural Municipality of West St. Paul, Infrastructure Minister Ron Schuler announced Oct. 20. In addition to the new vehicle bridge, a new pedestrian bridge on a separate active transportation path was constructed to improve safety.

"Our government's commitment to safety and highway standards was a priority when building this new bridge. It was built with a service life of 75 years which will ensure traffic to flow smoothly for decades to come," said Schuler. "We also identified the need for a pedestrian bridge to improve safety and we worked with the RM of West St. Paul to make it successful."

The new bridge replaced an aging reinforced concrete box culvert constructed in 1913, which reached the end of its service life. PTH 9 is a vital part of the transportation network as over 10,000 vehicles travel it daily, linking residents and businesses north of the Perimeter Highway.

The replacement structure is 21.5 metres long, supports four lanes of traffic and is capable of RTAC loading. The new bridge will also allow for a wider channel opening, improving flow during high water events including spring run-off. The total project cost is just under $5.9 million, the minister noted.

"This is exciting news for West St. Paul, our residents and surrounding communities. The new bridge on PTH 9 addresses flooding and drainage concerns in our community and neighbouring communities and improves traffic safety with a median and turning lanes," said Mayor Cheryl Christian, RM of West St. Paul. "The beautiful new pedestrian bridge promotes a safe, connected and active community. We are so grateful for the positive partnership we have with the provincial government and Minister Schuler."

Brady Bobrowich recognized at MB Legislature

By Katelyn Boulanger

Selkirk MLA Dr. Alan Lagimodiere took the time to recognize St. Andrew's Brady Bobrowich, the 13-year-old who is the Children's Hospital Foundation of Manitoba's 2020 Champion Child, and lives with Type 1 Neurofibromatosis.

"I was first introduced to [Brady] in 2016 when he was going through some of his surgeries and to go through some of the challenges that he's gone through on a daily basis. At first glance he's your typical 13-year-old he enjoys the outdoors, sports — baseball, hockey— time with his family and friends but when you look at this young man he's much more than your typical 13-year-old. He's faced medical challenges from his birth and he hasn't let that get him down. He's faced them with strength and conviction and a willingness to give back to his community and I thought that was worth acknowledging. A lot of people in the community would have no idea and a lot of Manitobans would have no idea," said Lagimodiere.

The recognition happened virtually on Oct. 14 in the Manitoba Legislature and Lagimodiere said that he was overjoyed to be able to speak about Brady.

"I felt pretty excited and proud that I would be spoken about in the legislative building," said Brady.

He's had a quieter year than he would have liked as the COVID-19 pandemic has made fundraising for the children's hospital more difficult but that hasn't stopped him.

"[I've] been going to events and speaking at them. Sometimes going to places like Walmart and the Brick [for events]," said Brady.

He says that the experience has not turned out to be what he expected.

"Since COVID-19 hit we didn't get to do all the stuff that we would if it wasn't here. I didn't get to go to Florida and some events had to be cancelled and some of them I had to do on the computer," said Brady.

He was happy to meet Lagimodiere to take a few pictures and thank him for the recognition.

In his personal life Brady is continuing to keep busy.

"I've been going to school and hunting. I've been playing with my dog and camping all that kind of stuff," said Brady.

His mom, Corinne Bobrowich, says the experience of being the champion child has been very rewarding as far as giving back to the children's hospital that, she says, has given so much to them. She's also felt that it's been a great experience for Brady to improve his skills such as public speaking and getting out and learning about representing the hospital.

She was very happy that Brady would be recognized in the legislature.

"I was pretty shocked and pretty honoured to have Brady recognized like this. It was a pretty unique experience especially for a 13-year-old boy," said Bobrowich.

Brady is trying to raise $50,000 for the children's hospital this year which has been difficult with the pandemic cancelling events.

Clocks fall back this Sunday for end of daylight savings

By Staff

Most Canadians will turn their clocks back by an hour Sunday, Nov. 1 for the switch from daylight savings time to local standard time.

Local standard time officially starts at 2 a.m.

Clocks are turned back one hour in the fall for what's commonly called "the end of daylight savings time," an idea first used in Germany during the First World War with the goal of saving energy. It aims to take advantage of daylight hours in the spring so that people don't sleep through the first few hours of sunshine.

When the daylight period gets shorter in the fall, the clocks are readjusted to the proper "local standard time."

Calling all pandemic artists from near and far

St. Andrews Heritage Centre to hold community art show

By Nicole Buffie

Artists and art lovers lamenting the cancellation of shows and exhibits throughout 2020 will soon have an outlet to scratch their creative itch with.

The St. Andrews Heritage Centre is opening its doors for artists from all over to display their work for nearly two months, starting in November.

Meredith Boerchers, the museum program planner, said opening up the space to display the work of locals will benefit more than just the artists.

"There's a lot of potential for putting up some local artwork... in addition to all of our permanent museum exhibits have just been recently redone," she said.

The museum received a facelift over the summer, adding new exhibits to the space that was to be revealed in a grand opening at the beginning of October before new gathering restrictions forced the cancellation of it.

Boerchers thought an art show

The St. Andrews Heritage Centre will be hosting an art exhibit from Nov. 21 to Jan. 9.

would be the perfect way to showcase both the work of local makers and the new additions to the museum in an all-encompassing display.

The fresh exhibits revolve around the history of St. Andrews, displaying the era of the fur trade and even a replica of the Anglican rectory that was once located across the road from the building.

The art show was intended to display the work of members in the community but has since expanded inside the perimeter highway. Boerchers said she's had many submissions from folks living in Winnipeg and beyond.

"Talking to the artists, they really missed the artistic community," she said. "A typical thing is that if you're an artist you go and display your work, but you also talk to other artists, you talk about techniques, talk about their work and trade ideas; so it sounds like that has been missing."

The museum has put on art shows in the past, and due to province-wide shutdowns throughout 2020, the museum felt it was important to keep a sense of normalcy in the community.

"There are more people around making art and wanting to showcase it locally, so it just seemed like a good opportunity to do that," Boerchers said.

The museum is encouraging all artists using a visual medium to submit an application. Boerchers said the roster is filling up quickly.

"Because so many things have been cancelled and because all the snowbirds are staying around this winter, we've had a really big response," she said of the artists submitting their work to be displayed.

Of the space to be used to display the creativity of the community and beyond, Boerchers said some of the pieces submitted include watercolour and acrylic paintings. A local jeweller has also submitted work to be shown off.

"I think it'll be just a really fun way for people to see their artwork, and to kind of get their names out there," Boerchers said.

Artists wishing to submit an application to display their work can fill out a form through the museum's website at www.standrewsrectory.ca until Nov. 14.

Members of the public wanting to catch a glimpse of the art show will have the opportunity to from Nov. 21 – Jan. 9 2021 during the museum's normal hours of operation: 10 AM – 5 PM Tuesday – Saturday.

Making music in a world of no instruments

Walter Whyte teacher gets creative under class restrictions

By Nicole Buffie

When Carolyn Farquharson was told her music class at Walter Whyte School would look very different for the 2020-21 academic year, she immediately turned to the internet.

Finding creative solutions to the restrictions put in place by the province amid the COVID-19 pandemic prompted Farquharson to seek advice from other teachers across the continent.

"When the world kind of went virtual, then all of a sudden, music teachers really started to talk to each other online," she said.

After sharing ideas with her peers and gathering inspiration through speaking with retired teachers across the country and attending conferences virtually, something she would have not been able to do otherwise, Farquharson hit the dollar store and got to work.

The materials she picked up to replace the instruments she was not able to use in her classroom included pool noodles, wooden sticks, and paint buckets. She whittled down the noodles into scrapers, filled plastic eggs with beads to create shakers, and made dozens of individual packages for each student to have. From there, it was up to her pupils to take advantage of the homemade instruments.

Farquharson, preparing for her second year as a teacher in the Lord Selkirk School Division after a decade at her last school, wasn't sure how the year would go.

After teaching online in the spring when the pandemic forced the closure of schools and the switch to distance learning, it was a relief for Farquharson to know she could return to the classroom in the fall, but it also posed a new set of challenges.

"We had to really scramble and say, 'Okay, what are we going to do that's going to give them positive learning experiences that are meaningful when we can't use our primary way of communicating: making music together?'"

While the regulations surrounding music class include no singing — the largest portion of Farquharson's curriculum — and most instrument use is not permitted, she found ways to abide by the orders and still provide the necessary learning to her students.

The DIY materials replaced the instruments she would have used, and instead of singing in class, she pre-recorded songs to play for her students so they could practice at home.

"I figured this is also now a really good time to practice some of the music theory and reading things that I don't get time to do otherwise," Farquharson said.

During the rest of class, her younger students find ways to make music with wooden sticks and wave scarves to visualize the musical form of a song and her older students are filling the void of testing out different instruments for their intermediate band class with bucket drumming.

Instead of using their singing voices, students are learning to visualize the way music moves through waving scarves.

"I think they're just happy to be able to come in and beat on something and make loud noises," she joked.

"I think music for them is kind of an outlet and an emotional relief for them; they spend a lot of time sitting in their desks. Now, they don't get to move around as much as they did before. They don't get to socialize as much."

Now, the music teacher's main concern is maintaining her student's interest in class, as she worries too much of the same thing will become stale.

"As we get into winter, it's going to be harder for the kids because they're going to be feeling more confined," Farquharson said. "So I'm just continuing to go online and look for as many ideas as I can find."

Farquharson said the province is working on regulating the use of instruments in the form of masks fit to slip mouthpieces through and covers for the bells of wind instruments, an encouraging sign for music teachers.

So, while the music room at Walter Whyte may not exude the typical noises of kids practising their Christmas carols or learning hot cross buns on the recorder, the make-shift drums, shakers and recorded videos will occupy the kids until the pandemic's tide pulls back and reveals a brighter, instrument-filled future.

Carolyn Farquharson made individual bags of make-shift instruments for each of her students when she was told singing and traditional music makers were not allowed in class for the upcoming academic year.

Bezan on future Lock and Dam construction

Gives voice in House of Commons to Lockport residents

Submitted by the Office of Member of Parliament for Selkirk-Interlake-Eastman James Bezan

James Bezan, Member of Parliament for Selkirk-Interlake-Eastman made the following statement in the House of Commons on Oct. 21 about the Liberal's failure to consult Manitobans:

"Time and again, Canadian business owners, community groups and First Nations have demanded respectful consultations from this government.

"In Lockport, Manitoba, the Minister of Public Service and Procurement made the unilateral decision to move forward with repairs to the St. Andrews Lock and Dam, with little to no consultations with local government, businesses or the community.

"In fact, my office reached out repeatedly to the Minister's office for a month requesting a departmental briefing, but they wouldn't even pick up the phone to give me a call. Instead, my office received a short 'description of the asset and a summary of ongoing work on site.'

"It was 600 words. That's all this government thinks Manitobans deserve.

600 words! This is an insult to me as their elected representative and the thousands of Manitobans who are directly impacted by this callous top-down approach.

"This Liberal government needs to

Did you know the library has a secret?

Gaynor has more than meets the eye

By Katelyn Boulanger

In addition to the great books, movies, audio CDs, databases with information, public computers, ebooks, audiobooks, and many other services that the library offers, the Gaynor Family Regional Library has a secret — actually, three secrets — three secret stories that can only be accessed after hours.

The stories started appearing in the second week of October. So far, there have been one a week since.

"Toronto Public [Library] does this as a normal thing where you can select a number on your keypad if you call after hours and you can hear a story. We thought that that would be another fun Halloween thing as well and I checked out our phone system and turns out we can record long messages. You aren't sure what you're phone system is capable of until you test it outside of the way that it's supposed to work," said Katherine Anderson, Information Technology/Public Services Coordinator for the Gaynor Family Regional Library.

The library wanted the stories to be somewhat like an easter egg in video games or films where residents have to go looking for the story to find it.

"If you call in you'll hear the message and press one for this and four for that and then the other numbers are dropped off. You don't hear press five for this story but if you do press five it's there. So, it's like one of those hidden gems that you don't know that's there," said Anderson.

Her personal favourite was uploaded this week as the latest addition to the Halloween themed line-up.

The stories were planned for their flow so they make engaging stories that are fun to listen to over and over again.

"I like rhythm stories. I like the ones that rhyme because it's nice when you tell them. [The stories also] had to be of a shorter nature because we weren't sure how long we should go," said Anderson.

The first story was a board book geared to children under five, the second story that was recorded was for more of the seven to twelve age ranges and the last story is longer and appropriate for those around age twelve but of course, they are all appropriate stories for anyone to enjoy.

"To see the kids light up when they hear these stories. You'll end up doing them again and again. They'll want to hear that funny voice again," said Anderson.

If you want to learn more about the secret stories visit the library's Facebook page at facebook.com/GaynorLibraryMB/?ref=hl for hints on which buttons to press, and sign up to their newsletter at their website at gfrl.org for more fun future activities and of course, to call the library to listen to the story the number is 204-482-3522.

Cozy up with the latest Manitoba Mystery

Local Author Maureen Flynn released her third book Pick up Sticks

By Katelyn Boulanger

If you're looking for a novel to read this spooky season why not check out the latest instalment in the Manitoba Mystery Series, Pick up Sticks, by Maureen Flynn which will be available at the Mighty Kiwi just in time for Halloween on Oct. 30.

The story takes place in two eras, one set in the present day with characters Steve Ascot and his partner Penny who are the protagonists of Flynn's first two novels in the Manitoba Mystery Series, and the other in 1914 with the story of two performers.

"Mabel Hackney and her husband [Laurence Irving] were on a tour of North America and their last performance was at the Walker Theater, it's now the Burton Cummings Theatre. After their last performance, he vowed to come back. He loved the Winnipeg audience and he said that he would be back for sure and then he took a train and boarded the Empress of Ireland ship. Anyone who knows history, it's not spoiling it, because they know that the ship sunk and they both perished," said Flynn.

In her story, Mable and her husband returned to Winnipeg as ghosts and become intertwined in the modern day plot.

"Steve Ascot is a Winnipeg homicide detective and his partner Penny get involved with the theatre and end up with their own mystery to solve," said Flynn.

The first two novels in the series also take place in the region with Flynn's first book Buckle My Shoe set at The Marlborough Hotel and her second book Shut the Door taking place at Fort Garry. All three locations have rumours surrounding whether or not they are haunted.

Flynn got into mystery novel writing when she was inspired by the local stories surrounding The Marlborough Hotel.

"I went home and I got the historical Winnipeg police files. It's a very sad story [in real life]. She was a young girl so I kind of wanted to tell her story and that's where it all started," said Flynn.

She says that anyone from junior high students to seniors might be interested in this story.

"If you like mysteries. It's mostly mysteries but there's a little bit of ghosts and romance. There's a little bit of everything in it," said Flynn.

Pick up Sticks, which is available at both of the Mighty Kiwi's locations, has a retail cost of $21.95. The other two novels in the Manitoba Mystery series are also available on Amazon.

"I think that it's a nice little escape. There isn't anything horribly upsetting in it. It's a nice story about nice people," said Flynn.

Province proposes legislative amendments for COVID-19 job-protected leave

Submitted by the Manitoba Government

The Manitoba government introduced amendments Monday to the Employment Standards Code so more workers can take protected leave due to the COVID-19 pandemic and apply for federal benefits.

"Manitoba has led the way on advocating for a federal paid sick leave program, and we'll be the first province to move forward with introducing important legislative changes so more Manitobans can access these new federal benefits," announced Premier Brian Pallister.

"Our first priority is protecting the health and well-being of all Manitobans, and this legislation would save workers from making the difficult decision whether to earn a paycheque or stay home while sick."

The premier has been a strong advocate for a national paid sick leave program for workers affected by COVID-19 since early in Canada's pandemic response. The federal program came into effect Sept. 27 and Manitoba's legislation would be retroactive to that date. Amendments to the provincial code are necessary to close gaps between Manitoba's existing protected leave provisions and the new federal program, and ensure all Manitoba workers eligible for the new Canada Recovery Sickness Benefit (CRSB) are protected if they take a leave of absence from their job to access the benefits.

In April, the Manitoba government introduced unlimited unpaid protected leave for workers required to self-isolate or care for a family member because of the pandemic. To align with federal eligibility criteria, the amendments would extend provincial leave entitlements to include workers who are more susceptible to COVID-19 because of underlying health conditions, ongoing medical treatments or other illnesses.

"By expanding the job-protected leave we provided Manitobans in April, we will further protect workers, their families and co-workers during the pandemic," said Pallister. "It's critical for all Manitobans to stay home when feeling ill, and we must do everything we can to help employers and employees follow public health orders and measures in place to limit the spread of COVID-19."

Eligible workers can now apply for the newly available CRSB, which offers $500 per week for up to two weeks, and the Canada Recovery Caregiving Benefit, which provides workers $500 per week for up to 26 weeks to take time off to care for a family member. Once new provincial legislation passes, it would also protect the jobs of workers more susceptible to COVID-19 if they take leave and apply for CRSB.

The new amendments would also allow the province to adapt public health emergency leave provisions by regulation if needed as the pandemic evolves.

Pallister noted the province has consulted and received support on the proposed legislation from the Labour Management Review Committee, an advisory body comprised of business and labour representatives. Organizations such as the Retail Council of Canada support paid sick leave legislation as it would help reduce some of the financial burden retailers and businesses face when a worker takes leave to isolate due to the pandemic.

Matlock Fire Department comes to rescue to keep goblins and ghouls safe on Halloween

By Patricia Barrett

The Matlock Fire Department has plans to rescue Halloween this Saturday and keep it safe for the kids as the province continues to see rising COVID-19 numbers, including in the Interlake.

Fire Chief Justin Anniuk said he made the decision to stage a candy giveaway at the hall.

"Due to concerns of going door to door, and having children coming into contact with multiple people, we decided to have the members bring candy to the fire hall to be distributed," said Anniuk. "This will lessen the number of close contacts with people, lowering the chance of spreading any virus."

Members of the department are paying for and supplying all of the candy, said Anniuk.

The Matlock station, which has 28 members and is one of three stations operated by the RM of St. Andrews, falls within provincial public health's orange zone (restricted). Many people in the Dunnottar area – made up of the towns of Matlock, Whytewold and Ponemah – travel to Winnipeg for work, shopping or medical appointments.

As of Monday, the RM of St. Andrews - Winnipeg Beach area had four active COVID cases and 23 recoveries, according to the province's COVID dashboard. Province-wide 4,249 people have been infected with the virus and 54 people have died. As of last Sunday, there were 77 people with COVID in hospital, 15 of those in intensive care.

Fire hall members will be setting up outside the hall to distribute the goodies, said the fire chief. The public is not allowed to enter the building.

Halloween costumes are a must and non-medical face masks for the purposes of COVID prevention will be appreciated, along with Halloween-themed masks.

"Everyone is welcome. But you must be in costume to receive any candy," said Anniuk. "[Non-medical face] masks are definitely appreciated, but not mandatory."

St. Andrews fire hall in Matlock will be hosting a COVID-style Halloween this Saturday.

Anniuk said the Halloween giveaway at the fire hall was arranged because of COVID, but he's anticipating that it may become an annual event.

The candy giveaway will take place

Saturday, October 31, between 4 p.m. and 8 p.m. The Matlock Fire Hall is located at the junction of Matlock Road (PR 232) and Grant Avenue.

IIU concludes investigation into death while in police custody

No actions by Selkirk RCMP contributed to the death of 54-year-old male

Submitted by the Independent Investigation Unit of Manitoba

The Independent Investigation Unit (IIU) has concluded its investigation into the death of a 54-year-old male following his arrest by Selkirk RCMP in East District.

On December 30, 2019, the RCMP notified the IIU of an incident that took place at approximately 1:30 a.m. that day when officers responded to a call for service at a residence in the RM of St. Andrews. Upon arrival on scene, a male was taken into custody without incident and transported to the Selkirk detachment. Shortly after arrival at the detachment, the male became unresponsive and went into medical distress. CPR was quickly initiated by officers and emergency medical services was contacted. However, attempts to revive the man were unsuccessful and he was pronounced deceased.

As this matter concerns the death of a person which may have resulted from the actions of a police officer or officers, IIU assumed responsibility for this mandatory investigation in accordance with section 65 of The Police Services Act (PSA). A team of IIU investigators was assigned to this investigation.

Further, in accordance with section 70(1) of the PSA, the IIU was required to seek the appointment of a civilian monitor as this matter involved the death of a person. IIU requested the Manitoba Police Commission to appoint a civilian monitor.

Information obtained by IIU investigators included officers' notes and narrative reports, the in-custody death report, public safety report, occurrence summary, forensic identification service report, conducted energy weapon data downloads, 911 call audio recordings, cell bay video at RCMP Selkirk Detachment and the autopsy, pathology and toxicology reports of the affected person.

IIU investigators also interviewed two civilian witnesses and three RCMP officers.

After a thorough investigation, the civilian director found no actions by any police officer caused or contributed to the cause of the affected person's death.

The investigation is now complete and the matter is closed. The civilian director's complete report is available online at www.iiumanitoba.ca.

The details of this investigation were first announced on December 30, 2019.

Pilot project makes Main St. in Selkirk a wilder place

Natural plants to replace grass in medians

Submitted by the City of Selkirk

Selkirk is going back to its roots with a pilot project that will test the success of native plants in the city's medians.

Selkirk CAO Duane Nicol says the pilot project arose as an idea that helps the city address some important sustainability objectives.

"We have turf grass in our medians right now, which requires a lot of maintenance in the summer and because of the road salts, doesn't always do so well. By replacing this with native grasses, plants and flowers, we believe we can greatly reduce the costs of maintenance, increase carbon-sequestration, capture and retain more stormwater, promote biodiversity, and improve the look of our main street with a more naturalized aesthetic," said Nicol.

Travis Vandenbrand, Manager of Parks and Recreation says rewilding the medians is also a great way to provide more habitat for pollinators.

"The idea came about as the city is looking into different ways to support pollinators and by performing this pilot project on one of our medians, we will be able to determine if this is a sustainable initiative," said Travis Vandenbrand, Manager of Parks and Recreation Facilities.

"We connected with Prairie Originals and they have provided their expertise on the type of wildflowers to consider based on the conditions on the medians."

The move to native plants fits in with the city's Strategic Plan that calls for Selkirk to be environmental stewards by improving city practices and services, encourage water conservation and protect natural features and resources.

Kelly Leask, the owner of Prairie Originals, said the native plants can provide many benefits to the city.

"It was really exciting for the city to come to me with this idea," Leask said.

"It's a really sensible thing to try to do. My understanding is it requires quite a lot of labour to mow the boulevards."

Vandenbrand said the city typically spends about 30 hours a week maintaining the grass on medians.

Nicol says that while it will take some time to maintain naturalized medians, it is expected to be far less than the current mowing program.

"During the summer - it's almost a full-time job to mow our medians. If this pilot works, in a few years that time could be better spent maintaining our parks. It's also a question of worker safety. Keeping workers away from traffic lanes is always a preference," said Nicol.

Native plants will make mowing a thing of the past and will help out in many environmental ways.

The project is located on a portion of Main Street in the city's north end. Leask planted about 350 plugs in the spring and planted another section this fall.

"There will be a nice little side by side comparison of two different methods of installation," she said.

"The idea with the pilot project is it will give an opportunity for the city to compare which method requires more maintenance and which fits better into the way they're able to operate and manage the site."

There are some 27 different varieties of flowers and grasses and some different species in the seed mix, which will provide plenty of options for the city.

"It'll be a good chance to trial a variety of different species just to see how they're able to thrive and survive in a difficult situation because boulevards are kind of a difficult growing space," Leask said.

Grass tends to struggle on boulevards, Leask said, because they're hot and dry and have the added struggle of road salt, which inevitably ends up on the boulevards.

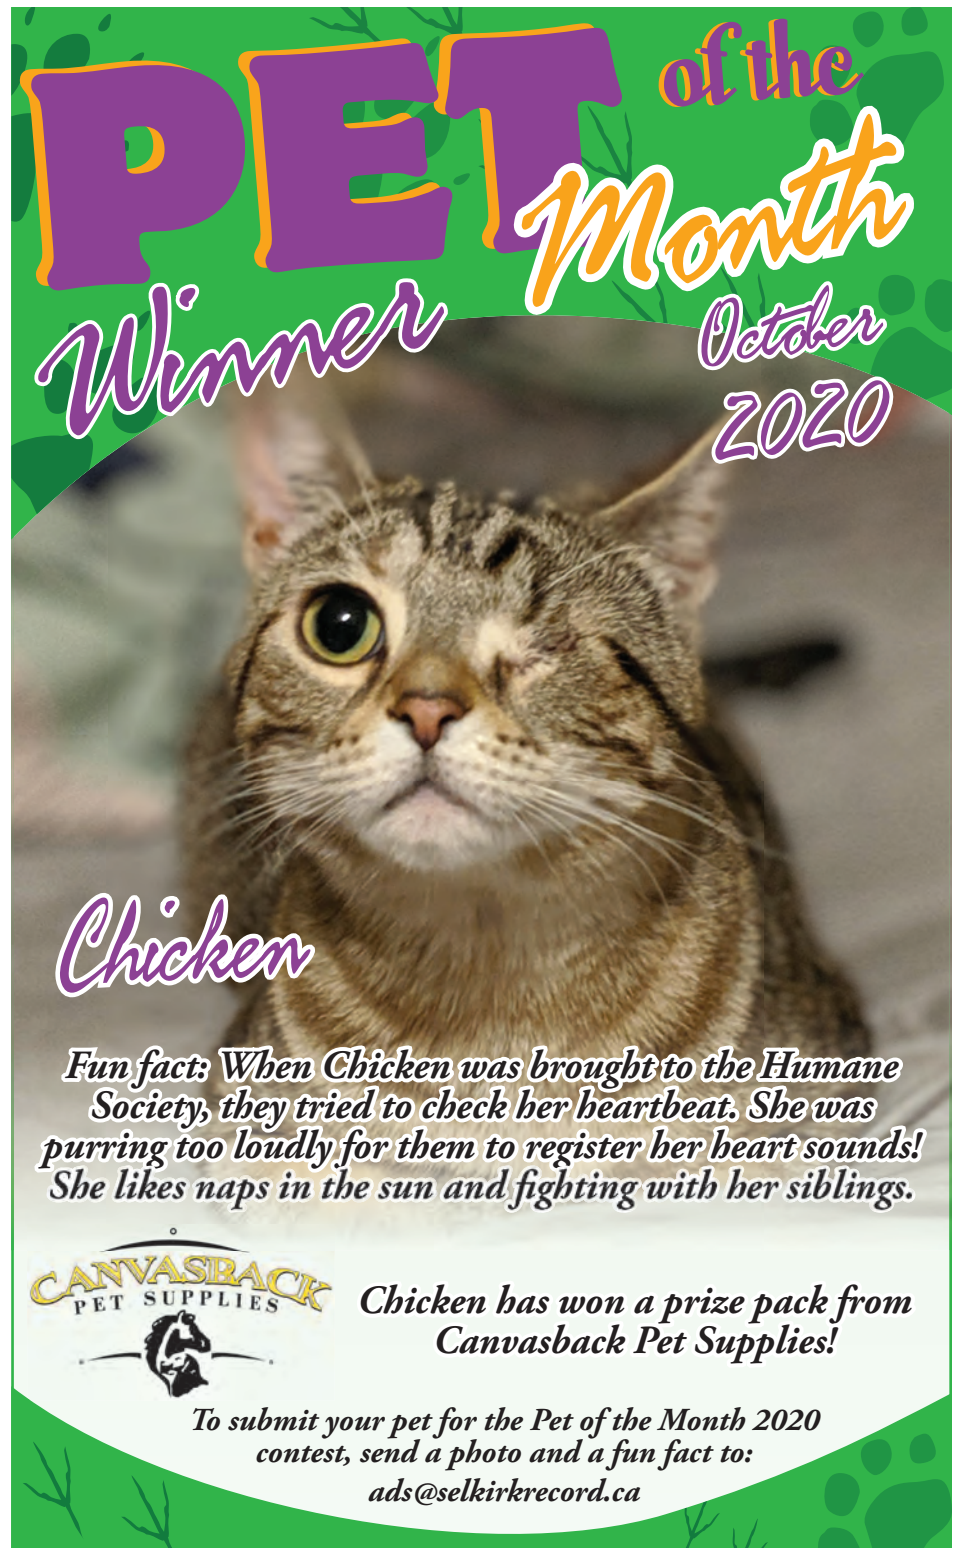

"There can be some real challenges for plants to thrive there as well. We're going to try a bunch of different species and see which do best," Leask said.

The environmental benefits of native plants are many, and Leask said she hopes the boulevards will send a strong message to residents and visitors to Selkirk that the environment matters and is something we all should care about.

"There's sensible ways to do things differently to improve the environment for everybody, and not just people, for other wildlife too," she said.

"Even just by reducing the amount of mowing, that cuts back emissions, but native plants also provide a lot of different ecological goods and services. They sequester a lot of carbons, and they help with water filtration and slowing down surface water runoff. They don't need to be watered as much and at the same time they provide much better habitat resources for things like pollinators, and also they look more beautiful."

Vandenbrand said the Public Works Department was consulted on the project to ensure the flowers selected won't pose any risk to sightlines and pedestrians on Main Street.

probate however the tax associated with any registered plans will need to be paid by the estate and therefore one should always ensure your estate has liquidity. Another way to avoid the potential cost of probate would be to "gift" cash or assets to family members prior to death. It is advisable to discuss this option with a good tax accountant to ensure there are no adverse income tax consequences.

Property can also be sidestepped from probate by simply holding it in joint tenancy with right of survivorship. This is how most spouses hold assets – jointly so that property passes to the survivor on the first death with no requirement to obtain probate. Be careful if you plan to transfer title of a property to anyone other than a spouse. You may need a written declaration to prove that there is a clear intention to transfer the beneficial interest in the asset from sole ownership to joint tenancy with right of survivorship. A declaration ensures the asset is not subject to probate, but you still may be on the hook for capital gains tax which will be triggered upon title transfer as a deemed disposition at fair market value. Remember to seek professional advice. Talk to your accountant, your advisor or your estate planner. They will know your situation best and can provide other ways to avoid probate, such as Testamentary Trusts, Inter-vivos Trusts or perhaps the use of multiple Wills.

Dear Money Lady,
 I have heard that you have to pay taxes upon your death. Is that the case in Canada? And how is it determined? As an older man I am worried about whether or not I will be able to afford this, and I would prefer to not make my children pay for it.

We do NOT have a "Death Tax" but we do have Probate!

In the United States death tax is required on all assets of the deceased and calculated at the date of death. This is not something we do in Canada. I think what you are thinking of is probate "tax" which is determined provincially and is very different from our US neighbours. Essentially, probate is a court proceeding which provides a judicial approval that the Will provided is not to be contested, that it is the only Will in existence, and that the executor has the authority to act and be recognized by the courts. All banks, investment companies and financial institutions usually require a probated Will to ensure they are dealing with the authorized executor. If there are any lawsuits or claims against the estate the Will must always be probated.

Probate is not a tax. It is a fee that varies by province. In some provinces it is a fixed amount while other provinces charge a prescribed rate on the gross value of the entire estate.

So, are there ways to reduce the probate fee? Yes. One way would be to have assets bypass probate and pass directly to beneficiaries. TF-SAs, RRSPs, RRIFs or the proceeds of life insurance are not subject to pan. Cook without stirring until edges begin to set, 5 minutes, then transfer to oven and bake until completely set and golden brown, 10 minutes. Pancake will puff up in oven then fall into place as it cools.

Allow to cool in pan 10 minutes then sprinkle with confectioners' sugar and cut into eight wedges. Serve warm or chilled.

Steelers sweep Steinbach with a pair of great defensive efforts

By Brian Bowman

The Selkirk Steelers had a fantastic weekend against the Steinbach Pistons.

Selkirk swept Steinbach in a two-game series after a solid 2-1 home victory over the Pistons on Saturday evening.

“Our defensive game was really strong,” said Steelers’ head coach Hudson Friesen. “We got the lead and hung on to it. They had a few chances at the end with the net empty but I thought we did a really good job locking things down and taking away a lot of their offence.”

Jordan MacFarlane gave Selkirk a 1-0 first-period lead and then Tristan Thompson made it 2-0 early in the second.

The Pistons’ Matt Osadick found a way to beat Steelers’ netminder William Desmarais at 16:50 of the middle frame.

Desmarais was, once again, very good in goal, stopping 33 Steinbach shots.

“He was excellent,” Friesen said. “He had a great weekend. He was stellar and made some big saves when we needed him to.”

On Friday, Selkirk had another great effort in a 3-2 shootout win over the Pistons in Steinbach.

“It was a character win for us,” Friesen said. “It was gusty. We finished the game with three defencemen and two forwards playing defence. It shows the character that we have in that locker room.”

Thompson and Ryan Ostermann scored for the Steelers in the shootout while Osadick replied for the Pistons.

Selkirk’s Sheldon Howard tied the score at 2-2 with just 28 seconds remaining in regulation time.

The Steelers’ Jared Chapel and the Pistons’ Dominic Murano traded goals earlier in the period.

Ty Naakens opened the scoring at 6:37 of the first period.

Desmarais was very good in goal, making 40 saves.

Steinbach was 0-for-10 on the power play while Selkirk did not score in four opportunities.

Selkirk, now 3-3, will be in Steinbach this Friday and then will host the Pistons on Sunday. Both games will start at 7:30 p.m.

Tristan Thompson, left, scored a second-period goal to lift the Selkirk Steelers to a 2-1 victory over the Steinbach Pistons last Saturday at the Recreation Complex.

Ostermann scored twice in two games against the Winnipeg Blues during that week.

But the Lightning’s Tristan Shore tied the score at 16:59 of the final frame.

On Friday, Interlake lost 7-1 to the Winnipeg Wild in Warren. Last

The Petersfield product stopped all 33 shots she faced, which included several highlight-reel saves.

Submitted by the Manitoba Métis Federation

Banners bearing the image of Louis Riel flying high along Confederation Boulevard in our nation's capital this summer would have been quite the sight to behold.

Unfortunately, travel restrictions in place due to COVID-19 likely prevented many from going to Ottawa to see them. The good news is the striking banners have also been adorning streets in several towns and cities across Manitoba in recognition of the 150th anniversary of Manitoba becoming the fifth province to join Confederation and the only to do so under the governance of an Indigenous Nation – the Métis.

"We're proud to have these banners flying in our city to recognize Manitoba's 150 and Louis Riel's role in it," said Larry Johannson, Mayor of the City of Selkirk, one of the communities where the banners have been displayed all of September.

"We have a large and proud Métis population in our city and I know this milestone is important to them, as it is to all Manitobans."

The banners in Ottawa are part of Banners of the Provinces on Parliament Hill, an annual Department of Canadian Heritage initiative that sees more than 500 banners flown representing themes that showcase different parts of the country.

Born in 1844, Riel is known as a founder of the province of Manitoba and a father of Confederation.

During the Red River Resistance of 1869-1870, which was ignited by the Hudson's Bay Company's sale of Rupert's Land to the Dominion of Canada without consulting with the Métis, Riel formed the first Manitoba government. This provisional government ultimately negotiated the terms under which the province of Manitoba entered Canadian Confederation.

On December 8, 1869, the provisional government released a proclamation called the "Declaration of the People of Rupert's Land and the North-West." This historic declaration stated that the Métis already established a Provisional Government and that it was the only recognized authority in the North-West, but remained ready to negotiate with the Canadian Government so long as it proved prosperous to its people.

In January 1870, under Riel's leadership, a Convention of 40 representatives of the Red River settlement created a List of Rights, which was built upon an inclusive vision for Manitoba – one that valued bilingualism, multiculturalism, as well as Indigenous and minority rights. The List was a foundational document in establishing Manitoba as a province in Canadian Confederation through the Manitoba Act, which received royal assent on May 12, 1870.

For Manitoba Metis Federation (MMF) President David Chartrand, the national recognition of Riel's role in the establishment of this province – in such a visible and accessible way – is significant.

"The role that the Métis played in the creation of the Province of Manitoba was denied by Canada for a long time, and that the provisional government had no meaning and no legitimacy has been proven factually wrong," President Chartrand said.

"The Métis paid the ultimate price for that and still to this day we suffer for our resistance, but for us now at this point in time let's not talk about our historical injustices or historical wrongs, let's talk about a province that we helped to create and what that has meant in Canada."

The MMF partnered with Canadian Heritage to replicate the banners and bring them to Manitoba. They have been flying in Winnipeg in the vibrant Métis communities of St. Boniface, St. Norbert, and Transcona. They're also flying outside of the city in Selkirk, The Pas, Mafeking, Cranberry Portage, Flin Flon, Stonewall, St. Malo, Grand Marais, Lorette, Brandon, Portage la Prairie, Turtle Mountain, Minnedosa, Thompson, Dauphin, and Swan River.

For President Chartrand, the 150th anniversary is a teaching opportunity – a chance to shine a light on the importance of Riel and the Métis Nation's role in establishing Manitoba and opening up the west, all of which makes the banners along Confederation Boulevard more important.

"It's essential to build the mindset that Riel was the first premier of Manitoba and that Riel and the Métis people did what any good citizen should have done, protect homes, families, communities and, at the end of the day, create a province," President Chartrand explained.

"If you look at history, Manitoba's entrance into Confederation also brought in Western Canada. History buffs can tell you 'oh, Western Canada would have come', but we don't know that. We could have stayed a territory. Northwest Territories still exists today, and territorial jurisdiction is much weaker than provincial jurisdiction by far. It's growing slowly but it's at a turtle pace."

It was a summer of celebration for President Chartrand and the MMF who orchestrated the wildly popular Manitoba-wide Fireworks Celebration on July 15, the day the Manitoba Act became law in 1870, in recognition of the 150th.

Fireworks went off simultaneously in cities, towns, and municipalities across the province at 10:45 p.m., drawing attention to the Métis' role but also bringing some much needed relief to a pandemic weary world. The events were watched by people social distancing in their cars along highways, in fields, or backyards. They were streamed online as well, so folks could watch from their homes.

"COVID is not over; it's still here, and I believe it's going to change us all for years to come, but we still need to celebrate our province and the milestone of 150 years. July 15 was the perfect day to set aside all of our problems and differences and just be proud of who we are, proud of our families, villages, neighbourhood and province and have the chance to watch fireworks as a family."

The arrival of the Riel banners in Manitoba is another fitting tribute to the Father of Manitoba, President Chartrand concluded.

"If it wasn't for becoming a province, and the Métis in Manitoba, we don't know what Western Canada would have looked like."

The MMF continued celebrations this fall on what would have been Riel's 176th birthday, October 22, launching a series of six video vignettes paying tribute to Riel. Airing on CTV News throughout the day, the vignettes include greetings from MMF Ministers Will Goodon and Andrew Carrier, and performances from local Métis musicians including Ray St. Germain and Garry Lepine.

An iconic figure in Canadian history, Riel protected Métis self-determination and language, as well as French, Indigenous, and religious rights. Resisting injustice at every turn, he and his government took the stand to protect Métis rights, lands, and families. Without Riel crusading for these rights, the landscape of Manitoba and Canada would look very different today. Riel blazed the trail for self-governance and recognition, and the Métis government will continue to honour his legacy.

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!

Judith Lee Leiter (Allum)

On October 18, 2020, our beautiful wife/mom/nana, Judy Leiter (Allum), crossed over into heaven and met God, which was a day she had always dreamed of. She passed exactly how she lived, holding her own, with the courage, grace and love befitting an angel.

She leaves her beloved husband Bob; daughter Pam and Bryan, grandsons, Carter, Jaxon, Parker; son Jeff and Courtney, and grandson Jake; a legacy of love, grace, kindness and holes in their hearts that can never be filled by another. Also left to mourn are nieces, Kathy (John), Wendy (Rob), nephews, Doug, Jim (Nicole) and their families, brother-in-law Larry and Debbie, sister-in-law Carol and Wayne, niece Tenise (Jay), nephew Chris (Victoria), brother-in-law Ross, niece Deneen (Travis), Ryan (Naomi) and their families, dear cousin Bill Copps.

A private family service will be held, with a celebration of Judy's beautiful life at a later date.

In lieu of flowers or gifts, donations can be made to St. Michael's Catholic Church and/or Gimli Community Health Centre.

Messages of condolence may be placed by visiting Judy's memorial page at: www.interlakecremation.ca

HOME OWNER'S TIP OF THE WEEK

Staying fire safe this fall:

1. When throwing out yard waste, be sure to keep it far away from your home, garage, and fence. These items can rapidly spread fire!
2. Replace old/damaged car extension cords and block heaters - be sure to never plug-in your car inside the garage.
